YOUNGSTOWN MAN EXECUTED

REMEDIAL NAVAL LEGISLATION ABANDONED

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S DEMANDS FOR ECONOMY HEEDED BY COMMITTEE

House Members on Naval Affairs Decide to Halt Efforts Despite Secretary Wilbur's Admission That United States Navy is Below Ratio Prescribed by Arms Conference.

NATION'S EXECUTIVE CONSIDERS PRICE TOO HIGH FOR EQUALITY

White House and Cabinet, Convinced America Must Play Leading Role in Next Arms Parley, Believe it Would be Inadvisable to Begin Building More Warships.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Acceding to President Coolidge's demands for economy and despite Secretary Wilbur's official admission of the weakness of the United States navy, and the revelation that the British now outstrip the American navy in ships, gun range and speed, the house naval affairs committee today abandoned—for the present session of congress—all efforts at remedial naval legislation.

The policy of the committee was decided upon when Representative Fred Britten, Republican of Illinois, who compelled the appearance of Wilbur before the committee yesterday for testimony with respect to the deficiencies of the American navy, announced that he would not press his demands for new legislation at this time.

Britten announced, however, that in the next session of congress he would again demand the improvements which he has been seeking.

President Coolidge considers the price too high to pay for mere equality—at a time when war with Great Britain, is in the administration's opinion, unthinkable. To the insistence of the bigger navy spokesmen, the administration retort is:

"Are we going to war with Great Britain?"

The president is convinced as are members of his cabinet, particularly Secretary of State Hughes, that the United States must play a leading role in the next arms conference.

Reasons For Opposition.

President Coolidge's opposition to naval expenditures at this time is based on three major premises:

1—He is opposed to spending the money at a time when efforts are being made to reduce taxes, inasmuch as the expenditures would seriously interfere with this program of drastic economy.

2—He is convinced that within another year there will be held either here or abroad another arms conference which will accomplish reduction in the world's navies.

3—He is unwilling to have the United States even appear to be starting competitive arming.

It will take approximately $2,000,000 expended over a period of 20 years, to put the navy on a paarity with Great Britain and keep it there. This is the estimate of the general board of the navy.

Slap for Airplane.

The airplane, as a big factor in national preparedness, is about to receive another slap at the hands of the navy general board. Within a few weeks the general board will make public the findings of its investigation into the relative value of auxiliary naval craft, and the tenor of its report will be that the battleship is still the backbone of the fleet. Aircraft will be relegated to a secondary and purely auxiliary position, despite the bombing tests which showed that dreadnaughts can be sunk by aerial attack, and despite the assertions of flying experts that they "can sink any battleship afloat."

Bitter Winter In Arabia.

BEIRUT, Arabia, Jan. 9.—Arabia is experiencing one of the most unusual winters in many years. Cold is intense and the desert between Gardad and Palmyra was under ten inches of snow today.

Berlin to Submit Draft of Economic Clause for Treaty

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Germany will submit to France new economic clauses to take the place of those in the Versailles' treaty, which expire tomorrow, it was announced today by the foreign office.

Chairman Trendelenburg of the German commercial negotiations committee was enroute today from Berlin with a "conciliatory" note, the foreign office said. Paris newspapers declared the German attitude was "unrelenting" toward a new agreement.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9—To defending Richard A. Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., $180,000.

This is the bill, bearing the initial stamp of approval of the Chicago Bar association, which was ready today for presentation to the families of the youthful slayers of Bobby Franks.

The amount, at one time reported fixed at $150,000, was definitely decided upon at a conference of defense attorneys Clarence Darrow, Walter and Benjamin Bachrach, and a bar association committee.

"The responsibility of the case, the questions involved and the sentence—life and 99 years—warrant such a price," the bar association statement reads.

It was reported today that Darrow was to receive the lion's share, possibly as high as $100,000.

Chicago Boy Again Is Snatched From Hangman's Noose

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Once more Bernard Grant, gray-haired youth in jail here, has been snatched from the gallows.

And a new hope was born in the boy's heart today when, after Gov. Len Small again granted a 90 days' stay of execution which was scheduled for Jan. 16, the boy's attorney announced they had chances of having the death sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

The reprieve is due to the delay of the supreme court in deciding the fate of Walter Krauser, convicted with Grant in connection with the murder of Policeman Ralph Souders.

PLAN TO SPEED WORK ON 'SHORT ROUTE' HIGHWAY

HOAG VISITOR

Pennsylvania Legislature Will Appropriate $50,000,000.

Hopes for the early completion of the proposed "short route" road to Pittsburgh, via Chester and the Southside of the Smoky City, were expressed today by district good roads boosters following a visit here of G. S. Hoag, vice president and field representative of the Lincoln Highway association, of Detroit.

The Pennsylvania legislature, at its present session, will appropriate $50,000,000 for road construction in the Keystone state. This money will be matched by the counties affording $100,000,000 for improved highways during the coming year.

The Pennsylvania department of highways, according to men in close touch with the situation, is friendly to the plan of improving the highway through the southern part of Beaver county which will link East Liverpool with Pittsburgh. As soon as this improvement is completed, the Lincoln highway detour through Alliance, Salem, East Palestine, Beaver Falls, Rochester and thence into Pittsburgh will be abandoned and traffic routed through East Liverpool, which is on the official route.

37-Mile Route.

Mr. Hoag came to East Liverpool last Sunday morning and in company with G. A. Arner, Robert L. Parker and John Newell of Chester drove over the proposed route from Chester. The route, which was recently

KIWANIS CLUB INSTALLS NEW CHIEFTAIN AT CHESTER MEET

Dr. George E. Lewis Succeeds Olen H. Dawson.

NOVEL PROGRAM

One Hundred Members and Friends Attend Dinner.

Retiring and newly elected officers of the Kiwanis club were jointly honored at a dinner held in the Masonic temple, First street, Chester, at 6:30 o'clock last evening, when Dr. George E. Lewis, the new president, and his co-workers were installed.

Approximately 100 Kiwanians and their friends attended. Dinner was served by Caterer Daily Larkins of East Liverpool. The spacious banquet room was attractively decorated for the occasion. Past District Governor R. C. Heddleston presided as toastmaster.

The address of welcome was delivered by Joseph N. Finley of Chester, the response being made by Mr. Heddleston. Musical numbers were rendered by the club's "Merry Makers," directed by Dr. Clyde Larkins. The chorus consisted of H. F. Laughlin, J. O. Heddleston, Wilbur Glenn, John Golden, J. A. Anderson, Cyril Taylor, Kurt Bergner, Robert Laughlin, W. A. Hobbs and Olen Dawson. The songsters were greeted with a shower of confetti, released from the ceiling above them, when they responded to an encore number.

L. M. Kyes' Address

Attorney L. M. Kyes, East Palestine, lieutenant-governor of the Sixth division in the Ohio Kiwanis organization, was the only out-of-town speaker. "We owe a debt of gratitude to the East Liverpool club for the service it rendered in organizing our club at East Palestine, a few years ago," said Mr. Kyes. "Before our club was formed, our community was divided on all questions; there were three or four factions, each pulling against the other, thus resulting in continuous warfare. But it didn't take long after the club was launched for everyone to forget their past differences and work together. The sole trouble was that we didn't know each other.

"Kiwanis is the exercise of the Golden rule. Service is our watchword. Unless we are doing something that

American Observer And Herriot Confer On U. S. War Claims

PARIS, Jan. 9—A conference on America's war claims was held today by Colonel James A. Logan, American observer on the reparations commission, and Premier Herriot of France.

Following the conference Colonel Logan informed United States Ambassadors Herrick and Kellogg of the progress of his "unofficial conversations."

Further informal conversations between Finance Minister Clementel and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill of England were postponed until later because Clementel and French experts were closeted with Herriot planning the French program for the remainder of the session.

Law Permits Four Officers For County Road Patrol Work

Officials Quote General Code Relative to Appointment of Deputy Sheriffs to Enforce Traffic Regulations.

Columbiana county is entitled to four deputy sheriffs for highway patrol duty under the provisions of section 7251-1 of the General Code, county officials said.

The law says:

"In those counties having 40 miles or more of improved inter-county or main market roads the sheriff of each county shall and in all other counties detail one or more deputies for the work of enforcing the provisions of this act; and the county commissioners of each county shall appropriate such amount of money annually, from the road fund of such county as shall be necessary to equip and to compensate such deputy or deputies for services rendered hereunder.

"The road superintendents and assistant road superintendents of the state highway department and patrolmen of the county highways may be deputized by the sheriffs of the counties in which they are employed, as deputy sheriffs, but shall receive no extra compensation."

169,420 Miles of Highway.

Records of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk's office disclose that Columbiana county now has 169,420 miles of improved road, and only six miles of this number are under construction. This mileage will be completed this year.

State roads completed 72.262 miles; County, 37,796; County and Township, 52,741; Under construction, 6.621; total, 169,420.

On the basis of one deputy sheriff to patrol 40 miles of improved inter-county and main market roads, the law gives this county permission to employ and equip four deputy sheriffs to enforce the road and automobile laws.

WIFE OF POVERTY DAYS, FORGOTTEN IN WEALTH, CLAIMS SWINDLER'S BODY

Leo Koretz, Bayano Oil Bubble Promoter, Who Fled With $2,000,000, Dies in Joliet Penitentiary After Serving 34 Days.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9—Mrs. Mae Koretz, the wife of poverty days, forgotten by Leo Koretz, Bayano oil bubble swindler, when he fled from Chicago with $2,000,000, made arrangements today to take the body of her husband from Joliet penitentiary.

For Koretz has been released after serving 34 days of his ten years' sentence. He heard the "Last Call" last night with only Night Captain Michael Leonard watching by his side. Diabetes was the cause of death.

During the day two brothers, Emil and Adolph Koretz, had looked in on Leo, but, told that he was unconscious and probably never would recognize anyone again, they tip-toed out. They were in the Warden's office when the end came, and with them was Mentor Koretz, young son of the swindler, but he had not seen his father.

Mrs. Koretz, the widow, received her first word of his death at Joliet.

"I'm sorry," she said today. "If I had known that Leo was in such a critical condition I would have been down before. I would have liked to have told him goodbye."

Dry Agents' Death Rate Higher Than Army's in Wartime

JOSEPH C. KANE PAYS PENALTY FOR ATROCIOUS MURDER OF BOY

WALKS TO CHAIR

One Application of Electricity; Dies 30 Seconds Later.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 9—Electrocution of Joseph C. Kane, Youngstown, as decreed under Ohio law, took place at the penitentiary here early today. Kane was pronounced dead at 1:06 a. m. He was convicted of murdering Paul Prologo, 8, Youngstown, on February 13 last. The body was shipped to Youngstown.

Facial Features Firmly Set.

Kane displayed no emotion whatever in the death chamber and did not utter a word. With facial features firmly set, he walked to the death chair accompanied by his spiritual adviser. But one application of electricity was made, Kane dying about 30 seconds after being strapped in the chair.

Widespread attention was directed to Kane's case not only by reason of the atrociousness of the crime he was convicted of having committed, but of the unusual manner in which he obtained a reprieve a few days ago at the hands of Governor Donahey.

Kane was received at the penitentiary March 13, last, and was sentenced to die on July 11. Pending appeal from the death sentence, Kane was granted an indefinite stay of execution by the Mahoning county appellate court, the date of electrocution, later, being fixed for Dec. 20.

Mix-up of Names Wins Reprieve.

A mix-up of names saved Kane from electrocution two hours before he was to have died on December 20. Chief Justice Marshall, of the state supreme court, reading the newspapers on the afternoon of December 19, noted an account of preparations being made

All were asleep when the blaze was first discovered. It had gained considerable headway at that time.

Two men were seen running from the building shortly before the fire was discovered and it is thought by police and firemen that they started the blaze. Loss was estimated at $4,500. No one was injured.

Farm Group In State Legislature Endorses Gasoline Tax, Highway Police And Budget System

COLUMBUS, Jan. 9.—A gasoline tax, state highway police, amendment of the state constitution limiting indebtedness of all the political subdivisions of the state and operation of the budget system in all taxing units are features of the legislative program endorsed by the farm group in the state legislature, rural legislators declared today.

The farm group, better known as the "Cornstalk Club," is opposed to the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution, claiming such a law would interfere with the peformance of chores on farms by children and would prevent minors from performing other emergency work in saving crops from disaster. A number of the more conservative rural legislators characterize the proposed amendment as "a move toward radicalism."

No Farm Legislation Sought.

Rural legislators voice the belief that no special legislation, designed to relieve conditions on the farms, is sought at the hands of the state legislature. They expressed the opinion that the situation in the rural districts cannot be attributed to any cause, or causes, which may be remedied by means of statutory enactment. With a view to the improvement of the state's highway, rural legislators will seek the passage of a law providing for a state highway council of experts whose duty it would be to make surveys to determine needed road improvements, the experts recommending the type of improvement to be made. An object of the proposed council, it was pointed out, is that of economical expenditure of state funds.

The farm group, it was said, wants a highway police system to protect life and property not only on the highways but on the farms. The proposed budget law would require municipalities, villages, townships and school districts to prepare a schedule of the appropriation of funds to meet operating expenses of these various political subdivisions.

Oppose Auto License Boost

The farmers favor the proposed gasoline tax as a source of revenue for the upkeep of the highways throughout the state. They prefer this tax rather than to increase the state's auto license taxes or to place an additional tax burden upon owners of property abutting roads proposed to be improved. They also object to obtaining more funds for highway purposes through general taxation.

Farmers claim their properties are being taxed to the limit, while highways are being seriously damaged by motor trucks, busses and autos, including those operated by residents of other states who contribute nothing toward the upkeep of Ohio's highway system, the rural legislators, it was said, favor a tax of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold to autoists.

Under existing law, Ohio school districts, unable to suport themselves by taxation, receive some financial aid from the state treasury. As a result, it is charged, in some school districts there has been extravagant expenditure of money for school buildings and for high salaried instructors. Financially impoverished, officials of these districts have appealed to the state government for a portion of the money apportioned to "weak" districts. The farm crop, it was stated, seek legislation that will eliminate this situation, and at the same time, insure adequate financial relief for really deserving cases.

Favor School Building Commission.

The rural legislators also favor appointment of a state commission to which would be submitted for approval or rejection plans for all proposed school buildings. It is believed public expenditures would be thus conserved, the commission basing its recommendations upon the tax duplicate, population and needs of the community affected.

George Creel's Visit

Secretary H. B. Barth's announcement that George Creel, of New York, chairman of the committee on public information in the United States during the World war, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce means reservations for the affair will be at a premium, for Creel is one of the best known men in the country.

Editor, author, publicist and humorist, a man who won his spurs on such newspapers as the Kansas City Independent, Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News, he attracted attention by his fight against political bossism and his advocacy of reforms, such as the initiative and referendum, mothers' compensation and eight-hour work day, which today are on the statute books of many states.

Creel frequently has refused political appointments. In 1917, by reason of his ability, he was named official censor of war-time news in the United States by Woodrow Wilson, and he served in this capacity until March, 1919. As chairman of the committee on public information he won an international reputation, for his duties brought him in contact with representatives of the allies as well as American leaders in the victorious campaign against Germany and her allies. He used the printed word, motion pictures, wireless, airplane and cable to drive home the reasons for Uncle Sam's participation in the war, to encourage the allies in their darkest hours and to shatter the morale of the enemy.

He should have an interesting message on "Current Events and Public Men," his topic for the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting on Wednesday evening, January 28.

Taxes and Benefactions

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, is worried by high taxes on the rich, because he thinks that is bad for American education. He complains that "the steady flow of unsolicited and most useful gifts to Columbia university, which has been so marked a feature of its history during the past quarter-century, already has been greatly diminished as a direct result of existing policies of taxation."

"If the ability to make private gifts and benefactions be destroyed by taxation," he says, "then these institutions begin to die."

Possibly the outlook is not so sad as Dr. Butler thinks. It is fine for great educational institutions to be supported by private gifts, but not imperative. There are many who hold that it would be better if colleges and universities were all supported by public funds, as the common schools and high schools are. High taxes would enable cities and states to do that, if they chose. We are already doing it in our state universities, and the country seems none the worse for it.

However, there doesn't seem to be much evidence of a general money famine among the higher institutions of learning. Never has money been given for education in such vast sums as at present. There are perfectly tenable objections to high taxes, but this doesn't seem to be one of them.

No Hair, Teeth or Toes

As evolutionary processes continue, man will lose many, if not all, of his teeth, says a professor of paleontology and geology. He will also lose some of his fingers and toes. He will become entirely bald. His head will heighten and broaden, enlarging the skull to make room for a bigger brain.

The reason for such changes, of course, is that teeth, toes, fingers and hair will no longer be necessary for their present purposes, and once they become thoroughly useless they will be discarded.

All of this causes the sensitive individual to cast apprehensive glances into the mirror. With our present standards of physical perfection and beauty, few of us look forward with pleasure to the possibility of being toothless, bald and shy a few digits.

There is no occasion for immediate alarm. These threatened changes will take some 40,000 to 75,000 years in the accomplishing, and it is likely that evolution will take care of our standards of beauty at the same time.

Haskin Letter

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

ETIQUETTE AS IT WAS AND IS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—While the modern American idea of correct manners is still a far cry from that of Beau Brummel, and despite the many attacks on the conduct of the modern youth, a desire to know and to do what is "good form" is becoming more general with the people of this country. This is evidenced by the sale of books on etiquette.

Until recent years it was considered by Mr. Average Citizen foppish or effeminate to attempt to follow the rules laid down by authors of books on etiquette. And in many cases he was perfectly right. The dictates of the etiquette arbiters were very often stilted and artificial.

It is more and more becoming understood that the rules of etiquette are simply those of courtesy and thoughtfulness. A man no longer holds a cigarette or cigar in his mouth while talking with a woman. This is not because he would be violating the laws of etiquette, but because he does not wish to show her discourtesy.

Judging from some of the earliest books on good behavior it is apparent that the fundamentals remain the same. In fact, the earlier volumes are not as filled with affectations as some published during the period between 1890 and 1900. Below are given some extracts from a book entitled, "Youths' Behavior, or Decency Amongst Men," published in England in 1663.

"Sing not within thy mouth, humming to thy self, unless thou be alone, in such sort as thou canst not be heard by others. Strike not up a drum with thy early date there were pests similar to those thy fingers, or thy feet." This shows that even at which all too often infest the modern movie theater, or other places of public entertainment.

Another particularly pertinent bit of advice which might be observed by many thoughtless persons who indulge themselves in peanuts or candies while viewing some especially tense motion picture is, "Rub not thy teeth or crash them, nor make anything crack in such manner what thou disquiet any body."

"It is an uncivil thing to stretch out thine arms at length, and writhe them hither and thither." From which it may be inferred that rythmic dancing had not attained its present vogue.

Everyone knows some one who could profit by the following: "In coughing, or sneezing, make not a great noise, if it be possible, and send not forth any sigh, in such wise that others observe thee, without great occasion."

AND WHEN IN CHURCH

And this to the restless and uneasy churchgoer: "Hearing thy Master, or likewise the preacher, wriggle not thy self, as seeming unable to contain thy self within thy skin, making shew thy self to be the knowing and sufficient person, to the misprice of others."

For those who bite their nails the following is set forth: "Gnaw not thy nails in the presence of others, not bite them with thy teeth."

From the following one feels that the author must indeed have had a vision of the modern flapper:

"Neither shake thy head, feet or legs; rowl not thine eyes. Lift not one of thine eye-brows higher than thine other. Wry not thy mouth. Take heed that with thy spittle thou bedew not his face with whom thou speakest, and to that end approach not too nigh him."

"When thou sittest, put not undecently one leg upon the other, but keep them firm and settled; and joyn thy feet even, cross them not one upon the other."

"Take heed thou beest not a flatterer; for such as one shewes to have little opinion of the judgment of him whom he flattereth, holding him for a simple fellow. Play not with him, who takest no pleasure therein."

While many of the dictates laid down in this early volume still hold good, the progress of civilization and of modern invention has brought new problems. Some of the present everyday questions are: "When leaving a street car or bus does a man precede or follow a woman?" "Where should a woman sit in a motor or carriage having a driver?" "Should one always be announced when calling on a person living in an apartment house?" "When a person calls another on the telephone who should terminate the conversation?" "When calling for a young lady to take her for a drive is it proper to blow the automobile horn to announce one's arrival?" Our forefathers had no need to struggle with such problems.

FASHIONS CHANGE

Then, of course, there are certain changing fashions in etiquette as in everything else. A few years ago a person who did not take his party call within ten days or two weeks was likely not to be included in the list of guests at the next party given by the hostess. Party calls are still considered the correct thing in many localities, but in the most fashionable society this custom is rapidly becoming passe.

Formerly it was customary for a young man who wished to propose marriage to a young woman to ask permission of her father to do so. The youth of today who did this would doubtless find that while he may have made a good impression on the father he in all probability had ruined his chances with the daughter. The modern girl prefers to be given an opportunity to make her decision before the matter is brought before her parents.

The maiden of olden days, according to fiction and history, was timid and shy, and when walking down the street clung to the arm of her escort. Today it is not considered good form for a young woman to take a man's arm in the daytime unless to cross a very crowded thoroughfare, or to be helped over a rough piece of road, or under other impeding circumstances. Most young girls would scorn to yield that much of their independence.

Chaperons are another passing institution. That is, the watchful middle-aged chaperon is disappearing. In the present day it is generally difficult to distinguish the chaperons from the rest of the party, since the duties of chaperonage are usually entrusted to young married couples who are no older than the other guests and who enter just as eagerly and heartily into the festivities. This is another sign of the independence and freedom of the present generation.

Other signs of changing times are the suggestions for parties. In a book published in 1903 we find the following:

"With the bicycle comes the bicycle tea. In the large cities these teas have been given for charity and have been great successes. But there is no reason why any girl may not give an attractive bicycle tea and make it very original. Sandwiches in the shape of tennis rackets, with an olive steak in the center for a ball, are among the novelties. Sandwiches in the shape of a wheel and a saddle might easily be cut. Bicycle lanterns, which resemble glow-worms, should furnish decoration. If possible, a bicycle tea should be given out of doors, where outing costumes would not be incongruous."

Who knows but that in 1948 suggestions for Mah Jongg or bridge parties may seem just as absurd?

DINNER STORIES

A captious traveler in northern Arkansas stopped by a fence to criticise a scar cornfield which met his disapproval. "Mighty small corn you have there!" he shouted to the man who was "superintending the growth" from a shady corner.

"Yes," said the Arkansan. "Planted the small kind."

"Looks mighty yellow to me for this time of year."

"Yes. Planted the yellow kind."

"Well," said the traveler, severely. "I can't understand your method of farming. You won't get over half a crop there."

"No," said the Arkansan, cheerfully. "You are shore a good guesser, stranger. Half a crop exactly, that's mine. I planted this on shares."

The student had been spending somewhat too freely, and was short. It was near the holidays and he hated to write home for money. As a last resort he pawned his dress suit.

When the time came to leave for home, the suit was still unredeemed. He hurriedly scraped up cash enough to bet, it back, packed it in the grip and was off.

His mother was helping him unpack.

"Henry," she asked, "what is this ticket on your coat for?"

"Why, mother," he replied, "I went to a dance the other evening and had my coat checked.

She continued putting away his garments. Finally she lifted the trousers. They, too, were ticketed.

"Henry," she exclaimed, "what kind of a dance was that?"

Neighborhood News— By Fontaine Fox

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Labor party now has a dominating position in the matter of famous beards.

There are four famous beards in London—the Van Dyke worn by King George, the goatee worn by Sidney Webb, the square-cut red beard of George Bernard Shaw, and the continental beard of Augustus John

The beards of Shaw and Webb have long flown at the Labor party's masthead, but now the beard of John comes to add to the hirsute glories of the opposition party.

John only recently has joined the Labor party, and his conversion has caused quite a sensation, for though he has long been known as a Royal Academician and a Bohemian, his political tendencies have not been considered as tending towards Labor.

The four famous beards of London are having a great deal of competition these days, however, for the young men about town, the lads who swing a mean stick and have four pairs of spats—these beauties have taken to beards. "Burlington Berties" are raising beards in large quantities and no monocle, no stick, or no pair of spats can any longer make a man, unless he has a beard.

George A. Gregson, an American steel manufacturer, sent the king some stamps from his collection which bore a unique water mark The king invited Gregson to visit Buckingham palace, and for an entire afternoon the king and the steel magnate talked and swapped stamps. No official communique was issued, but it is understood that the deal was even all the way round.

It is an interesting fact that the Prince of Wales, like his father, is an ardent stamp collector. This seems rather incongruous with his love for the outdoor sports, the hardy life, and his love for jazz and dancing. The prince has recently learned to play the banjolele, and with young Prince George at the piano and the Duke of York at the drums it is easy to muster a jazz band within the royal family.

Gourmets the world over will undoubtedly be glad to know that a new dish has been discovered. Francois Latry, of the Savoy hotel, has labored and produced "Supreme de Volaille sous Cloche Savoy." This new tid-bit is wing of chicken which is neither boiled, braised, grilled nor roasted. Francois refuses to disclose how it is cooked. It is brought to the table in a glass dish with a glass bell cover, and the last stage of the cooking is performed over a charcoal fire before the very eyes of the gourmet. The only vegetable entering into the cooking is the button mushroom. Just as the dish is served a small quantity of whipped cream is placed over it. The gourmets rave over it and it's not expensive, oh not so very expensive, $3 a portion or so!

Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the recent Labor premier, has not lost any time in adjusting herself to the change in mode of living which came when she ceased to be the chatelaine of No. 10 Downing street and returned to run the modest cottage of her father in Hampstead. Ishbel has become secretary of a charitable organization in Bow, a slum area. She is to take up nursing, and it is said to be her ambition to follow in the footsteps of her mother, Margaret MacDonald, one of the best loved women in the history of England. No finer tribute has ever been paid a woman than the monument erected to the memory of Margaret MacDonald, paid for by public subscription, with many poor people contributing their mite to the memory of a woman they had loved.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The tiny specialty shop district of Madison avenue. Prices higher than on Fifth. And all are busy. The New York idea—Jauck up the prices and the bobbery come on the run.

The antique dealers specialize in early American furniture. Ginsberg and O'Leary—there's a pair hard to beat. Nothing so fascinating as an hour glass. Ben Ali Haggin, the painter. Smooth and debonaire. And always with a pretty girl.

The Whitelaw Reid mansion. Bleak and aloof. Circular driveway that represents a fortune in real estate. And is rarely used. A great place to play marbles. A dog and book shop—both fine friends. Reuben, the delicatessen man. Made a million out of sandwiches. For the elite.

Stockings are getting entirely too sheer. And the hats too cloche—whatever that is. A fine street dwindles off into blocks of cheap flats, bootblack parlors, riding academies, laundries and delicatesen shops. A cop kisses a nurse-maid. The brazen thing.

What the world needs is a cure for poverty. Swarthy men with one ring in their ear and vivid red scarfs. Dogg'sh young corner gallants—who fight for their girls. Marry them and loaf ever after. Now and then a little rose shaded tea room.

Window signs: "Boarders Took In." Beauty culture schools and all night commercial colleges. Children dancing in the stret at midnight. Pool parlors that average a murder a month. The fretting whine of babies. Now for home.

Society leaders are eternally going in for things. Now they are becoming haberdashers. Dudley C. Eldridge has a haberdasher shop on East Fifty-second street. Frederick Cruger has opened another on East Forty-third street. Each is prominent in the affairs of the Four Hundred.

Sidewalk curiosity in New York is just as highly developed as in Purdy's Gap, W. Va. A huge iron fence around a certain jewelry establishment had just been painted and was hung with signs reading, "Fresh Paint." In an hour's time the corner cop counted 22 people who, overcome with a desire to test the truthfulness of the sign, touched their fingers to the wet paint. And just an ordinary safe hoisting in any part of the city will necessitate the presence of extra policemen to keep back the curious.

There is a magazine writer who a year ago became suddenly obsessed with the idea that he had only a short while to live. Expert diagnosticians found him perfectly fit physically and experts explained it was a mere phobia that he could shake off with mental effort. But to no avail, he continued to brood. And then he began feverishly to write. Heretofore he had been able to write leisurely and successfully and choose his market. Now he is trying to write for good, bad and indifferent magazines and as a result is landing only now and then. In fact, the better magazines reached the point where they would take nothing he writes. Yet he keeps plugging away desperately and forlornly.

The first stop for shows closing on Broadway and as a prelude to a road tour is the Shubert Riviera on upper Broadway. It is here that the players really say their farewell to a successful run. The one week there gives them the chance to rent their apartments and arrange their affairs for the tour of the provinces.

"Jock," said he, "ye have given me a fine two weeks. I've slept in your bed, eaten your food, had good sport, and I'm grateful to ye. What do ye say to a drap whusky in the pub yonder?"

One college man was telling the other of his new girl.

"She's wonderful, Jack," he said, "in the first place she is the most beautiful thing I ever saw, and on the other hand—"

"On the other hand," finished Jack, who knew her, "she has an engagement ring."

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

THREE DANGEROUS THINGS

To avoid trouble, keep your hands off three things, a man's money, family and region.

The Bolshevik government, needing money and receiving communist complaints of certain monks at Pecherski monastery, arrests 30 of the monks and seizes their gold treasure of $400,000 hidden in the monastery belfries. In addition to the money the Soviet government got 360 big diamonds, sacred images studded with gold, much gold and silver plate.

From the soviet point of view, so far so good. But when the monks were sentenced to long terms at hard labor and put to work on the roads in their cassocks the peasants, deeply religious, started killing communists and burning their buildings.

To fight any religion is dangerous for any government.

One of Napoleon's first and wisest acts was to restore the status of the church and the salaries and dignities of the clergy, saying that he also needed a spiritual gendarmerie.

TWO WONDERFUL LEGS

All the world reads about the marvelous racing Finn, Nurmi. On Tuesday evening in New York he broke the two world's indoor records He's an iron man. He ran the mile in four minutes, 13 3-5 seconds, cutting a second off the world's record. Then he ran 5,000 meters in 14 minutes, 44 3-5 seconds, again breaking the world's record. This man has wonderful legs.

But you can buy for a few hundred dollars an automobile that will do for civilization a thousand times what Nurmi could do.

Honor him, his legs, heart, lungs and courage, but honor still more highly such men as the late Steinmetz. A crippled hunchback he could not have run 5,000 meters in two hours. But his brain ran as well as Nurmi's legs ran. If, by the way, Steinmetz came to the United States today, a crippled Jewish boy as he did 40 or 50 years ago, he would be sent home.

Why does the crowd buy to see fast legs and care less for a thinking brain? Because the crowd can all run. Not all can think.

FORTY-THREE PINK PEARLS

If you want a string of pink pearls for your wife, or friend, apply to young Mr. Leels, son of the late Princess Anastasia. The pearls cost $340,000, not counting duty. Pearls have gone up, the price is $1,000,000 now.

Forty-three beautiful pink pearls; somebody will get them. The poor lady who wore them, as the wife of the tinplate king and then of a prince, brother of the Greek king, has gone. She has disappeared as completely as the various divers that brought them up, "going all naked to the hungry shark" in their pearl diving.

So, glory passes, and pearls remain.

NO 1925 DROP YET

No sign of that great 1925 drop in the stock market yet. Stocks were up again yesterday; wheat up with them, and the interest rate on call money speculation dropped to 2½. The value of English money keeps going up. The pound was worth yesterday $4.77¼, almost its pre-war value.

Some European monies are worth more than the American dollar. But they haven't so many dollars. That must be our consolation.

Germans, not allowed to build airships, have threatened to shoot down French planes flying above Bavaria and Saxony, on the French air line from Paris to Bucharest and from Paris to Prague.

The Germans won't do it, of course, for two reasons.

First, it is difficult to hit a swift machine in full flight.

Second, Germany is at the mercy of France for the reason that Germany has no flying machines and, therefore, she might as well have no men.

Her 65 millions of population would be utterly helpless against 100 Frenchmen up in the air. If one French machine were shot down over German soil, a half dozen German cities could be destroyed the same day.

This country ought to learn something from the helplessness of Germany, based entirely on the fact that she has no force in the air, although she has millions of highly trained fighting men. Let us also remember that in the air Germany is no more helpless than the United States at this moment.

Italian Socialists and Communists demand a revolution to get rid of Mussolini. The crisis there, whatever it is to be is not far off. Italy would have had a revolution five or six years ago had not Mussolini taken charge is the belief of some that understand such matters

Something new in radio. Norfolk, Va., tells of a man found wandering unable to tell who he is, a victim of asphasia. His language is strange, no way of identifying him apparently. He talked over the radio. Friends "listen'ng in" recognized the tone of his voice and identified him as a Finnish naturalist named Oxelund. What else can you suggest for the radio to do?

200,000 GOITER CASES IN CHICAGO LACK OF IODINE IN FOOD IS CAUSE

The June 14 (1924) issue of weekly bulletin published by the Chicago Department of Health states that conservatively estimated there are 200,000 persons in Chicago suffering from preventable goiter, the greatest number occurring between the ages of birth and 16 years. The facts are that 75 per cent of simple goiter incidence is among school children; that goiter in the district is due to insufficiency of iodine in the soil and water, and that goiter is safely and cheaply prevented.

Chicago is not the only place where it has been found that goiter exists in young people to an alarming extent. In many of the central and southern States similar conditions have been revealed by health surveys, in some cases as many as 64 per cent of the girls being goitrous. One-half of the high school girls in Detroit, Mich., were found to have thyroid trouble.

Many children are blamed for being stupid and backward in their studies, when as a matter of fact the trouble is they have a goiter. This affliction has a marked effect upon the nervous system, and both the physical and mental conditions are impaired to some extent. Sometimes a boy or girl will outgrow a goiter, but this is entirely a matter of chance. The safe thing to do is to prevent Goiter in children by using table salt containing a definite amount of iodine. This is the prophylactic treatment recommended by health authorities.

AT GROCERS

MULKEY'S IODINE SALT for Goiter prevention comes in 2-lb. round cartons with pouring spout. It is to be used for all household purposes—both in cooking and on the table. The iodine does not change the taste or color. In these respects it is just like any other high grade free running table salt.

Begin using it today—ask your grocer for MULKEY'S IODINE SALT, and be sure the name MULKEY'S is on the label.

1,016 DISABLED VETS ASK AID

The battalion of cripples, with their hundreds of war decorations from all the allied governments but little money for food or medicine, sent a delegation to plead for enactment of the Bursum bill granting regular retirement pay to disabled emergency army officers.

All other officers who served in the World war have long since been granted this compensation as a reward for their wounds. The handful who volunteered, received emergency commissions, served through the war and then were dropped from the rolls alone are excepted.

As a result of the plea, Senator Bursum, Republican of New Mexico, announced he would demand consideration of the relief bill in the senate as the "first opportunity." He predicted its enactment at this session of congress, as the bill passed the senate two years ago but failed in the house through a legislative jam.

Of the thousand and sixteen veterans benefited by the measure, all served in France and all fell from wounds or disease "contracted in the line of duty." Since the bill first came before congress in 1920 their lines have been decimated by death. Two hundred of the eligibles died while congress delayed and eighteen died since congress reconvened in December. Of the number, four were included who came before congress a year ago as "witnesses" and "examples" of their nation's forgetfulness.

Under existing conditions, the survivors—most of them middle aged men—must support families on the trifling allowance received from the veterans' bureau. All other disabled officers have regular retirement pay.

The total cost of the bill, Bursum said, would be about $600,000 a year, with the amount decreased annually because of deaths. This would give each wounded officer a pension of from $15 to $100 a month.

for Kane's electrocution. He recalled having issued a stay of execution that lay in Kane's case. Unable to notify Warden Thomas, of the penitentiary, by telephone, Justice Marshall called up Gov. Donahey who promptly granted Kane a reprieve until this morning.

In an investigation next day, Justice Marshall found he had confused Kane's name with that of the plaintiff in a Cleveland case who had been granted a stay relative to a prison sentence imposed for a minor crime.

Injunction Stops Hanging.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Jan. 9.—Attorney's for Gervis Bloodworth and Willie Jones, confessed slayers of H. W. Underwood, near Butler, Ga., more than a year ago, who were to have been hanged at Butler today, resorted to an injunction to save their clients from death, a temporary restraining order, preventing carrying out of the death sentence, was granted early this morning by Judge W. E. H. Sercy.

Georgia law provides that hanging shall take place in privacy. Attorneys said the gallows at Butler has been built in front of the jail and that a board fence surrounding it does not exclude the public view.

Plan to Speed

suggested, follows the Hookstown road to Laughlin's corners, past the Reed school house and the Ramsey brothers' farm to Mechanicsburg, Little Travis and Kanaught. Here the route connects with an improved road which passes through Moon Run to the Steubenville Pike and into Pittsburgh. This route, by the automobile speedometer, is but 37 miles to Pittsburgh, where the other roads, which strike the improved road at Clinton, are about 42 miles in length.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of the road through Kanaught and Moon's Run, in addition to the short route, is that traffic in larger industrial centers is avoided. Many mining towns are on the road from Clinton into Pittsburgh, but the latest road to be suggested eliminates all the communities except Moon Run.

The Hookstown road is being improved to a point near Laughlin's Corners. This improvement, which extends a little over two miles, is two-thirds completed, about a mile and a half of the new concrete road being open to traffic. No more surfacing will be undertaken until spring in order to permit fills to settle. From Laughlin's Corners it is proposed to obtain a new right of way in order to reduce the mileage.

Hoag Inspects Road

Mr. Hoag went to Pittsburgh Monday where he again traversed the road as far west as Mechanicsburg in company with E. K. Morse, consulting engineer for the Pennsylvania state highway department. He returned to his home in Detroit, Tuesday.

The Lincoln highway representative was optimistic regarding funds for the improvement of the road through the Southside. An 18 mile stretch of this road is to be improved, but if the contracts should be awarded early in the spring the road may be completed by the end of the year.

Beaver county officials are said to favor the road through the southside of the county if assurances are given for the completion of the Midland road to the Ohio state line. This road probably will be completed during the year.

Inspect Your Lamb And Mutton; Perhaps It Is Goat Meat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—Millions of goats have been sold to housewives in the United States disguised as lamb and mutton and the practice is still continued, Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky, asserted during hearings on the War Department appropriation bill.

Johnson, in asking whether goat instead of mutton was included on the army's ration list, declared that he raised the slaughtered goats and knew that large numbers were inspected and put in cold storage warehouses but never came out—as goat.

"When the goats came out," Johnson said, "they are sold as lamb or mutton. The difference is difficult to discover as the only way to tell is by one hind quarter. A sheep's tail is four or five times wider than a goat's and so one quarter can not be disguised. The other three quarters might be goat or sheep. Kids and goats are virtually as good as lamb or sheep, the only difference being in the price. Lamb costs three times as much."

TWO ARRESTED IN RUM RAIDS

Julius Pierry and George Chain Fined Total of $1,500.

Julius Pierry, St. George street, and George Chain, Koontz avenue, Wellsville, are in jail today in default of fines assessed against them by Mayor Charles Brown last night on a charge of violating the prohibition statutes.

Pierry was assessed $1,000 and costs on a charge of manufacturing liquor, after Captain Conley and Officers Lister, Roth and Smith discovered a still, 25 gallons of corn whisky, mash, sugar and other supplies on the second floor of his home near the eastern end of St. George street yesterday afternoon.

The still, fired by a gas burner, was working to capacity when the raiders visited the place. The police confiscated it and other equipment and destroyed the mash and liquor. Pierry pleaded guilty, but claimed that he was forced into the business by an injured leg, which prevented him from working. The police say he came to East Liverpool recently from Cleveland.

Chief McDermott and Captain Conley arrested Chain, who is a fireman at the American Vitrified Products company plant, yesterday afternoon on a warrant, charging him with illegal possession. Chain, it is alleged, has been bringing the liquor to the sewer pipe works in gallon lots and selling it out in pint and half pint amounts. He was fined $500 and costs and ordered committed to jail until the fine and costs are paid. Both offenders will be taken to Lisbon if their fines are not paid.

Kiwanis Club

keeps us in line we will forget the ideals of Kiwanis. This club is especially honored in having one of its members chosen to such a high office as district governor and I want to say to you that he has made a record while in that office — a record of which he can justly feel proud of."

Furnish Hospital Room.

W. A. Weaver, the first president of the club, spoke briefly during which he presented the retiring president, Olen H. Dawson, with a fountain pen—a gift from the members of the club. Mr. Dawson thanked the members for the remembrance.

T. V. Milligan announced that the club had furnished a room at the City hospital at a cost of $241. H. D. Hoffman, club secretary, who has not missed a meeting of the club for three and one-half years, was presented with a handsome leather portfolio in recognition of his faithful attendance. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Milligan. Mr. Hoffman expressed his appreciation.

Mr. Heddleston then presented Retiring President Olen H. Dawson with the past president's button. Mr. Dawson again expressed his thanks for the button and also for the hearty co-operation of the club members during his term. At the conclusion of his remarks he presented H. F. Laughlin, musical director of the club, with a leather traveling bag for his faithful services during the year.

Committees Appointed.

The toastmaster then presented Dr. G. E. Lewis, the newly elected president with the gavel and a president's button. The gavel was one presented to Mr. Heddleston while he was district governor. John E. Newell, president of the Chester Boosters' club, made a brief talk in which he discussed the friendly spirit between Chester and East Liverpool.

The attendance prize, boxes of cigars furnished by H. F. McNutt, were awarded to Louis E. Weaver and Oscar O. Allison, after they had qualified. "Booby prizes," furnished by Chester members of the club, were awarded to D. F. Nellis, James Anderson, S. C. Williams and Joshua Poole.

W. C. Lynch, Chester, assisted by Dr. James T. Jackson staged a mind-reading act, which proved to be the big feature of the evening. For more than a half hour Mr. Lynch kept the audience in a uproar with his original performance, which he declared he had "conceived in India, when he made a tour of the world 36 years ago."

President Lewis announced his committee appointments, at the close of the meeting, the duties of each committee being outlined by Secretary Hoffman. Mayor Charles Brown was the last speaker of the evening. During his remarks he termed East Liverpool and Chester one big community.

Gassing of Slayer Stops First Degree Murders in Nevada

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 9.—Eleven months ago today a fear-crazed man was dragged across the sun-baked stones in the yard at the Nevada state prison, tied to a chair in an air-tight room and put to death, while official state witnesses gazed on the first lethal gas execution in world history.

Since that murky morning there hasn't been a "first degree" murder in Nevada, Gov. J. G. Scrugham today told International New Service. Since that man—Gee Jon, a Chinese hired killer from San Francisco—was put to death by gas, "there hasn't been a murder punishable by death, meaning a murder other than committed in the heat of frenzy, in the whole state of Nevada, said Gov. Schrugham.

"But more than that, a huge Chinese narcotic ring has been eliminated from the state.

"To be hanged or shot to death is all right, but a Chinese fears a gas death because he thinks, by his religion, it will keep him from going to heaven."

The Nevada legislature meets in ten days, the chief executive said, but he predicted no effort would be made to repeal the execution law.

Additional school legislation endorsed by rural legislators, it was said, include a proposed law, more clearly defining who shall benefit under the "weak school district" act.

Provisions of the Griswold tax act, which regulates the maximum indebtedness of the various political subdivisions should be incorporated into the state constitution, rural legislators declare, for the purpose of giving assurance of permanency to the system. For the purpose of giving more assurance of permanency to the system, these legislators assert the Griswold act, which has been in operation for a number of years has proved satisfactory and that its advantages should be preserved for posterity. The best way to do this, they point out, is through amendment of the Ohio constitution.

Evangelist Lockhart Answers Question, 'Is There A Hell?'

Thirteen Converts Pledge New Life at Church of Christ Services Thursday Evening.

One of the most forceful sermons since the campaign opened was delivered in the Parish church of Christ, last evening, when Evangelist W. J. Lockhart answered the question, "Is There a Hell?"

Thirteen converts shook the evangelist's hand at the close of his sermon when the invitation was extended. Prof. J. F. Harbinson, song director, rendered a solo, "The Great Judgment Morning." Mr. Harbinson is directing two large choruses, one composed of adults and the other of children.

Tonight, Evangelist Lockhart will talk on the subject, "Our American Mothers." "This is a tribute of love to my mother and yours," he declared today. Bouquets of flowers are to be given the oldest mother and the mother of the largest family attending tonight's service, which is expected to attract a capacity crowd.

A meeting for men only will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harbinson entertained the ladies of the church Thursday afternoon.

In his sermon on "Hell As Real as Sin," delivered last night, Dr. Lockhart said:

"You ask me if there is a real Hell, and I answer you that Hell is just as certain as sin and as real as sin. For sin is Hell in embryo and sin plus eternity is the Hell the Bible describes. This is an awful truth. I wish I could tell you there is no Hell and you need not concern yourself about Hell, and neither would I enjoy running into your home and telling you your house was on fire. But if your life was endangered by a fire I would in duty be bound to warn you and knowing well as I do what the word of God teaches on the subject as a friend to warn you of the awful consequences of the rejection of Jesus Christ and the continuing in sin.

"Hell is indicated by all experience and observation. One thing is absolutely certain and that is the tendency of character to become fixed. After a man lives a lifetime and gets his habits of thought and life fixed it is mighty hard to change him.

"You ask me, is there a Hell, and I turn the question back at you. Go to that home in which sin has entered and ask the deserted wife if there is a Hell.

"Go to the man who has now lost all self respect and with hardened heart and empty soul is making the way down the sinful road of life and ask him if there is a Hell. "Go to the drunkard who has lost manhood and home and ask him if there is a Hell; go to the murderer behind the bars; the poor woman with beheaveled hair and blanchard face as she makes her way down the street of shame and ask her if there is a Hell and sin is its beginning.

"You ask me is Hell a physical place of burning fire. I answer that Hell is spoken of as a fiery furnace and it is also spoken of as a place of outer darkness. It could not be both. Hell is spoken of as a lake of fire and not as a bottomless pit. It could not be both. What is my conclusion. These are figures of speech used to describe Hell.

"Hell is a place of insatible and tormenting desires that shall never be gratified. Hell is a place of shame. Hell is a place of an outraged and dishonored conscience. Hell is a place of vile companions."

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Steel and oil stocks led the whole market into a vigorous upturn in the early trading today. U. S. Steel set the pace at the opening of the market, with another jump to a new high record price level since the days of the war brides and independent steel stocks followed at no great distance. Baldwin Locomotive, at the head of the equipment stocks rushed up to 136½, for a gain of three points, also exceeding its best record for 1924.

Sterling exchange's rise to a new high since the active days of the world war, lent further encouragement to the hope that Great Britain would soon be placed on a gold basis and that active trading in American securities might again be established over the London cables. Another encouraging preopening event was the publication of the federal reserve bank's weekly report, showing that, simultaneously with the easing of the money situation and the decline in call money to two percent, the reserves of the New York bank had risen to 78.2 against 74.6 a week ago and 71.1 two weeks ago.

'Bringing Up Father,' Cartoon Musical Show, Here Saturday

"Bringing Up Father" will pay its yearly visit to the Ceramic theatre Saturday, matinee and night. This season's production will outclass anything that has ever been attempted in the way of the presentation of a play based upon the popular cartoon of the Sunday "Funny Papers."

"Bringing Up Father In Ireland" has been prepared with especial care by George McManus, and it will contain all of his latest and best comedy sketches as shown recently in more than one thousand newspapers throughout the entire world. No more prolific opportunity for hilarious comedy can be imagined than the series of ludicrous character sketches, conceived by the world's greatest newspaper staff artist.

The principal reason that the theatregoing public await with so much pleasure, the coming of "Bringing Up Father" is that they know of a surety that it will be entirely new. With no hold overs at all from any previous season. Naturdally "Jiggs and Maggie" and the cause of all their troubles "Dinty and the Flappers" will be there, but all new faces—new scenery and costumes and jokes—music and dances. It will live indefinitely with the system now in vogue. Crowded houses greet their every visit, theatres are not large enough to house the applicants for seats. That is the true history of "Bringing Up Father" and has been for the past ten consecutive years, as this is the tenth in the series.

Therefore, make it a point to secure seats as quickly as the date is announced and in that way be sure that you will not have to stand in line to be jostled by the crowd. Popular prices make it the success that it is.

Politeness Pays, But Not Always, Atlantan Learns

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan.—L. W. James, of College park, an Atlanta suburb, is polite at all times. Therefore, when he was stepped on quite accidentally by a woman who entered the elevator in which he was waiting to go up, he hurriedly got out of the way and asked her pardon for having been there. CHANGE IN ROAD NOW PROPOSED

Commissioners Asked to Relocate West Township Highway.

Grave doubt exists over the relocation of the East Rochester-North Georgetown road as was proposed by John T. French to the county commissioners early in the week. Mr. French advised the commissioners that he represented a number of people of West township who wanted this road changed from a point 2.44 miles north of East Rochester.

It has been pointed out that the grading on this road was finished about three years ago, and that the time to have the route of the road changed was before plans were approved by the county commissioners and the state highway department, and the grading contract awarded. To make a change in the road at this time, it is said by those who are in close touch with the situation, would be frowned upon by the state highway department.

Surfacing of this road this year is practically assured. Many property owners in West township have paid their road assessments, and quite a number of these reside on that portion of the highway that is now proposed to be eliminated from the route north of the 2.44 mile point north of East Rochester.

GIVEN PERMISSION TO ERECT POLES

In order that their power lines can be extended to Salineville and other parts of Washington and Yellow Creek township, the Ohio Power company has taken a right of way over the John F. Gilson farm in Yellow Creek township, agreeing to pay $30 for each pole erected on this farm land.

Lillian Thompson has granted the company a right of way through her lands in section 35, Washington township, and Allen Maple, residing in section, Washington township, has also granted a right of way to the company. In these two instances the land owners will receive $10 per pole for each pole erected upon their lands.

COUNTY ENGINEER MAKING ESTIMATES

County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk is engaged in preparing another estimate for the improvement of the East Palestine-Negley road from the foot of Crum's hill to the East Palestine corporate line. The original estimate was prepared on a grade of 8.6 per cent with hillside paving block for a surface.

The new estimate will be made on a grade of 7 per cent and with a concrete top. However, it is very likely that the county commissioners will ask for bids on both concrete and hill side block on this road and on a 7 per cent grade.

GRAND JURY WILL CONVENE MONDAY

Physicians' certificates have been filed with Sheriff George Wright by a number of people who have been drawn to serve on the grand jury, which begins its January session next Monday, and these people will not respond to their names. The panel will then be filled by others, as has been the rule in the past.

The petit jury will not be called until Monday, January 19. It is likely those who will be indicted by the grand jury will be arraigned following the opening of court next Monday week.

ROAD WIDENING MAY BE ORDERED

It will create little if any surprise should the state highway department insist that the Lisbon-Salem road from the northern corporate line of Lisbon to the south end of the brick section of this road be improved and widened this year. Intimation of this intent has been received in Lisbon from the state highway department offices in Columbus.

The county commissioners proposed to widen a portion of this road just north of Lisbon two years ago, but the plan fell through.

RUSH EXPECTED FOR DOG LICENSES

A rush to obtain dog licenses for 1925 is expected by Deputy Sheriff Randall Hamilton beginning next Monday. Next week will be the height of "tax paying time" and also when so many people who are in Lisbon pay for their dog license.

There have been 305 dog licenses issued up to this time for this term. The number is under that of last year for the corresponding period, and because of the fact that an extension for the payment of property taxes has been granted.

JAPANESE, ON PAY OF LESS THAN $1 A DAY, NOW IS WORTH $100,000

TOKIO — Although his daily wage, after 20 years' toil in the government arsenal at Otsuka, is less than $1 per day, K. Okada has a tidy little fortune of more than $100,000 tucked away.

Okada started to work at a wage of about 14 cents per day. When he had saved $2.50, some 20 years ago he bought a new hat. He is still wearing it.

But meantime he kept on saving money and bought land when land was cheap. Now he owns 500 tsubo of land, that is constantly increasing in value and has 15 houses from which he derives a snug little income in rentals.

Okada plans to buy more land but he sees no reason yet for buying a new hat or quitting his job at the arsenal.

Child Prodigy Amazes Reporters; Quickly Answers Questions

CLEVELAND, Ohio—Sammy Harrison, ten, child prodigy, of Seattle, Washington, astonished newspaper reporters when they interviewed him, by launching into an apparently learned discourse on the nebular hypothesis and molecular theory.

The reporters, who cannot be outdone in quizzing, surrounded Sammy three deep and bombarded him with questions, which the boy answered with all the coolness and patience of a college professor.

San Carlo Opera Ticket Sale Will Open Next Tuesday

Beginning Tuesday, January 13, seats for the coming engagement of the San Carlo Grand Opera company will be placed on sale at the box office of the Ceramic theatre, East Liverpool, Ohio. The advance enthusiasm evidenced by the local music lovers over the first announcements that this noted New York lyric organization was to appear here, will have the opportunity to express itself in concrete manner. Already advance reservations point to an unusually successful engagement.

All mail orders will be filled in the order of their receipt at the local ticket offices. It is suggested by Manager Tallman that all those who desire well located seats, apply as early as possible as the demand is expected to be unusually heavy. With previous experience in such matters Manager Tallman askts that patrons do not delay their selection of seats, and announces that many patrons have expressed a desire to give box or theatre parties for the special engagement and that they can be accommodated if early application is made.

That the occasion will be a social as well as artistic success was clearly indicated this week when many of those socially prominent announced that they would be present. Grand opera affords a double opportunity to patrons, to enjoy an excellent musical and dramatic presentation and in addition entertain their guests in the very best manner, at the American's national institution. A pair of grand opera tickets have come into popular vogue as splendid gifts and during the Christmas season last year, thousands of the little pasteboards were sent to friends as the most acceptable sort of gift. Birthday parties can be topped off successfully by having the entire group of guests attend a performance of the opera. Like the radio, which brought music to millions, grand opera has become our national entertainment.

Water Pipe Line Laid At Bottom of Lake In The Adirondacks

WHITEHALL, N. Y.—To obtain a new water supply, Whitehall, a village in the Adirondacks, completed a unique pipe line system in which water is passed under water.

The project for which Edward F. Roche, editor and publisher and Mayor of Whitehall, led the movement, cost the village $300,000.

HOW MANY ITEMS IN A DRUG STORE?

We have never had time to count the different items carried in our drug stores and it is hard even to make an estimate.

One wholesale drug house claims to carry over thirty thousand different items in their stock which, of course, is a higher number than we carry, but our different items runs up to several thousand and a good number of these items are in our prescription departments.

Even with the high number of items carried they are not bought in a haphazard manner just to get a price, but only from reliable sources where quality is the first consideration and that is why prescriptions filled at our stores give the result intended by the physician.

WELLSVILLE INVESTORS WATCH DISCOUNT CASE

The attention of several score Wellsville residents and many persons living in the rural communities of the district are centered on Cleveland today as action went on in the investigation of the affairs of the former Cleveland Discount Co., and its ex-head, Josiah H. Kirby.

Number of local residents invested savings in the company several years ago when a branch office was opened in the old Silver building, in the public square.

Today's outstanding development was the surrender of Josiah Kirby, the former organizer of the $32,000,000 concern which now is in the hands of receivers, to federal authorities in Cleveland. He entered a plea of not guilty to indictment returned yesterday by federal grand jury, and he was released under bond of $10,000.

"I'll fight the charges against me to my last cent," Kirby said as he left the federal building. He was later to be arraigned on charges returned by the state grand jury. He went to Cleveland from Pittsburgh where he received information he had been indicted.

An indictment returned against him yesterday in federal court charged using the mails to defraud, while in the state courts he is charged with issuing a false financial statement in violation of the state blue sky laws. The investigation by a special state and the regular federal grand jury will continue, it was said by both state and federal autohrities.

Upon Kirby's arrival, it was expected that a fight would be staged between the state and federal authorities for possession of Kirby and the right to first bring him to bar to answer to the charges. Walter D. Meals, his attorney, who promised United States district Attorney Bernsteen to produce his client when wanted said he would surrender to federal authorities.

Indicted with Kirby by the Cuyahoga county grand jury was R. L. Poland, former treasurer of the discount company, who has acted as treasurer for the receivers since the concern was taken over by the courts two years ago.

The federal indictment is one of the longest ever returned in federal court in Cleveland. The specifications cover 185 pages, and recite various alleged offenses dealing with illegal use of the mails by misrepresentation of the colue of teh common stock of the company.

Among those to whom false representations are alleged to have been made are Frank M. Schram, Toledo; Mary O. Dennis, Orient; Frank C. Wright, Grove City; Charles Hack, Cardington; Lloyd Haverstock, North Canton; Gilbert Ray Ingold, North Canton; W. A. Taylor, Ontario; Elizabeth Bechtel, Wooster; William Downard, McArthur; Martha Bell, Smithton, W. Va.; M. C. Vokmar, Westerville; J. W. Jardine, Youngstown; and George F. Bishop, Defiance, O.

The Cleveland Discount company was thrown into the hands of receivars two years ago. A special commissioner appointed by Judge D. C. Westenhaver found the company solvent, when suit was filed by creditors to declare it bankrupt. Kirby, who went to Cleveland from Cincinnati, where he had failed in the real estate business, recently settled with receivers a debt of $1,500,000.

MRS. INGRAM, 81, ANSWERS CALL

Mother of City Solicitor Dies in Orlando, Fla., Hospital.

Mrs. Laurinda W. Ingram, 81 years old, formerly of Wellsville, died Wednesday at midnight in the Orlando, Florida, hospital, where she recently underwent an operation, according to word received by City Solicitor Geo. D. Ingram, her son.

Mrs. Ingram underwent a major operation on last Saturday, but failed to recover.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, this city. In the absence of Rev. Frank H. Magill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, the services will be conducted by Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, and a friend of the family.

The body is now enroute from Mt. Dora, Florida, and is due to arrive in Pittsburgh, Pa., Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. The body will immediately be sent to this city for funeral services.

Mrs. Ingram is the last of a family of 12 children. She was born on a farm which is now part of the town of Newell, W. Va., on February 3, 1844. Her parents, George B. Johnston and Evelyn Johnston, were among the early settlers of Hancock county, W. Va.

CITY'S OLDEST HAS BIRTHDAY

James Love, Civil War Vet, Rounds Out Another Year of Life.

James Love, 91 years old, probably the oldest man in Wellsville, today celebrated his birthday anniversary at his home in Danbury avenue.

The celebration will be quite unostentatious as the aged man watches the passing of another milestone. He will be with his only daughter and near relative, Loa Love.

His birthday will be doubly significant to him.

He has lived another year of his life, which to him unquestionably is as sweet as the days of the most vigorous young man of 25.

And this old veteran of many battles of the Civil war, survivor of the troubled days of internal rebellion, has warded off the effects of a dangerous fall he had eight weeks ago.

A mis-step on the back porch of his home, the fall—and then he was carried into his home, apprehension in the mind of his nearest friends. After eight weeks, he has "come back." He's glad to be alive, bearing bravely the lingering effects of a fractured shoulder bone.

Mr. Love fought through the Civil war. After that he became a railroad worker and today is a pensioned veteran of the Pennsylvania company.

He was born in Steubenville and spent his boyhood days there and in that vicinity. He has called Wellsville his home for approximately 60 years.

COLORED PASTOR WILL GIVE TALK

Under the auspices of the Daisy club, of the First Baptist church here, Rev. J. McClay, pastor of the Second Baptist church, of Wellsville, will preach Tuesday night in the local church.

His subject will be "Race Consciousness." Mrs. Frances Jackson will be chairman.

Mrs. Arch Parr Hostess.

Mrs. Arch Parr was hostess to members of Sunday school class No. 12 of the First Methodist Protestant church Thursday evening at her home in Clark avenue. A social hour followed the business session. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Lacopra Funeral Today.

Funeral services for Alessanico Lacopra, 32 years old, Italian laborer, who was crushed to death between two locomotives in the engine house of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad here Tuesday night, were held this morning in the Immaculate Conception church, in charge of Rev. John T. Ruffing. Burial was made in St. Elizabeth cemetery.

Entertain Knights.

Ladies of the Golden Eagle entertained Knights of the Golden Eagle and their families last evening in the lodge rooms, Ninth and Main streets.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock, followed by a business session and social hour.

PSYCHOLOGY OF WORD PUZZLES ALSO PROBLEM; IDEA BOOMS DICTIONARIES

NEW YORK.—A tiny dictionary, a little volume hardly larger than a wrist watch, is being sold on the streets of New York like the proverbial hot cakes. Your first guess is correct—it is being bought by the cross-word puzzle fans.

This is not the only dictionary placed on the market especially for cross-word puzzle workers. Hardly a publishing house that deals in dictionaries has over-looked the field. One firm alone has sold 250,000 volumes.

A most remarkable phase of the cross-word craze, and one which is baffling psychologists, is that the cross-word puzzle made its appearance in New York thirteen years ago and failed to interest the public. The syndicate which created cross-word puzzles at that time shortly afterward discontinued them because of the publick's lack of interest.

No form of public amusement has taken hold the way the cross-word puzzle has. It is almost impossible to pick up a newspaper anywhere in the country without finding a cross-word puzzle.

Harry Flory, an American newspaper correspondent stationed in Londone, who arrived on the liner Olympic this week, said that the cross-word puzzle only now has begun to interest the British. At first it was looked upon as "another American fad." Newspapers printed long articles, some of which were highly exaggerated, and told of "cross-word tournaments in all the large cities."

It is a different story today, Flory said. The stolid Englishman may be seen grimly absorbed in cudgeling his brain for "a word of four letters representing a bird's mouth," as he rides on the bus. In the house of parliament a member surreptitiously draws a paper from his pocket during a desultory debate and begins thoughtfully to print letters in white squares.

Coming back to America, J. C. Boyd, who complies cross-word puzzles for the biggest newspaper feature syndicate in this country, says the cross-word puzzle in reality was originated 13 years ago by a New York artist. He hit upon the idea of combining an acrostic, a puzzle-poem, with a checkerboard.

Boyd is not so sure that the fad is adding to the vocabulary of the American people, as has been contended. The average vocabularly comprises 600 words, according to Boyd, and creators of cross-word puzzles aim to keep all words within such a vocabulary.

The cross-word has, however, brought an enormous demand for dictionaries, Boyd said. These new dictionaries, though, contain more three-letter words than anything else, and, while they help the puzzle-worker, they are not, in his opinion, conducive to a greater vocabulary.

Archaeologists are declaring that the cross word puzzle idea is to be found in cuneiform or cylinder writing. It was, they argue, created by the Phoenicians some 10,000 years ago.

The psychologists are about evenly divided on the subject. The majority is inclined to the belief that the psychology of the cross-word puzzle is that the human mind is eager for mental combat. The cross-word puzzle, they say, is a form of challenge, and since it is simple, millions of minds have accepted the challenge.

Stolen Suit So "Loud" It Betrays Itself in Pawn

NEW YORK, Jan.—When Harold Webster, an actor, befriended John McGregor Christmas Eve, took the Scotch lad to his home and fed and housed him, he did not intend that his hospitality should include a Scotch Norfolk tweed suit.

Webster was angry Christmas morning when he found McGregor and the suit were missing. The police said the suit was one of the "loudest" that ever walked along Broadway.

In tracing it the police came across the pawnbroker who had refused to take it because of its pronounced pattern.

Later the suit was found in a pawnbroker's shop at Twelfth street and Third avenue, where it had been pledged for $5.00.

After the actor had received his property he expressed a strong desire to meet McGregor for at least five minutes.

CHILDRENS CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

(Running Across.)

Word 3. A boy's name.
Word 4. Used to keep the cattle out of the corn.

(Running Down.

Word 1. Synonym for the word shown in capitals in the following sentence: "The boy returned to school after a SHORT illness."
Word 2. To move about to music.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

PLEA FOR PRIVATE MERCHANT MARINE MADE BY ADMIRALTY LAWYER

A plea for the establishment of a permanent merchant marine in foreign trade under private ownership and a warning that the present service will entirely disappear if the United States government undertakes to own and operate ships was made recently by Ira A. Campbell, admiralty lawyer.

"Until the politicians, and by that I mean those who think in terms of politics and not of business, awaken to the fact that American shipping cannot be successfully sovietized and realize that if there is to be permanency in its maintenance of growth, it must come through the individual initiative of the American business man and not through government ownership and operation, we are doomed to failure on the seas in foreign trade," said Mr. Campbell.

Government Ownership

There continues to be a concerted effort to involve the government in permanent ownership and operation.

"For example take the new designations of operators of the government ships. With but few exceptions, excluding the passenger service to South America and the Orient, the operators of the government ships are not the owners of ships.

"Only recently the fact that a prominent shipping man, amply financed, seeking to retain one of the government services he had built up, was planning to purchase from the board in the near future the necessary tonnage to maintain the service apparently made no appeal to the dominant commissioners in the assignment of the service for government operation. Notwithstanding that negotiations had already been initiated with Admiral Palmer for the purchase of ships, this man's connections with the service were peremptorily ended, after a hearing that was a mere farce.

"No progress can be made towards inducing the American business man to put his money into ships in foreign trade unless and until his menace of government ownership is ended. But how can this attempt to involve the government permanently in the shipping business be stopped? By a full disclosure of the financial results of government operation.

"My disclosure I do not mean the kind of reports hertofore emanating from those in authority. But I do mean such public accounting as will actually and fully disclose the true results of the operations.

Rain Statistics.

TILTONVILLE — Prohibition advocates to the contrary notwithstanding, 1924 was damper than 1923. Records at the weather station here show 34.51 inches of rain fell in 1924, compared with 33.28 inches in 1923. The 1924 total was larger than that of 1923 in spite of the fact that last October, with only 29.100 of an inch of rain, was the driest October in 110 years in Ohio.

Because of the change of prices, estimates made in 1919 of the cost of reclamation of the Pontine marshes in Italy are about one-fifth of what the actual expenditure will be.

Answers to Questions

The Bureau can not give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settled domestic troubles, nor undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Q. What is the most common dream? M. C. D.

A. The most common dream is said to be that of wandering about nude or insufficiently clothed.

Q. What city has the most telephones in proportion to population? E. V. Y.

A. Omaha leads the world with 28 telephones to each 100 persons. The next ten cities, in order, are Stockholm, San Francisco, Minneapolis, Denver, Washington, Los Angeles, Chicago, Toronto, Cincinnati and New York.

Q. Doesn't the human heart ever rest? H. H. R.

A. The heart rests between beats, about eight tenths of a second elapsing between the contractons which are about one-tenth of a second in length.

Q. Is there a standard size for the hose used by fire departments? T. S. T.

A. The hose generally considered as standard for fire-fighting purposes is 2½ inches in diameter, which at 90 pounds pressure at the hydrant gives a flow of approximately 195 gallons per minute through 500 feet of hose with a pressure of 20 pounds at the nozzle. Smaller hose is said to give friction losses too high in proportion to the usefulness of the hose, and 3-inch hose is considered too awkward to handle.

Q. Is it true that they are making false teeth of steel in Germany? T. T. K.

A. The Krupp Korks in Germany are now manufacturing enameled steel false teeth. Eight dentists are employed in the department, and it is said that the steel teeth are becoming increasingly popular because of their durability.

Q. Where is the largest clock in the world? C. R. W.

A. The largest clock in the world is on the roof of a factory in Jersey City. The clock face is 50 feet in diameter, and the minute hand is 27 feet long and weighs a ton.

Q. Would a hen hatch an eagle's egg? H. W. H.

A. That experiment is said to have been tried successfully by Guy O. Glazier, of the San Diego Society of Natural History, although he had to use three hens. When one hen had sat on the egg two weeks another was put on the job. It was 41 days before the young eagle broke through the shell.

Q. How many states have a gasoline tax? G. T. S.

A. In 36 of the 48 states a tax of 1 to 3 cents a gallon is levied on gasoline used in motor vehicles, and an aggregate annual revenue estimated at $50,000,000 is raised thereby. The states that do not tax gasoline are Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska and Kansas.

Q. In City Hall Park, New York, there is a statue of Nathan Hale. Does it really resemble the patriot? D. A. E.

A. Frederick Macmonnies, who designed this statue had no likeness of Hale from which to work. It is therefore an idealized conception. The sculptor is quoted as saying: "A statue in bronze or stone should never be a photographic likeness but should be so conceived as an ideal that the figure should symbolize the life work of the subject."

Q. Please give me the derivation of "hale" and "hail." B. McN.

A. Hail is from the Anglo-Saxon haegel which means "frozen rain." Hale is from the Icelandish heill meaning "sound."

Q. Why is red used as a danger signal? D. W. I.

A. Because it is most easily distinguished at a distance, Bureau of Standards tests of traffic signals placed red first in visibility, green second and blue a poor third. Ordinarily railroad yellow lights, it was found, often are mistaken for orange or red.

Q. How was the name "New Orleans" selected for one of the airships making the recent trip around the world? J. M. F.

A. Major General Mason M. Patrick personally selected the names of the planes which made the round-the-world flight from a representative city of each section of the country. New Orleans was picked as a city of the south; Boston, of the east; Chicago, middle west; Seattle, west.

Q. What is the name of the disease which causes to feet to grow to enormous proportions? W. L. B.

A. It is known as acromegaly.

Over $130,000,000 Given Away for Worthy Causes in 1924

The year of 1924 will go down in history as notable for many things. One of these will be the generosity of the philanthropists of the country who have donated or bequeathed a total of over $130,000,000 in the past 12 months. The largest single monetary contribution to the common weal was that of James B. Duke, millionaire tobacco and power magnate, who recently gave $40,000,000 in the form of a trust fund for charitable and educational purposes. Above are some of the philanthropists who made notable contributions during the year. Top row, left to right, James B. Duke, J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller. Lower row, George F. Baker, George Eastman, Mrs. Jacob Wesley Wilbur and William Boyce Thompson.

RHEUMATISM PAINS ARE NOW IN SEASON

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kinds.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kindneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

You never tasted such rich mellowness as Wellman's method puts in this tobacco

An almost forgotten old tobacco secret, "Wellman's Method," dating from about 1870 and now ours exclusively, is responsible for the delightful taste of Granger Rough Cut—its mildness and its appetizing fragrance. And notice also the coarser "Rough Cut"—slower-burning, and therefore cooler. Here truly is a pipe tobacco that IS pipe tobacco!

YOUR HEALTH

Solving the Problem of Constipation Wisely

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND

SOME time has passed since I wrote about constipation. There is no more common ailment and advice regarding it is never out of season.

More and more I am amazed that so many men and women regularly resort to cathartics and other violent means of emptying the intestines. There is hardly a household that has no shelf or cupboard with a bottle of castor oil, milk of magnesia or some form of salts. Pills, powders and capsules for this trouble are sold by the millions.

I agree that something is needed to keep the intestinal tract clean, but I do protest against the all too common practice of home dosing of this ailment. It is a pity that people do not learn to eat, drink and live the right way. It is not natural or right to be constipated. It is an evidence of wrong eating or wrong habits to have this failure of function.

However, many a person has established the constipation habit. It is present and that is all there is to it. Temporary measures may be required to overcome it.

What can be done to assist the bowels to function and yet not cause much violent upsetting of the system as to disturb the comfort of the victim for a couple of days after the treatment? You know calomel and other "pills" are disturbing. You feel yourself to be a wreck after this medication.

On another occasion I shall mention the sort of foods, the kinds of beverages, the kinds of exercise which will assist intestinal action. To-day I shall content myself by speaking once more of petroleum oil as a pretty satisfactory way of encouraging intestinal activity.

Petroleum is a mineral. When it is swallowed it is not absorbed any more than a pebble or a marble would be. It merely acts as a lubricant, exactly as it would on the wheel of a wagon. It "greases" the intestinal wall and thus facilitates the passage of the food waste.

There have been additions of agar-agar to petroleum, forming an agreeable emulsion. There have been many palatable and useful mixtures made to cover the taste, or rather the tastelessness of refined petroleum. All are useful.

This is not a habit-forming practice, but it is a means of relief which is dependable and simple.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

"What brought Clarice here was Rossiter, not pictures, Mrs. Kaime. When I knew, I warned her how it wold be. He had dropped her in New York, changed his mind. Perhaps it's to his credit that he did, under the circumstances. But he gave her no explanation, and she followed him here, and a man, accustomed as Rossiter is to women's devotion, does not hesitate to show his annoyance. The result is what you see in there, the culmination of a fit of utter recklessness. You see, in this place, as in every other place, there are people, men and women, who are hangers-on. There are some degenerates in the motion picture industry, as there are in every industry, reckless ones who are ready to be led into debauchery, and their big salaries are a temptation to people like Cairns and Deeme and their women who have no connection with pictures whatever—they are simply birds of prey. Then there is a scandal, such as there has been this last year, and the motion picture industry gets the blame. Every one at the hotel knew that Clarice is coming into a large fortune very shortly, and she was fair game for the bloodsuckers. She was in a reckless mood and let herself be caught up by them easily. So far, no man has gotten the better of the child, that I know. In a way, her love for Rossiter has been a protection. Love will do that for a girl, make certain things impossible. Unfortunately, I have little or no influence with Clarice. Owing to circumstances for which I was not to blame, she was alienated from me when she was a child, and she has cultivated a defiant spirit. I have been forced to rely on her good qualities—for she has them—to see her through. She is not stupid—she is capable of learning through experience. And I hold to it that her love for Rossiter will help her, in the end. For she does love him, completely. You have asked, and I have told you the truth."

Karesia had considered and had decided. She said quietly, "I suppose you have guessed that Rand is my husband? We were married five years ago. We have been separated ever since. I saw him for the first time in five years—last evening."

"Yes, I was certain of it."

"Yet you took my house—knowing about your daughter."

"The only way to conquer life is to face it. Clarice will learn that the average man wants for his wife a woman he can respect. As I said, she is one of those who can be taught only through experience."

Karesia drew a quick breath. "But it hurts so—experience does! I don't know what the future will be—I shall do the best I can with it. I have told you in confidence. I think there is no one but yourself who knows that I am even acquainted with Randsome Rossiter."

"No one shall learn of it through me—not even Clarice."

"Least of all your daughter—not for the present!" Karesia said quickly. "What shall I tell her when she asks?"

"Exactly what happened. That Rossiter took her away from that crowd and brought her here. He knew that I had rented your house. If you will telephone me when she wakes, I will come and get her."

"Will it be known at the hotel? That party last night?"

"I am afraid it will."

Karesia's head lifted. "She shall stay here with me, if she wishes. Why should she go back there and be reminded of it?"

Again Dascome was silent. Then he said in the same toneless way as before, "I am very grateful to you." He straightened and drew a quick breath. "She is very difficult—I hope she won't offend you. If only she will stay here! I'd like to make it a little easier for you tomorrow. May I send my Japanese boy, Takimoto, to help you? Keep him until you are settled next door. He is very capable and an excellent cook."

"What a relief!" Karesia said. "That is good of you! Perhaps he can get me a Japanese? That would solve my difficulty. I simply will not let Mary Bliss work as she has today. With a Japanese to wait on me, I shall feel like an oriental princess." She was too weary for the usual lilting note.

"I am going now. Your bed is occupied, where are you going to sleep?" Dascome inquired.

"Here, I suppose. There is the spare room, but I am so tired that it would take a bomb to move me."

Dascome opened the doors, went through the next room into the hall, and disappeared. Karesia sat up, wondering. In a few minutes he came back, sat down and lifted her. "Consider me the bomb," he said in answer to her gasp.

Karesia did not stir in his arms; she was too much surprised. Even when he placed her on the bed in the spare room and, kneeling, drew off her slippers, she was speechless. He did it in an intent way, with a sort of eagerness to render her a service; at least, so it seemed to Karesia. In his brief visit to the room he had turned down the covers and had arranged the pillows.

He drew the covers over her and tucked them about her, gravely and competently. Then he stood up and smiled at her. "Now! Are you comfortable?" he asked.

"Yes," she answered in a small voice.

"Sleep till ten, then, and Taki will have breakfast ready for you. I'll give him his orders. I'll see that everything is locked downstairs and I'll take the kitchen door key with me, so just sleep," and he went out as swiftly as he had entered.

Karesia lay motionless until she heard the sound of his car. Then she turned her face to the pillow and began to cry; to a woman, weeping is the natural easement for a heartache.

XXII

"No! I won't stay here! He had no right to bring me here!"

The clear defiant voice waked Karesia. For a moment she was dazed; she was not in her own room and there was no one in the room with her. Then she heard Mary Bliss' indistinct mumble, and recollection made clear to Karesia the responsibilities of the day. She must have slept late.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Cinnamon Toast—Spread slices of dry bread with butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Cut into triangles and set in a hot oven until crisp and light brown.

Baked Cabbage and Cheese—Take one-half head of cabbage sliced rather finely, one-half pound of cheese, four tablespoons each of butter and flour, one pint of milk, one teaspoon salt, pepper and buttered crumbs. Make a white sauce with the butter, flour and milk, seasoning it with salt and pepper. In a baking dish arrange alternate layers of cabbage and white sauce with the sliced cheese between each layer. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for one and one-half hours.

Favorite Pumpkin Pie.—One cup each of cooked pumpkins, apple sauce and thin cream, one tablespoon flour one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon each of ginger and cinnamon, one beaten egg and three-fourths cup sugar. Mix well the dry ingredients and add to the pumpkin, apple sauce and egg. Stir in the cream and pour into the crust. Bake 45 minutes or until it rises in middle.

Honey Pudding—One-half cup each of sugar and strained honey, one egg, three tablespoons corn starch one and one fourth cups boiling water, one teaspoon butter and juice of one-third lemon. Mix the sugar and cornstarch and stir with the egg yolk until smooth, adding a very little of the hot water, then add all the water and bring to boil stirring constantly. Cook in double boiler five minutes and add the honey, butter and lemon juice. Pour into glass dishes and serve cold, topped with meringue made with the egg white.

Spanish Rice — One cup rice, one large onion, one green pepper, one-third cup grated cheese, four slices bacon, two cloves garlic, one cup stewed tomatoes, salt, pepper, paprika. Wash, cook and drain the rice. Grind bacon and fry in frying pan until light brown. Grind onion, pepper and garlic. Add these and tomatoes to the bacon and cook 15 minutes; season. Add the rice and cheese, cook until well blended and serve.

Baked Apple Dumpling — Two cups flour, two tablespoons lard, two tablespoons butter, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup sugar, one-fourth cup water, apples cored, cinnamon and nutmeg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Work in the lard and butter. When well mixed add the water. Cut paste into eight rounds, place apples in center of round, fill cavity with sugar and flavoring. Draw paste around apple, place in baking pan rough side down and bake 5 minutes. Serve with lemon sauce or cream.

Lemon Sauce — Two tablespoons cornstarch, two cups water, one sugar, one and one-half tablespoons butter, grated rind and juice of one lemon. Mix the cornstarch with the sugar, add the boiling water and cook 20 minutes. Add flavoring and butter, serve hot.

Cottage Pie—One pound of cold, cooked meat, one small onion, seasoning to taste. Slice the onion and fry with drippings until quite tender. Mince the meat, mix and season carefully. A little Yorkshire relish or Worcester sauce is an improvement. Put into pie dish adding a little stock or gravy, and cover evenly with a thick layer of mashed potatoes, making the top smooth with a knife dipped in hot water and ornamented by means of a fork. Place a few pieces of butter on the top and bake in a moderate oven. The potato, when mashed, can be kneaded with flour into a paste and flattened out with the hands on a board to fit the pie, instead of simply piling it on the top. If mashed with a little milk and butter you will have a light-digestible crust.

Pennsylvania's dog cemetery now has more than 1,000 graves.

Did you ever think of the importance of an appetizing breakfast? Did it ever occur to you that you are not merely feeding the family some necessary food calories but that you are starting the day for them? A good cup of coffee and food, however simple, appetizingly cooked and served, may make a very real difference in the work accomplished by the various members of the family that day. Try to have the table linen spotlessly clean and use attractive china, and, if possible, have a flower or two on the table. The eye takes in these little details even if one only has a few moments in which to eat the meal and the digestion is better, if the eye is pleased, incidentally I might mention that attractive tableware need not be expensive—either in linens—that may be cottons—or dishes.

It sweetens the stomach and starts the liver and bowels without cramping or overeating. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Boils!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorder. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils! It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

S.S.S. The World's Best Blood Medicine

THANK YOU

The Farmer's Market has just rounded out one year of business in East Liverpool, and we wish to thank the people of the city and surrounding towns for their patronage, support and good will. It was with some misgivings that we launched on a year ago. It was the first attempt as far as we knew of the producer on the farm trying to reach the consumer direct in a permanent business place of doing business.

While our business is not making us rich, it is furnishing a market for all we can produce on our farms. Our main hope lies in building a volume of business so that we can keep the overhead and costs down to a minnimum, thereby keeping the quality that the consumers of East Liverpool demand.

We will have home dressed chickens for Saturday.

Also pure Pork Sausage and other pork products.

Is Green No More

"My experience with your medicine has been wonderful. My stomach and liver trouble of five years' standing took a new turn two years ago when I took on an olive green complexion. I spent $1,200 with doctors and specialists only to prove that I was still as green as ever. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am green no more. My stomach and liver trouble has all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.

Whole World Contributes to Medicine

Ginger from India—Iodine from Chile—Olive Oil from Italy—Epsom Salts from England—Menthol from Japan and roots and herbs from almost every country in the world contribute their share towards alleviating the ills of the race. No other medicine, however, compounded from roots and herbs has ever attained such a marvelous record for success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over fifty years it has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of womanhood, and is constantly growing in popularity and favor.

New England Man Didn't Know Name Of Bride-elect

TAUNTON, Mass. — "You had better go out and get an introduction to the girl you propose to marry," was the advice which City Clerk Edwin A. Tetlow gave a man seeking a marriage license.

The man, accompanied by a woman, made a visit to the home of the city clerk to get a marriage license. He answered the questions put by Tetlow. When the clerk asked the name of his proposed wife he scratched his head, thought a moment and declared he did not know.

Later it was learned that the woman with him was the bridesmaid and that he had left his bride-to-be waiting at the church with the intention of returning with the document, but he failed to do so.

The Toughest Old COUGH Can Now Be Stopped

Lingering coughs — the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out.

Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop.

It's made to stop the old-timers—the tough ones—and it does it without any loss of time.

And, remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It's a prescription for stubborn coughs and that's the kind it speedily conquers.

For ordinary coughs one or two doses is usually enough. Jesse D. Holloway, Carnahan's drug stores, East Liverpool and Newell, W. Va., and dealers everywhere, can supply you.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Farmer Unearths Skeleton of Man While Husking Corn

KINSLEY, Kan.—While husking corn in his field, John Ellis, farmer, residing near here, stepped upon a skeleton of a man. Beside the skeleton were found several cans of beans and corn and a number of charred sticks, apparently the remains of a camp fire. It is believed the body had lain in the field since last harvest.

The man had worn a pair of overalls and a duck jumper. All else that remained as an aid to identification were a metal belt buckle bearing the initial "L," and bits of hair, slightly red.

Fruit Pits Found Poisonous.

Health authorities are urging parents to educate their children not to eat the kernel inside the peach or cherry seed, as it contains ingredients that have a toxic or poisonous effect upon the human system. Some persons immediately throw off this poison, while it takes hold on others.

CHILD BADLY SCALDED MOTHER QUICKLY STOPS PAIN

A daughter of Mrs. G. Reynolds of Saugerties, N. Y., had the misfortune of being badly scalded. Fortunately the mother had CORONA Wool Fat in the house and applied it with the following satisfactory results: "My daughter badly scalded her arm with hot coffee. We applied Corona and healed it quickly." There is nothing that can compare with Corona Ointment for quickly soothing pain and healing scalds, burns, bruises, cuts and wounds of all kinds. Children like it because it is so soothing—relieves pain so quickly. Its remarkable healing properties have earned for it the name of "The World's Greatest Healing Ointment." As a household remedy it is indeed "a friend in need." At all druggists, 60c. Corona Mfg. Co., Kenton, Ohio.

Come and See Us

Telephone Week January 12 to 17, Inclusive

There are few more interesting sights than behind the scenes in a telephone operating room. Yet few telephone users have any conception of what goes on there. That you may know just how your calls are handled and what is involved in giving service, The Ohio Bell Telephone Company has set aside January 12th-17th as TELEPHONE WEEK when you are extended a special invitation to visit your exchange.

We want you to know what happens when you lift your receiver from the hook, how the operator knows the line is busy, how she can tell when the call is completed, how it is possible to get the wrong number and countless other things which to you have been in the realm of mystery.

We want you to meet the operators, who to you have been merely voices, and to become acquainted with the chief operator under whom they work. We know you will be fascinated by the intricate mechanism of the switchboard, the tiny flashing lamps, and the lightning-like fingers of the young women. We know you will marvel at the skill with which these intelligent and courteous operators handle thousands of calls every 24 hours. We want you to see the operators handling your long distance calls.

We want you to bring your family and visit your exchange during the week. You will find courteous attendants to explain every detail and answer your questions. It will prove an interesting experience for you.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company expects 300,000 people to visit its exchanges over the state TELEPHONE WEEK. We want you to be counted in that number.

Runyon Says

"Mad Hatter" Great Character.
Is Philadelphia Sports "Bug."
Rocsevelts All Like Boxing.
George M. Cohen, Yankee Fan.
Whitney An All Around Fan.

BY DAMON RUNYON.

(Copyright, 1925, by International Feature Service, Inc.)

FRANK MACKIN, of Philadelphia, is called "The Mad Hatter of Market Street."

He sells hats.

He is a short, chunky built man, with a very serious expression. He wears heavy horn-rimmed spectacles, which give him an owlish look.

"The Mad Hatter" is widely known in theatrical and sports circles as a wag, a practical joker. It was "The Mad Hatter" who solemnly presented the great Babe Ruth with an old brown derby hat, neatly parcelled, when Ruth came to Philadelphia with the Yankee after a protracted batting slump.

Ruth quickly slapped the brown derby on his head, and posed for a photograph, choking a laugh from the Philadelphia fans at his expense.

He is a "ringworm," and enthusiast on boxing, a terrific fan, and football "bug." He is almost as democratic in his sports tastes as George Marshall, of Washington, the laundryman who is America's King Fan.

But they differ in this respect. Marshall is deadly serious. Mackin can see the humorous side of every game. In fact, if there were no humorous phases to sport, Mackin would cease to be an enthusiast.

He does not permit his interest in sport to interfere with his business affairs.

But he is one of the many who occupy the role of spectator and add to the picturesque side of sport. It is, indeed, the Mackins and the Marshalls who make sport.

Before the Dempsey-Firpo fight last year, Mackin ran large "ads" in all the Philadelphia papers which read:

STRAW HATS AND FIRPO
GO OUT SEPTEMBER 14TH."

The writer has one stock line when he is "covering" a big pugilistic event at Madison Square Garden, which is,

Boys' Team Meets Bethany Freshmen In Saturday Game

Boone's Passers in Good Trim for Two Strenuous Contests; New Lighting System Expected to Improve Gym Arrangements.

East Liverpool basketball will be on display tonight for the benefit of Warren cage fans with Coach O. V. Boone's boys' and girls' teams opposing the best that Warren high school can put on the floor. The jaunt to Warren will be the first trip of the season for the Blue and White representatives.

Every effort will be made by Coach Boone to get the squad to Warren and back again as quickly as possible, with a stiff clash with the Bethany Freshman looming for Saturday night.

In order to carry out the plan the trip will be made in automobiles furnished by the Checker Cab Co. Three cars will be used to transport the two teams. Barring delays the local basketball players should be back in East Liverpool shortly after midnight, which would give them plenty of time to rest up for Saturday night's battle.

McKeever or Pusey will be started at one of the forward jobs with English on the other. McGraw will get first call at center. McConville and Liebschner will be at the guards. This is the tentative lineup announced by Boone.

A new lighting system may be brought into the gymnasium illuminating scheme for the Bethany clash tomorrow night. The gymnasium formerly has been illuminated by 10 clusters of four 75-watt lights. Instead of this arrangement there are being put up 10 single 500 watt bulbs with metal reflectors instead of glass. The scheme is expected to prove an aid not only to players but to spectators as well.

Championship Stuff.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, announces that Jack Dempsey will fight this year. Then he denies having signed for any battles for the champion. Great stuff.

MERCURY CAGERS DEFEAT STRONG GLENMORE FIVE

The Mercury basketball squad triumphed over the Glenmore passers, 20 to 12, last night on the Glenmore floor. The game was nip and tuck from the outset until the last few minutes when the Mercury five went into a lead which they made decisive before the contest ended. Lineup:

Glenmore.		Mercury.
Conn	F.	Smurtwaite
Kapp	F.	Moore
C. Foutts	C.	Maley
D. Foutts	G.	McConville
Rowe	G.	Kennedy

Field goals—Conn 2, Smurthwaite, Moore 3, Maley, McConville, Kennedy.

Fouls—Conn, Kapp 6, Rowe, Smurthwaite 2, Moore, Kennedy 3.

Timer—Rose; scorer—Kinsey; referee—Graham.

Gibbons Scores Kayo Over Pittsburgh Pug

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 9—Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, scored a technical knockout over Jack Burke, Pittsburgh heavyweight here last night in the sixth round of a scheduled ten round bout. Gibbons handed Burke a severe beating. The fight was stopped by the referee. Let Philbin, University of Michigan student, scored technical knockout over Eddie Gray of Roanoke in the seventh round.

Oxford To Send Boxers.

Oxford University is sending its 10 best boxers to the United States in March to meet Yale's ring squad. In view of the feeling now prevalent in England that the nation's hopes of finding a real ring champion lie in the ranks of the student or the nobility the work of these Oxford mitt flingers will be watched by American experts.

British sportsmen have had the feeling for some time that the exclusive clubs could produce a heavyweight, for instance, worthy of consideration were he convinced that it was his duty to attempt to restore England's name in the ring.

STRANGLER LEWIS LOSES TITLE

They Were to "Make" the Reds Now They're Trading Material

Two or three years ago Louis Fonseca and Jimmy Caveney joined the Cincinnati Reds, young stars from the minors, destined to fill "gaping holes" in the Cinci infield. Now they are being used by the Red bosses as trading material in the hope of strengthening the team, which still lacks the fire wanted.

Sent to Hospital By Big Munn After Thrilling Battle

Twenty-seven Year Old Nebraskan, Former College Grid Star, Today is World's Mat Champ; Foe on Back With Two Fractured Vertebrae.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, may never wrestle again as a result of injuries received last night when he lost his title to Wayne "Big" Munn, former University of Nebraska football star.

Dr. Terry E. Lilly, who was with Lewis at St. Luke's hospital until 4 o'clock this morning said that the former champion has probably fractured two vertebrae at the base of the spine. Dr. Lilly said he would not make a definite statement as to Lewis' injuries until he had further examined the wrestler later this morning. He based his first statement on a hurried examination of X-ray pictures taken last night.

In a contest filled with more thrills than any title match in years, the 27 year old Nebraskan took the title from Lewis last night, despite claims of Lewis' manager that the "Strangler" should have been awarded the match when his opponent tossed the former champion out of the ring onto the cement floor after the first fall. Lewis is in a hospital today with a sprained back.

Dazed and evidently injured by the fall, Lewis was taken to his dressing room and it was a half hour before he was able to resume the match. He was then virtually helpless before the towering Nebraskan and Munn threw him with ease.

Munn took the first fall with a body and crotch hold. It kept Lewis groaning on the mat for several seconds and he retired for twenty minutes afterward.

Two minutes after they were in the ring for the second time, Munn picked the champion up, lifted him over the ropes and sent him crashing to the mat from which Lewis rolled on the cement floor.

The crowd, thoroughly partisan, hooted Lewis, although they knew he was hurt.

WEST VIRGINIA HOLDS RESPECT FOR ALLEGHENY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 9—West Virginia University cagers at work here have a genuine respect for the Allegheny College quint which plays on the "Ark" court Saturday evening. Instead of showing the confidence of a championship team the title-holding Mountaineers are letting it be known that they expect trouble.

As a general rule Allegheny is usually strong in basketball. West Virginia's 49-28 and 31-21 victories last winter were surprising to Mountaineer fans who remembered that Allegheny had little trouble winning previous engagements. Many have not forgetten that the team from Meadville won 21-5 in 1904 and 44-5 in 1905; that the 1906 game went to the Pennsylvanians 32-21, the 1908 by a 27-18 score and the 1918 by 21-20. They know that West Virginia's 43-35 triumph in 1919, the first earned by a Mountaineer quint over Allegheny, was followed by other reverses and that the tide did not subside until a year ago when the seasoned Stadsvold-coached crew earned two victories.

Allegheny's talented coach, C. D. Baker, is bringing a veteran team to Morgantown for Saturday's game. Four of the five—Ross and McClurg, forward; Captain Judd, center; and Wolfe, guard—were regulars last winter. The fifth member of the team, Rhodes, formerly a guard at Ben Avon, Pa., High, was a first string substitute in 1924.

Captain Judd is undoubtedly the leading center of the district. Fay, of Grove City; Thomas, of Washington and Jefferson; and Captain Roy Hawley, of West Virginia, in the opinion of many well-informed persons, are just a step behind the Allegheny leader. Judd is also a star in football and played regularly at end through four full seasons. He is a natural athlete and due to have a good year on the court. The team he heads is the best Allegheny has had in recent campaigns and one fully capable of dethroning the Mountaineers.

LEAGUE CLASH IS POSTPONED

Action Taken as Result of Death of Chester Pastor.

As a result of the death of Rev. H. O. MacDonald of the Chester Presbyterian church, the Sunday School league contest scheduled to be played last night on the First M. P. church floor between the First Christian nad the Chester First Presbyterian teams was postponed.

An exhibition game was played between the First Christian passers and the All Stars, the Christians winning by the score of 20 to 18.

Lindell took down scoring honors for the Christian Juniors, while Dickey was the big noise in the scoring line for the United Presbyterian Juniors. Lineup and summary.

1st. Christian Jrs.		1st M. P. Jrs.
Lindell	F.	Skidmore
Gregg	F.	Dickey
Clark	C.	Laughlin
Wotring	G.	Donovan
Smith	G.	Davidson

Substitutions—Earl for Smith, Johnson for Donovan.

Field goals—Lindell 4, Clark 3, Wotring, Dickey 4, Skidmore.

Referee—Kimes.

Don't Remember.

President John A. Heydler of the National league has warned George Kelly of the Giants and Sam Bohne of the Reds that they will be liable to suspension if they play on the same basketball team with Jimmy O'Connell, barred from baseball as an outgrowth of his attempt to bribe Heinie Sands. Has any action been taken against those who are associating with Cozy Dolan's poor memory?

May Succeed Folwell.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 9.—William Ingram, Annapolis graduate and present coach at the University of Indiana, was in conference with athletic officials at the naval academy today over the possibility of his succeeding Bob Folwell as head football coach there. Ingram has been coach at Indiana for two years.

The Goose Punch is Mightier Than Goose Step, Says German Boxer

Tired of 'Champ' Stuff In Gotham Rings, Fans Await "Real" Fighters

By SID MERCER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Local boxing has become so encrusted with the old championship hokum lately that it is a distinct relief to chronicle the fact that no titles are involved in tonight's fisticuffing at Madison Square garden. It really looks as if there would be some fights this evening.

After some of the alleged title tilts that have been inflicted on the populace lately, it is pertinent to inquire at any box office:

"Is this a championship match, or will there be some fighting?"

There will be no "applesauce" about the three ten round specials at the garden tonight. The principals are all well known, but they claim no titles.

Topping the card are Jack Bernstein and Tommy O'Brien. The other two numbers will show four good youngsters in the bantamweight division. The semi-final will feature Harold Smith of Chicago and Jackie Snyder of Brooklyn. Nat Pincus, a graduate from the six round class, goes over the longer route with Bushey Graham.

Here are three findings that should all be good. Anytime you put ambitious youths up against each other they fight.

Smith is making a belated appearance at the Garden. He made his debut there a year ago last October and defeated Danny Lee, then a leading bantamweight contender. Smith pleased the customers with his unique style and was signed for other fights. Then he developed a bad knee and sid up for eight months. He has made a fresh start and with five fights under his belt is ready once more to bid for metropolitan favor.

Jackie Snyder is no set-up for Smith. Snyder defeated all comers until he bumped into Cannonball Martin last summer and even then he went the route. He had never been floored until Bushey Graham turned the trick at the Queensboro club. Snyder has been resting up and should be good tonight.

Graham is substituting for Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute flash, against Pincus. He took the engagement on short notice and arrived from Utica only yesterday. Bushey has a pleasing style that is distinctly his own. He is a blooming bounder, but when he drops his arches he can hit.

Nurmi Rejects Offers From Movie Companies

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Paavo Nurmi went back into light training today for his next appearance, in the municipal games at Madison Square Garden January 15. He refuses to be made a hero as the result of his record smashing indoor debut here. Offers from a motion picture company which wished to make slow motion pictures of the famous runner in action, and from a sculptor who wanted him to pose, were refused.

Schedule Meeting of National Next Month

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—The spring schedule meeting of the National league will be in the Waldorf Astoria hotel here on February 2, President John Heydler announced today. The meeting will follow a Golden Jubilee banquet at noon in the Grand Central hotel, where the league was organized fifty years ago.

Runyon Says

Mr. Villipigue is built that way.

He never misses a fight at Madison Square Garden. You can always see him in the front row. Not far from him will be John Ringling, the circus man, chewing on a cigar, his attire most resplendent.

Bernard Gimbel, of the famous New York and Philadelphia house of Gimbel Brothers, is another great boxing enthusiast.

He generally arrives at the Garden with a party of friends. Mr. Gimbel, a thorough sportsman, is a keen student of boxing. He knows the game far better than the average layman and is quite familiar with the ability of the different boxers.

Tex Rickard, the pugilistic promoter, gauges public interest in his promotions by the demand for tickets from business men of the type of Mr. Gambel.

If they are buying, Rickard knows he will have a big house. If no purchases come from that general quarter, he knows his attendance will be ordinary.

The Roosevelts, Theodore, Archie, Kermit, are boxing fans. Their distinguished father was a noted patron of the game in the days when it didn't have any too many friends.

Mrs. Ray T. Baker, who was with Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, has taken her two young sons to a couple of shows at Madison Square Garden recently, notably the Gibbons-Norfolk fight. She seems as much interested as her boys when the fighting is in progress.

Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, and Peter Finley Dunne—"Mr. Dooley"—are never far from the front row at the important Garden shows, or in the outdoor arenas.

Harrison Fisher is more of a baseball fan than he is a "ringworm," although he rarely misses a boxing bout. He is quite partial to the amateurs. You nearly always find him at the big tournaments, his leonine head resting on one hand, the other fingering a cigarette, as he watches the youngsters.

But his favorite professional sport is baseball, his favorite baseball team the Yankees. He followed them down from the old Hilltop grounds on Washington Heights to the Polo Grounds, thence across the Harlem river into the Bronx.

How Long Will We Wait?

In handing down its decision on the Chicago drainage canal case the United States supreme court criticized Kenesaw Mountain Landis for the delay, while justice of the United States superior court in Illinois, in handling the same case. Landis, the opinion of the court said, kept the case in abeyance six years before handing down an oral opinion.

In view of this speed shown in that matter how long must the baseball public expect to wait for some action against the higher-ups in the O'Connell-Dolan bribe scandal?

Completes His Work.

When Galli Curci made her debut in London in October the rush for seats was so great that $5 tickets brought $25.

WIT AND HUMOR FROM ITALY

More axioms of the Italians make up today's installment (No. 13) of this series of presentations of the proverbs of the various peoples:

Of two cowards the one who finds the other out first has the advantage.

Poverty is a blessing hated by all men.

We generally need someone to show us things that should be apparent to all.

Alas! that of human appetites love alone is insatiable.

Much does he gain who learns when he loses.

He conquers who endures.

He who makes a bad marriage never escapes from his troubles.

She will love tomorrow who loved not yesterday.

He who never boasts is esteemed at a third more than his value, if he is worth anything.

He who shows himself a sheep the wolf will eat.

The drowning man will always scream, though there be none to hear him.

Who flies from danger, escapes a hundred.

He who builds upon the people builds upon mud.

He who can commands, and he who will obeys.

Not to believe the truth is the worst of all ills.

Worse than a mute is he who does not speak clearly.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — Contagious or reportable diseases caused 128 deaths in Belmont county during the past year. Of the 3,445 children given the Schick diphtheria test, 1,820 proved positives. The tax duplicate was increased $3,700,000 to a total of $111,600,000, the largest in the history of the county. Tax values on autos increased $800,000 to a total of $2,711,090. An increase of 1,000 canines in the county is indicated by the sale of 8,196 dog licenses. The principal dry law court, that of Mayor Davies at St. Clairsville, collected $60,045 in fines—a record. Of this amount, $22,000 went to officers of a league organized to make raids and prosecute booze law violators.

After months of suffering

Baby's skin trouble healed in one week

South Hills, Pittsburg, Pa., March 22:—"I certainly bless the day I started to use Resinol Soap and Ointment. I tried for four or five months to cure my baby of a skin and scalp trouble—tried nearly everything—but nothing did any good. Finally, a neighbor recommended Resinol and after using the soap and ointment on baby for three days, all the scabs fell off and in one week's time the trouble was entirely cured. I will never be without them. My husband uses the Resinol Shaving Stick—he thinks it's the best he ever used." (Signed) Mrs. J. J. Baumgarten, Box #50—R. D. #9.

YOUNGSTOWN MAN EXECUTED

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S DEMANDS FOR ECONOMY HEEDED BY COMMITTEE

House Members on Naval Affairs Decide to Halt Efforts Despite Secretary Wilbur's Admission That United States Navy is Below Ratio Prescribed by Arms Conference.

NATION'S EXECUTIVE CONSIDERS PRICE TOO HIGH FOR EQUALITY

White House and Cabinet, Convinced America Must Play Leading Role in Next Arms Parley, Believe it Would be Inadvisable to Begin Building More Warships.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Acceding to President Coolidge's demands for economy and despite Secretary Wilbur's official admission of the weakness of the United States navy, and the revelation that the British now outstrip the American navy in ships, gun range and speed, the house naval affairs committee today abandoned—for the present session of congress—all efforts at remedial naval legislation.

The policy of the committee was decided upon when Representative Fred Britten, Republican of Illinois, who compelled the appearance of Wilbur before the committee yesterday for testimony with respect to the deficiencies of the American navy, announced that he would not press his demands for new legislation at this time.

Britten announced, however, that at the next session of congress he would again demand the improvements which he has been seeking.

President Coolidge considers the price too high to pay for mere equality—at a time when war with Great Britain, is in the administration's opinion, unthinkable. To the insistence of the bigger navy spokesmen, the administration retort is:

"Are we going to war with Great Britain?"

The president is convinced as are members of his cabinet, particularly Secretary of State Hughes, that the United States must play a leading role in the next arms conference.

Reasons For Opposition.

President Coolidge's opposition to naval expenditures at this time is based on three major premises:

1—He is opposed to spending the money at a time when efforts are being made to reduce taxes, inasmuch as the expenditures would seriously interfere with this program of drastic economy.

2—He is convinced that within another year there will be held either here or abroad another arms conference which will accomplish reduction in the world's navies.

3—He is unwilling to have the United States even appear to be starting competitive arming.

It will take approximately $2,000,000 expended over a period of 20 years, to put the navy on a paarity with Great Britain and keep it there. This is the estimate of the general board of the navy.

Slap for Airplane.

The airplane, as a big factor in national preparedness, is about to receive another slap at the hands of the navy general board. Within a few weeks the general board will make public the findings of its investigation into the relative value of auxiliary naval craft, and the tenor of its report will be that the battleship is still the backbone of the fleet. Aircraft will be relegated to a secondary and purely auxiliary position, despite the bombing tests which showed that dreadnaughts can be sunk by aerial attack, and despite the assertions of flying experts that they "can sink any battleship afloat."

Bitter Winter in Arabia.

BEIRUT, Arabia, Jan. 9.—Arabia is experiencing one of the most unusual winters in many years. Cold is intense and the desert between Gardad and Palmyra was under ten inches of snow today.

Berlin to Submit Draft of Economic Clause for Treaty

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Germany will submit to France new economic clauses to take the place of those in the Versailles' treaty, which expire tomorrow, it was announced today by the foreign office.

Chairman Trendelenburg of the German commercial negotiations committee was enroute today from Berlin with a "conciliatory" note, the foreign office said. Paris newspapers declared the German attitude was "unrelenting" toward a new agreement.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9—To defending Richard A. Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., $130,000.

This is the bill, bearing the initial stamp of approval of the Chicago Bar association, which was ready today for presentation to the families of the youthful slayers of Bobby Franks.

The amount, at one time reported fixed at $150,000, was definitely decided upon at a conference of defense attorneys Clarence Darrow, Walter and Benjamin Bachrach, and a bar association committee.

"The responsibility of the case, the questions involved and the sentence—life and 99 years—warrant such a price," the bar association statement reads.

It was reported today that Darrow was to receive the lion's share, possibly as high as $100,000.

Chicago Boy Again Is Snatched From Hangman's Noose

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Once more Bernard Grant, gray-haired youth in jail here, has been snatched from the gallows.

And a new hope was born in the boy's heart today when, after Gov. Len Small again granted a 90 days' stay of execution which was scheduled for Jan. 16, the boy's attorney announced they had chances of having the death sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

The reprieve is due to the delay of the supreme court in deciding the fate of Walter Krauser, convicted with Grant in connection with the murder of Policeman Ralph Souders.

PLAN TO SPEED WORK ON 'SHORT ROUTE' HIGHWAY

HOAG VISITOR

Pennsylvania Legislature Will Appropriate $50,000,000.

Hopes for the early competition of the proposed "short route" road to Pittsburgh, via Chester and the Southside of the Smoky City, were expressed today by district good roads boosters following a visit here of G. S. Hoag, vice president and field representative of the Lincoln Highway association, of Detroit.

The Pennsylvania legislature, at its present session, will appropriate $50,000,000 for road construction in the Keystone state. This money will be matched by the counties affording $100,000,000 for improved highways during the coming year.

The Pennsylvania department of highways, according to men in close touch with the situation, is friendly to the plan of improving the highway through the southern part of Beaver county which will link East Liverpool with Pittsburgh. As soon as this improvement is completed, the Lincoln highway detour through Alliance, Salem, East Palestine, Beaver Falls, Rochester and thence into Pittsburgh will be abandoned and traffic routed through East Liverpool, which is on the official route.

37-Mile Route.

Mr. Hoag came to East Liverpool last Sunday morning and in company with G. A. Arner, Robert L. Parker and John Newell of Chester drove over the proposed route from Chester. The route, which was recently

Dr. George E. Lewis Succeeds Olen H. Dawson.

One Hundred Members and Friends Attend Dinner.

Retiring and newly elected officers of the Kiwanis club were jointly honored at a dinner held in the Masonic temple, First street, Chester, at 6:30 o'clock last evening, when Dr. George E. Lewis, the new president, and his co-workers were installed.

Approximately 100 Kiwanians and their friends attended. Dinner was served by Caterer Daily Larkins of East Liverpool. The spacious banquet room was attractively decorated for the occasion. Past District Governor R. C. Heddleston presided as toastmaster.

The address of welcome was delivered by Joseph N. Finley of Chester, the response being made by Mr. Heddleston. Musical numbers were rendered by the club's "Merry Makers," directed by Dr. Clyde Larkins. The chorus consisted of H. F. Laughlin, J. O. Heddleston, Wilbur Glenn, John Golden, J. A. Anderson, Cyril Taylor, Kurt Bergner, Robert Laughlin, W. A. Hobbs and Olen Dawson. The songsters were greeted with a shower of confetti, released from the ceiling above them, when they responded to an encore number.

L. M. Kyes' Address

Attorney L. M. Kyes, East Palestine, lieutenant-governor of the Sixth division in the Ohio Kiwanis organization, was the only out-of-town speaker. "We owe a debt of gratitude to the East Liverpool club for the service it rendered in organizing our club at East Palestine, a few years ago," said Mr. Kyes. 'Before our club was formed, our community was divided on all questions; there were three or four factions, each pulling against the other, thus resulting in continuous warfare. But it didn't take long after the club was launched for everyone to forget their past differences and work together. The sole trouble was that we didn't know each other.

"Kiwanis is the exercise of the Golden rule. Service is our watchword. Unless we are doing something that

American Observer And Herriot Confer On U. S. War Claims

PARIS, Jan. 9.—A conference on America's war claims was held today by Colonel James A. Logan, American observer on the reparations commission, and Premier Herriot of France.

Following the conference Colonel Logan informed United States Ambassadors Herrick and Kellogg of the progress of his "unofficial conversations."

Further informal conversations between Finance Minister Clementel and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill of England were postponed until later because Clementel and French experts were closeted with Herriot planning the French program for the remainder of the session.

Law Permits Four Officers For County Road Patrol Work

Officials Quote General Code Relative to Appointment of Deputy Sheriffs to Enforce Traffic Regulations.

Columbiana county is entitled to four deputy sheriffs for highway patrol duty under the provisions of section 7251-1 of the General Code, county officials said.

The law says:

"In those counties having 40 miles or more of improved inter-county or main market roads the sheriff of each county shall and in all other counties detail one or more deputies for the work of enforcing the provisions of this act; and the county commissioners of each county shall appropriate such amount of money annually, from the road fund of such county as shall be necessary to equip and to compensate such deputy or deputies for services rendered hereunder.

"The road superintendents and assistant road superintendents of the state highway department and patrolmen of the county highways may be deputized by the sheriffs of the counties in which they are employed, as deputy sheriffs, but shall receive no extra compensation."

169,420 Miles of Highway.

Records of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk's office disclose that Columbiana county now has 169,420 miles of improved road, and only six miles of this number are under construction. This mileage will be completed this year.

State roads completed 72.262 miles; County, 37,796; County and Township, 52,741; Under construction, 6.621; total, 169,420.

On the basis of one deputy sheriff to patrol 40 miles of improved inter-county and main market roads, the law gives this county permission to employ and equip four deputy sheriffs to enforce the road and automobile laws.

WIFE OF POVERTY DAYS, FORGOTTEN IN WEALTH, CLAIMS SWINDLER'S BODY

Leo Koretz, Bayano Oil Bubble Promoter, Who Fled With $2,000,000, Dies in Joliet Penitentiary After Serving 34 Days.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9—Mrs. Mae Koretz, the wife of poverty days, forgotten by Leo Koretz, Bayano oil bubble swindler, when he fled from Chicago with $2,000,000, made arrangements today to take the body of her husband from Joliet penitentiary.

For Koretz has been released after serving 34 days of his ten years' sentence. He heard the "Last Call" last night with only Night Captain Michael Leonard watching by his side. Diabetes was the cause of death.

During the day two brothers, Emil and Adolph Koretz, had looked in on Leo, but, told that he was unconscious and probably never would recognize anyone again, they tip-toed out. They were in the Warden's office when the end came, and with them was Mentor Koretz, young son of the swindler, but he had not seen his father.

Mrs. Koretz, the widow, received her first word of his death at Joliet.

"I'm sorry," she said today. "If I had known that Leo was in such a critical condition I would have been down before. I would have liked to have told him goodbye."

The information was filed by Mrs. Lucy Auner, administrator of the estate of Joseph Auner, Second street restaurant keeper, who charged him with refusing to pay an $18 board bill.

Pleasding guilty to the charge when arraigned before Justice P. V. Mackall, Zimmerman was fined $50 and costs, the fine being suspended upon condition that he settle the board bill and pay the costs in the case.

Dry Agents' Death Rate Higher Than Army's in Wartime

JOSEPH C. KANE PAYS PENALTY FOR ATROCIOUS MURDER OF BOY

One Application of Electricity; Dies 30 Seconds Later.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 9—Electrocution of Joseph C. Kane, Youngstown, as decreed under Ohio law, took place at the penitentiary here early today. Kane was pronounced dead at 1:06 a. m. He was convicted of murdering Paul Prologo, 8, Youngstown, on February 13 last. The body was shipped to Youngstown.

Facial Features Firmly Set.

Kane displayed no emotion whatever in the death chamber and did not utter a word. With facial features firmly set, he walked to the death chair accompanied by his spiritual adviser. But one application of electricity was made, Kane dying about 20 seconds after being strapped in the chair.

Widespread attention was directed to Kane's case not only by reason of the atrociousness of the crime he was convicted of having committed, but of the unusual manner in which he obtained a reprieve a few days ago at the hands of Governor Donahey.

Kane was received at the penitentiary March 13, last, and was sentenced to die on July 11. Pending appeal from the death sentence, Kane was granted an indefinite stay of execution by the Mahoning county appellate court, the date of electrocution, later, being fixed for Dec. 20.

Mix-up of Names Wins Reprieve.

A mix-up of names saved Kane from electrocution two hours before he was to have died on December 20. Chief Justice Marshall, of the state supreme court, reading the newspapers on the afternoon of December 19, noted an account of preparations being made

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 9.—Fourteen persons, mostly women and children of the families of Joseph White and Joseph Delfre, were trapped on the second floor of a burning building here today and forced to jump to the ground. All were asleep when the blaze was first discovered. It had gained considerable headway at that time.

Two men were seen running from the building shortly before the fire was discovered and it is thought by police and firemen that they started the blaze. Loss was estimated at $4,500. No one was injured.

Farm Group In State Legislature Endorses Gasoline Tax, Highway Police And Budget System

COLUMBUS, Jan. 9.—A gasoline tax, state highway police, amendment of the state constitution limiting indebtedness of all the political subdivisions of the state and operation of the budget system in all taxing units are features of the legislative program endorsed by the farm group in the state legislature, rural legislators declared today.

The farm group, better known as the "Cornstalk Club," is opposed to the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution, claiming such a law would interfere with the peformance of chores on farms by children and would prevent minors from performing other emergency work in saving crops from disaster. A number of the more conservative rural legislators characterize the proposed amendment as "a move toward radicalism."

No Farm Legislation Sought.

Rural legislators voice the belief that no special legislation, designed to relieve conditions on the farms, is sought at the hands of the state legislature. They expressed the opinion that the situation in the rural districts cannot be attributed to any cause, or causes, which may be remedied by means of statutory enactment. With a view to the improvement of the state's highway, rural legislators will seek the passage of a law providing for a state highway council of experts whose duty it would be to make surveys to determine needed road improvements, the experts recommending the type of improvement to be made. An object of the proposed council, it was pointed out, is that of economical expenditure of state funds.

The farm group, it was said, wants a highway police system to protect life and property not only on the highways but on the farms. The proposed budget law would require municipalities, villages, townships and school districts to prepare a schedule of the appropriation of funds to meet operating expenses of these various political subdivisions.

Oppose Auto License Boost

The farmers favor the proposed gasoline tax as a source of revenue for the upkeep of the highways throughout the state. They prefer this tax rather than to increase the state's auto license taxes or to place an additional tax burden upon owners of property abutting roads proposed to be improved. They also object to obtaining more funds for highway purposes through general taxation.

Farmers claim their properties are being taxed to the limit, while highways are being seriously damaged by motor trucks, busses and autos, including those operated by residents of other states who contribute nothing toward the upkeep of Ohio's highway system, the rural legislators, it was said, favor a tax of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold to autoists.

Under existing law, Ohio school districts, unable to suport themselves by taxation, receive some financial aid from the state treasury. As a result, it is charged, in some school districts there has been extravagant expenditure of money for school buildings and for high salaried instructors. Financially impoverished, officials of these districts have appealed to the state government for a portion of the money apportioned to "weak" districts. The farm crop, it was stated, seek legislation that will eliminate this situation, and at the same time, insure adequate financial relief for really deserving cases.

Favor School Building Commission.

The rural legislators also favor appointment of a state commission to which would be submitted for approval or rejection plans for all proposed school buildings. It is believed public expenditures would be thus conserved, the commission basing its recommendations upon the tax duplicate, population and needs of the community affected.

YOUNGSTOWN MAN EXECUTED

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S DEMANDS FOR ECONOMY HEEDED BY COMMITTEE

House Members on Naval Affairs Decide to Halt Efforts Despite Secretary Wilbur's Admission That United States Navy is Below Ratio Prescribed by Arms Conference.

NATION'S EXECUTIVE CONSIDERS PRICE TOO HIGH FOR EQUALITY

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Acceding to President Coolidge's demands for economy and despite Secretary Wilbur's official admission of the weakness of the United States navy, and the revelation that the British now outstripe the American navy in ships, gun range and speed, the house naval affairs committee today abandoned—for the present session of congress—all efforts at remedial naval legislation.

The policy of the committee was decided upon when Representative Fred Britten, Republican of Illinois, who compelled the appearance of Wilbur before the committee yesterday for testimony with respect to the deficiencies of the American navy, announced that he would not press his demands for new legislation at this time.

Britten announced, however, that in the next session of congress he would again demand the improvements which he has been seeking.

President Coolidge considers the price too high to pay for mere equality—at a time when war with Great Britain, is in the administration's opinion, unthinkable. To the insistence of the bigger navy spokesmen, the administration retort is:

"Are we going to war with Great Britain?"

The president is convinced as are members of his cabinet, particularly Secretary of State Hughes, that the United States must play a leading role in the next arms conference.

Reasons For Opposition.

President Coolidge's opposition to naval expenditures at this time is based on three major premises:

1—He is opposed to spending the money at a time when efforts are being made to reduce taxes, inasmuch as the expenditures would seriously interfere with this program of drastic economy.

2—He is convinced that within another year there will be held either here or abroad another arms conference which will accomplish reduction in the world's navies.

3—He is unwilling to have the United States even appear to be starting competitive arming.

It will take approximately $2,000,000 expended over a period of 20 years, to put the navy on a paarity with Great Britain and keep it there. This is the estimate of the general board of the navy.

Slap for Airplane.

The airplane, as a big factor in national preparedness, is about to receive another slap at the hands of the navy general board. Within a few weeks the general board will make public the findings of its investigation into the relative value of auxiliary naval craft, and the tenor of its report will be that the battleship is still the backbone of the fleet. Aircraft will be relegated to a secondary and purely auxiliary position, despite the bombing tests which showed that dreadnaughts can be sunk by aerial attack, and despite the assertions of flying experts that they "can sink any battleship afloat."

Bitter Winter in Arabia.

BEIRUT, Arabia, Jan. 9.—Arabia is experiencing one of the most unusual winters in many years. Cold is intense and the desert between Gardad and Palmyra was under ten inches of snow today.

Berlin to Submit Draft of Economic Clause for Treaty

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Germany will submit to France new economic clauses to take the place of those in the Versailles' treaty, which expire tomorrow, it was announced today by the foreign office.

Chairman Trendelenburg of the German commercial negotiations committee was enroute today from Berlin with a "conciliatory" note, the foreign office said. Paris newspapers declared the German attitude was "unrelenting" toward a new agreement.

This is the bill, bearing the initial stamp of approval of the Chicago Bar association, which was ready today for presentation to the families of the youthful slayers of Bobby Franks.

The amount, at one time reported fixed at $150,000, was definitely decided upon at a conference of defense attorneys Clarence Darrow, Walter and Benjamin Bachrach, and a bar association committee.

"The responsibility of the case, the questions involved and the sentence—life and 99 years—warrant such a price," the bar association statement reads.

It was reported today that Darrow was to receive the lion's share, possibly as high as $100,000.

Chicago Boy Again Is Snatched From Hangman's Noose

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Once more Bernard Grant, gray-haired youth in jail here, has been snatched from the gallows.

And a new hope was born in the boy's heart today when, after Gov. Len Small again granted a 90 days' stay of execution which was scheduled for Jan. 16, the boy's attorney announced they had chances of having the death sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

The reprieve is due to the delay of the supreme court in deciding the fate of Walter Krauser, convicted with Grant in connection with the murder of Policeman Ralph Souders.

PLAN TO SPEED WORK ON 'SHORT ROUTE' HIGHWAY

HOAG VISITOR

Pennsylvania Legislature Will Appropriate $50,000,000.

Hopes for the early completion of the proposed "short route" road to Pittsburgh, via Chester and the Southside of the Smoky City, were expressed today by district good roads boosters following a visit here of G. S. Hoag, vice president and field representative of the Lincoln Highway association, of Detroit.

The Pennsylvania legislature, at its present session, will appropriate $50,000,000 for road construction in the Keystone state. This money will be matched by the counties affording $100,000,000 for improved highways during the coming year.

The Pennsylvania department of highways, according to men in close touch with the situation, is friendly to the plan of improving the highway through the southern part of Beaver county which will link East Liverpool with Pittsburgh. As soon as this improvement is completed, the Lincoln highway detour through Alliance, Salem, East Palestine, Beaver Falls, Rochester and thence into Pittsburgh will be abandoned and traffic routed through East Liverpool, which is on the official route.

37-Mile Route.

Mr. Hoag came to East Liverpool last Sunday morning and in company with G. A. Arner, Robert L. Parker and John Newell of Chester drove over the proposed route from Chester. The route, which was recently

Dr. George E. Lewis Succeeds Olen H. Dawson.

One Hundred Members and Friends Attend Dinner.

Retiring and newly elected officers of the Kiwanis club were jointly honored at a dinner held in the Masonic temple, First street, Chester, at 6:30 o'clock last evening, when Dr. George E. Lewis, the new president, and his co-workers were installed.

Approximately 100 Kiwanians and their friends attended. Dinner was served by Caterer Daily Larkins of East Liverpool. The spacious banquet room was attractively decorated for the occasion. Past District Governor R. C. Heddleston presided as toastmaster.

The address of welcome was delivered by Joseph N. Finley of Chester, the response being made by Mr. Heddleston. Musical numbers were rendered by the club's "Merry Makers," directed by Dr. Clyde Larkins. The chorus consisted of H. F. Laughlin, J. O. Heddleston, Wilbur Glenn, John Golden, J. A. Anderson, Cyril Taylor, Kurt Bergner, Robert Laughlin, W. A. Hobbs and Olen Dawson. The songsters were greeted with a shower of confetti, released from the ceiling above them, when they responded to an encore number.

L. M. Kyes' Address

Attorney L. M. Kyes, East Palestine, lieutenant-governor of the Sixth division in the Ohio Kiwanis organization, was the only out-of-town speaker. "We owe a debt of gratitude to the East Liverpool club for the service it rendered in organizing our club at East Palestine, a few years ago," said Mr. Kyes. "Before our club was formed, our community was divided on all questions; there were three or four factions, each pulling against the other, thus resulting in continuous warfare. But it didn't take long after the club was launched for everyone to forget their past differences and work together. The sole trouble was that we didn't know each other.

"Kiwanis is the exercise of the Golden rule. Service is our watchword. Unless we are doing something that

American Observer And Herriot Confer On U. S. War Claims

PARIS, Jan. 9—A conference on America's war claims was held today by Colonel James A. Logan, American observer on the reparations commission, and Premier Herriot of France.

Further informal conversations between Finance Minister Clementel and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill of England were postponed until later because Clementel and French experts were closeted with Herriot planning the French program for the remainder of the session.

Law Permits Four Officers For County Road Patrol Work

Officials Quote General Code Relative to Appointment of Deputy Sheriffs to Enforce Traffic Regulations.

Columbiana county is entitled to four deputy sheriffs for highway patrol duty under the provisions of section 7251-1 of the General Code, county officials said.

The law says:

"In those counties having 40 miles or more of improved inter-county or main market roads the sheriff of each county shall and in all other counties detail one or more deputies for the work of enforcing the provisions of this act; and the county commissioners of each county shall appropriate such amount of money annually, from the road fund of such county as shall be necessary to equip and to compensate such deputy or deputies for services rendered hereunder.

"The road superintendents and assistant road superintendents of the state highway department and patrolmen of the county highways may be deputized by the sheriffs of the counties in which they are employed, as deputy sheriffs, but shall receive no extra compensation."

169,420 Miles of Highway.

Records of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk's office disclose that Columbiana county now has 169,420 miles of improved road, and only six miles of this number are under construction. This mileage will be completed this year.

State roads completed 72.262 miles; County, 37,796; County and Township, 52,741; Under construction, 6.621; total, 169,420.

On the basis of one deputy sheriff to patrol 40 miles of improved inter-county and main market roads, the law gives this county permission to employ and equip four deputy sheriffs to enforce the road and automobile laws.

WIFE OF POVERTY DAYS, FORGOTTEN IN WEALTH, CLAIMS SWINDLER'S BODY

Leo Koretz, Bayano Oil Bubble Promoter, Who Fled With $2,000,000, Dies in Joliet Penitentiary After Serving 34 Days.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9—Mrs. Mae Koretz, the wife of poverty days, forgotten by Leo Koretz, Bayano oil bubble swindler, when he fled from Chicago with $2,000,000, made arrangements today to take the body of her husband from Joliet penitentiary.

For Koretz has been released after serving 34 days of his ten years' sentence. He heard the "Last Call" last night with only Night Captain Michael Leonard watching by his side. Diabetes was the cause of death.

During the day two brothers, Emil and Adolph Koretz, had looked in on Leo, but, told that he was unconscious and probably never would recognize anyone again, they tip-toed out. They were in the Warden's office when the end came, and with them was Mentor Koretz, young son of the swindler, but he had not seen his father.

Mrs. Koretz, the widow, received her first word of his death at Joliet.

"I'm sorry," she said today. "If I had known that Leo was in such a critical condition I would have been down before. I would have liked to have told him goodbye."

Dry Agents' Death Rate Higher Than Army's in Wartime

JOSEPH C. KANE PAYS PENALTY FOR ATROCIOUS MURDER OF BOY

COLUMBUS, Jan. 9—Electrocution of Joseph C. Kane, Youngstown, as decreed under Ohio law, took place at the penitentiary here early today. Kane was pronounced dead at 1:06 a. m. He was convicted of murdering Paul Prologo, 8, Youngstown, on February 13 last. The body was shipped to Youngstown.

Facial Features Firmly Set.

Kane displayed no emotion whatever in the death chamber and did not utter a word. With facial features firmly set, he walked to the death chair accompanied by his spiritual adviser. But one application of electricity was made, Kane dying about 30 seconds after being strapped in the chair.

Widespread attention was directed to Kane's case not only by reason of the atrociousness of the crime he was convicted of having committed, but of the unusual manner in which he obtained a reprieve a few days ago at the hands of Governor Donahey.

Kane was received at the penitentiary March 13, last, and was sentenced to die on July 11. Pending appeal from the death sentence, Kane was granted an indefinite stay of execution by the Mahoning county appellate court, the date of electrocution, later, being fixed for Dec. 20.

Mix-up of Names Wins Reprieve.

A mix-up of names saved Kane from electrocution two hours before he was to have died on December 20. Chief Justice Marshall, of the state supreme court, reading the newspapers on the afternoon of December 19, noted an account of preparations being made

14 Persons Forced To Jump as Fire Sweeps Building

All were asleep when the blaze was first discovered. It had gained considerable headway at that time.

Two men were seen running from the building shortly before the fire was discovered and it is thought by police and firemen that they started the blaze. Loss was estimated at $4,500. No one was injured.

Farm Group In State Legislature Endorses Gasoline Tax, Highway Police And Budget System

COLUMBUS, Jan. 9.—A gasoline tax, state highway police, amendment of the state constitution limiting indebtedness of all the political subdivisions of the state and operation of the budget system in all taxing units are features of the legislative program endorsed by the farm group in the state legislature, rural legislators declared today.

The farm group, better known as the "Cornstalk Club," is opposed to the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution, claiming such a law would interfere with the peformance of chores on farms by children and would prevent minors from performing other emergency work in saving crops from disaster. A number of the more conservative rural legislators characterize the proposed amendment as "a move toward radicalism."

No Farm Legislation Sought.

Rural legislators voice the belief that no special legislation, designed to relieve conditions on the farms, is sought at the hands of the state legislature. They expressed the opinion that the situation in the rural districts cannot be attributed to any cause, or causes, which may be remedied by means of statutory enactment. With a view to the improvement of the state's highway, rural legislators will seek the passage of a law providing for a state highway council of experts whose duty it would be to make surveys to determine needed road improvements, the experts recommending the type of improvement to be made. An object of the proposed council, it was pointed out, is that of economical expenditure of state funds.

The farm group, it was said, wants a highway police system to protect life and property not only on the highways but on the farms. The proposed budget law would require municipalities, villages, townships and school districts to prepare a schedule of the appropriation of funds to meet operating expenses of these various political subdivisions.

Oppose Auto License Boost

The farmers favor the proposed gasoline tax as a source of revenue for the upkeep of the highways throughout the state. They prefer this tax rather than to increase the state's auto license taxes or to place an additional tax burden upon owners of property abutting roads proposed to be improved. They also object to obtaining more funds for highway purposes through general taxation.

Farmers claim their properties are being taxed to the limit, while highways are being seriously damaged by motor trucks, busses and autos, including those operated by residents of other states who contribute nothing toward the upkeep of Ohio's highway system, the rural legislators, it was said, favor a tax of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold to autoists.

Under existing law, Ohio school districts, unable to suport themselves by taxation, receive some financial aid from the state treasury. As a result, it is charged, in some school districts there has been extravagant expenditure of money for school buildings and for high salaried instructors. Financially impoverished, officials of these districts have appealed to the state government for a portion of the money apportioned to "weak" districts. The farm crop, it was stated, seek legislation that will eliminate this situation, and at the same time, insure adequate financial relief for really deserving cases.

Favor School Building Commission.

The rural legislators also favor appointment of a state commission to which would be submitted for approval or rejection plans for all proposed school buildings. It is believed public expenditures would be thus conserved, the commission basing its recommendations upon the tax duplicate, population and needs of the community affected.

Cod Liver Oil in Sugar Coated Tablets For Puny Kids

Forget the nasty tasting, stomach upsetting cod liver oil and give the thin, puny, underdeveloped children McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets if you want to give them a good appetite and put pounds of good, healthy flesh on their bones.

Doctors know all about them and so does Anderson, Larkins, Carnahan and Mathews' Medicine store, and all good pharmacists all over America, for they are in great demand, because they are not laggards, but show results in a few days.

A very sickly child, age 9, gained 12 pounds in seven months and is strong and healthy.

George Creel's Visit

Secretary H. B. Barth's announcement that George Creel, of New York, chairman of the committee on public information in the United States during the World war, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce means reservations for the affair will be at a premium, for Creel is one of the best known men in the country.

Editor, author, publicist and humorist, a man who won his spurs on such newspapers as the Kansas City Independent, Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News, he attracted attention by his fight against political bossism and his advocacy of reforms, such as the initiative and referendum, mothers' compensation and eight-hour work day, which today are on the statute books of many states.

Creel frequently has refused political appointments. In 1917, by reason of his ability, he was named official censor of war-time news in the United States by Woodrow Wilson, and he served in this capacity until March, 1919. As chairman of the committee on public information he won an international reputation, for his duties brought him in contact with representatives of the allies as well as American leaders in the victorious campaign against Germany and her allies. He used the printed word, motion pictures, wireless, airplane and cable to drive home the reasons for Uncle Sam's participation in the war, to encourage the allies in their darkest hours and to shatter the morale of the enemy.

He should have an interesting message on "Current Events and Public Men," his topic for the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting on Wednesday evening, January 28.

Taxes and Benefactions

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, is worried by high taxes on the rich, because he thinks that is bad for American education. He complains that "the steady flow of unsolicited and most useful gifts to Columbia university, which has been so marked a feature of its history during the past quarter-century, already has been greatly diminished as a direct result of existing policies of taxation."

"If the ability to make private gifts and benefactions be destroyed by taxation," he says, "then these institutions begin to die."

Possibly the outlook is not so sad as Dr. Butler thinks. It is fine for great educational institutions to be supported by private gifts, but not imperative. There are many who hold that it would be better if colleges and universities were all supported by public funds, as the common schools and high schools are. High taxes would enable cities and states to do that, if they chose. We are already doing it in our state universities, and the country seems none the worse for it.

However, there doesn't seem to be much evidence of a general money famine among the higher institutions of learning. Never has money been given for education in such vast sums as at present. There are perfectly tenable objections to high taxes, but this doesn't seem to be one of them.

No Hair, Teeth or Toes

As evolutionary processes continue, man will lose many, if not all, of his teeth, says a professor of paleontology and geology. He will also lose some of his fingers and toes. He will become entirely bald. His head will heighten and broaden, enlarging the skull to make room for a bigger brain.

The reason for such changes, of course, is that teeth, toes, fingers and hair will no longer be necessary for their present purposes, and once they become thoroughly useless they will be discarded.

All of this causes the sensitive individual to cast apprehensive glances into the mirror. With our present standards of physical perfection and beauty, few of us look forward with pleasure to the possibility of being toothless, bald and shy a few digits.

There is no occasion for immediate alarm. These threatened changes will take some 40,000 to 75,000 years in the accomplishing, and it is likely that evolution will take care of our standards of beauty at the same time.

Haskin Letter

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

ETIQUETTE AS IT WAS AND IS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—While the modern American idea of correct manners is still a far cry from that of Beau Brummel, and despite the many attacks on the conduct of the modern youth, a desire to know and to do what is "good form" is becoming more general with the people of this country. This is evidenced by the sale of books on etiquette.

Until recent years it was considered by Mr. Average Citizen foppish or effeminate to attempt to follow the rules laid down by authors of books on etiquette. And in many cases he was perfectly right. The dictates of the etiquette arbiters were very often stilted and artificial.

It is more and more becoming understood that the rules of etiquette are simply those of courtesy and thoughtfulness. A man no longer holds a cigarette or cigar in his mouth while talking with a woman. This is not because he would be violating the laws of etiquette, but because he does not wish to show her discourtesy.

Judging from some of the earliest books on good behavior it is apparent that the fundamentals remain the same. In fact, the earlier volumes are not as filled with affectations as some published during the period between 1890 and 1900. Below are given some extracts from a book entitled, "Youths' Behavior, or Decency Amongst Men," published in England in 1663.

"Sing not within thy mouth, humming to thy self, unless thou be alone, in such sort as thou canst not be heard by others. Strike not up a drum with thy early date there were pests similar to those thy fingers, or thy feet." This shows that even at which all too often infest the modern movie theater, or other places of public entertainment.

Another particularly pertinent bit of advice which might be observed by many thoughtless persons who indulge themselves in peanuts or candies while viewing some especially tense motion picture is, "Rub not thy teeth or crash them, nor make anything crack in such manner what thou disquiet any body."

"It is an uncivil thing to stretch out thine arms at length, and writhe them hither and thither." From which it may be inferred that rythmic dancing had not attained its present vogue.

Everyone knows some one who could profit by the following: "In coughing, or sneezing, make not a great noise, if it be possible, and send not forth any sigh, in such wise that others observe thee, without great occasion."

AND WHEN IN CHURCH

And this to the restless and uneasy churchgoer: "Hearing thy Master, or likewise the preacher, wriggle not thy self, as seeming unable to contain thy self within thy skin, making shew thy self to be the knowing and sufficient person, to the mispriser of others."

For those who bite their nails the following is set forth: "Gnaw not thy nails in the presence of others, not bite them with thy teeth."

From the following one feels that the author must indeed have had a vision of the modern flapper:

"Neither shake thy head, feet or legs; rowl not thine eyes. Lift not one of thine eye-brows higher than thine other. Wry not thy mouth. Take heed that with thy spittle thou bedew not his face with whom thou speakest, and to that end approach not too nigh him."

"When thou sittest, put not undecently one leg upon the other, but keep them firm and settled; and joyn thy feet even, cross them not one upon the other."

"Take heed thou beest not a flatterer; for such as one shewet to have little opinion of the judgment of him whom he flattereth, holding him for a simple fellow. Play not with him, who takest no pleasure therein."

While many of the dictates laid down in this early volume still hold good, the progress of civilization and of modern invention has brought new problems. Some of the present everyday questions are: "When leaving a street car or bus does a man precede or follow a woman?" "Where should a woman sit in a motor or carriage having a driver?" "Should one always be announced when calling on a person living in an apartment house?" "When a person calls another on the telepnone who should terminate the conversation?" "When calling for a young lady to take her for a drive is it proper to blow the automobile horn to announce one's arrival?" Our forefathers had no need to struggle with such problems.

FASHIONS CHANGE

Then, of course, there are certain changing fashions in etiquette as in everything else. A few years ago a person who did not take his party call within ten days or two weeks was likely not to be included in the list of guests at the next party given by the hostess. Party calls are still considered the correct thing in many localities, but in the most fashionable society this custom is rapidly becoming passe.

Formerly it was customary for a young man who wished to propose marriage to a young woman to ask permission of her father to do so. The youth of today who did this would doubtless find that while he may have made a good impression on the father he in all probability had ruined his chances with the daughter. The modern girl prefers to be given an opportunity to make her decision before the matter is brought before her parents.

The maiden of olden days, according to fiction and history, was timid and shy, and when walking down the street clung to the arm of her escort. Today it is not considered good form for a young woman to take a man's arm in the daytime unless to cross a very crowded thoroughfare, or to be helped over a rough piece of road, or under other impeding circumstances. Most young girls would scorn to yield that much of their independence.

Chaperons are another passing institution. That is, the watchful middle-aged chaperon is disappearing. In the present day it is generally difficult to distinguish the chaperons from the rest of the party, since the duties of chaperonage are usually entrusted to young married couples who are no older than the other guests and who enter just as eagerly and heartily into the festivities. This is another sign of the independence and freedom of the present generation.

Other signs of changing times are the suggestions for parties. In a book published in 1903 we find the following:

"With the bicycle comes the bicycle tea. In the large cities these teas have been given for charity and have been great successes. But there is no reason why any girl may not give an attractive bicycle tea and make it very original. Sandwiches in the shape of tennis rackets, with an olive steak in the center for a ball, are among the novelties. Sandwiches in the shape of a wheel and a saddle might easily be cut. Bicycle lanterns, which resemble glow-worms, should furnish decoration. If possible, a bicycle tea should be given out of doors, where outing costumes would not be incongruous."

Who knows but that in 1948 suggestions for Mah Jongg or bridge parties may seem just as absurd?

DINNER STORIES

A captious traveler in northern Arkansas stopped by a fence to criticise a sear cornfield which met his disapproval. "Mighty small corn you have there!" he shouted to the man who was "superintending the growth" from a shady corner.

"Yes," said the Arkansan. "Planted the small kind."

"Looks mighty yellow to me for this time of year."

"Yes. Planted the yellow kind."

"Well," said the traveler, severely. "I can't understand your method of farming. You won't get over half a crop there."

"No," said the Arkansan, cheerfully. "You are shore a good guesser, stranger. Half a crop exactly, that's mine. I planted this on shares."

The student had been spending somewhat too freely, and was short. It was near the holidays and he hated to write home for money. As a last resort he pawned his dress suit.

When the time came to leave for home, the suit was still unredeemed. He hurriedly scraped up cash enough to bet it back, packed it in the grip and was off.

His mother was helping him unpack.

"Henry," she asked, "what is this ticket on your coat for?"

"Why, mother," he replied, "I went to a dance the other evening and had my coat checked.

She continued putting away his garments. Finally she lifted the trousers. They, too, were ticketed.

"Henry," she exclaimed, "what kind of a dance was that?"

"Jock," said he, "ye have given me a fine two weeks. I've slept in your bed, eaten your food, had good sport, and I'm grateful to ye. What do ye say to a drap whusky in the pub yonder?"

One college man was telling the other of his new girl.

"She's wonderful, Jack," he said, "in the first place she is the most beautiful thing I ever saw, and on the other hand—"

"On the other hand," finished Jack, who knew her," she has an engagement ring."

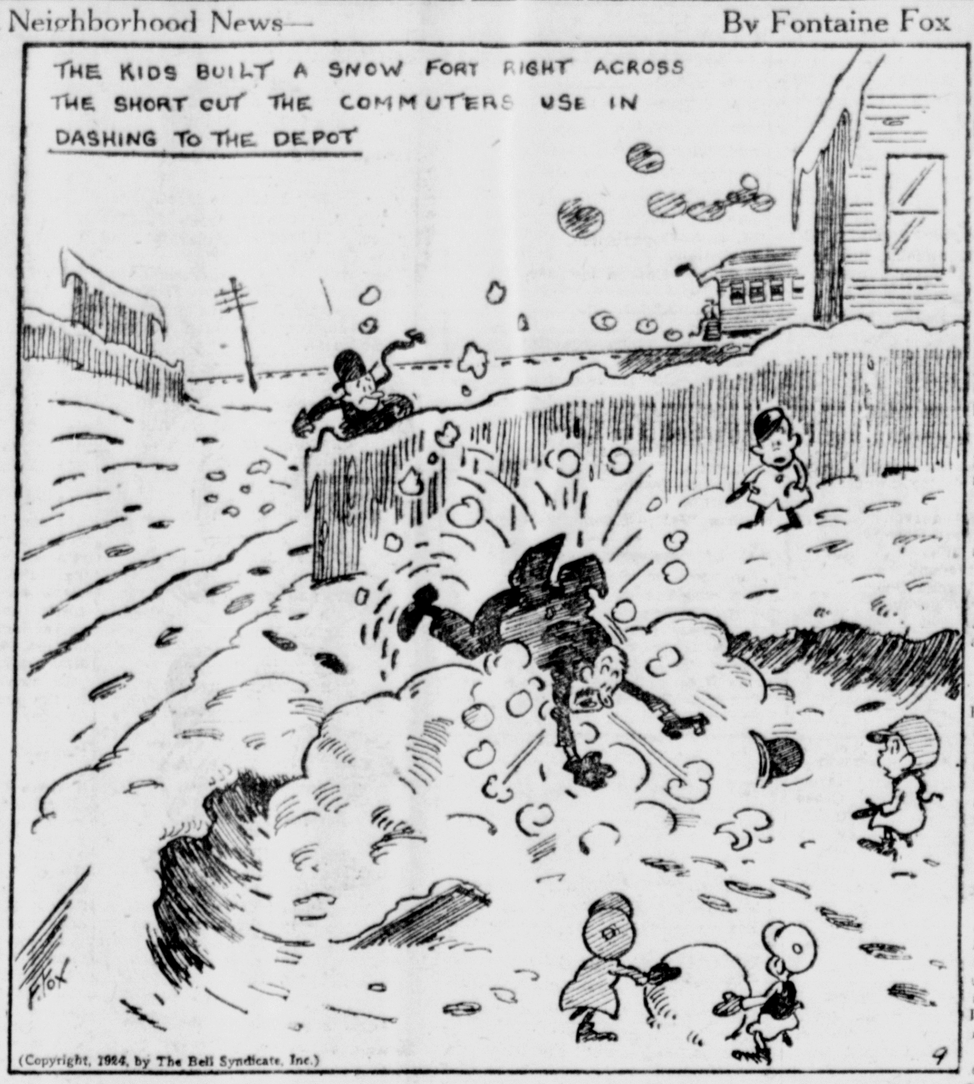
Neighborhood News— By Fontaine Fox



NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Labor party now has a dominating position in the matter of famous beards.

There are four famous beards in London—the Van Dyke worn by King George, the goatee worn by Sidney Webb, the square-cut red beard of George Bernard Shaw, and the continental beard of Augustus John.

The beards of Shaw and Webb have long flown at the Labor party's masthead, but now the beard of John comes to add to the hirsute glories of the opposition party.

John only recently has joined the Labor party, and his conversion has caused quite a sensation, for though he has long been known as a Royal Academician and a Bohemian, his political tendencies have not been considered as tending towards Labor.

The four famous beards of London are having a great deal of competition these days, however, for the young men about town, the lads who swing a mean stick and have four pairs of spats—these beauties have taken to beards. "Burlington Berties" are raising beards in large quantities and no monocle, no stick, or no pair of spats can any longer make a man, unless he has a beard.

George A. Gregson, an American steel manufacturer, sent the king some stamps from his collection which bore a unique water mark. The king invited Gregson to visit Buckingham palace, and for an entire afternoon the king and the steel magnate talked and swapped stamps. No official communique was issued, but it is understood that the deal was even all the way round.

It is an interesting fact that the Prince of Wales, like his father, is an ardent stamp collector. This seems rather incongruous with his love for the outdoor sports, the hardy life, and his love for jazz and dancing. The prince has recently learned to play the banjolele, and with young Prince George at the piano and the Duke of York at the drums it is easy to muster a jazz band within the royal family.

Gourmets the world over will undoubtedly be glad to know that a new dish has been discovered. Francois Latry, of the Savoy hotel, has labored and produced "Supreme de Volaille sous Cloche Savoy." This new tid-bit is wing of chicken which is neither boiled, braised, grilled nor roasted. Francois refuses to disclose how it is cooked. It is brought to the table in a glass dish with a glass bell cover, and the last stage of the cooking is performed over a charcoal fire before the very eyes of the gourmet. The only vegetable entering into the cooking is the button mushroom. Just as the dish is served a small quantity of whipped cream is placed over it. The gourmets rave over it and it's not expensive, oh not so very expensive, $3 a portion or so!

Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the recent Labor premier, has not lost any time in adjusting herself to the change in mode of living which came when she ceased to be the chatelaine of No. 10 Downing street and returned to run the modest cottage of her father in Hampstead. Ishbel has become secretary of a charitable organization in Bow, a slum area. She is to take up nursing, and it is said to be her ambition to follow in the footsteps of her mother, Margaret MacDonald, one of the best loved women in the history of England. No finer tribute has ever been paid a woman than the monument erected to the memory of Margaret MacDonald, paid for by public subscription, with many poor people contributing their mite to the memory of a woman they had loved.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The tiny specialty shop district of Madison avenue. Prices higher than on Fifth. And all rae busy. The New York idea—Jauck up the prices and the bobbery come on the run.

The antique dealers specialize in early American furniture. Ginsberg and O'Leary—there's a pair hard to beat. Nothing so fascinating as an hour glass. Ben Ali Haggin, the painter. Smooth and debonaire. And always with a pretty girl.

The Whitelaw Reid mansion. Bleak and aloof. Circular driveway that represents a fortune in real estate. And is rarely used. A great place to play marbles. A dog and book shop—both fine friends. Reuben, the delicatessen man. Made a million out of sandwiches. For the elite.

Stockings are getting entirely too sheer. And the hats too cloche—whatever that is. A fine street dwindles off into blocks of cheap flats, bootblack parlors, riding academies, laundries and delicatesen shops. A cop kisses a nurse-maid. The brazen thing.

What the world needs is a cure for poverty. Swarthy men with one ring in their ear and vivid red scarfs. Doggish young corner gallants—who fight for their girls. Marry them and loaf ever after. Now and then a little rose shaded tea room.

Window signs: "Boarders Took In." Beauty culture schools and all night commercial colleges. Children dancing in the stret at midnight. Pool parlors that average a murder a month. The fretting whine of babies. Now for home.

Society leaders are eternally going in for things. Now they are becoming haberdashers. Dudley C. Eldridge has a haberdasher shop on East Fifty-second street. Frederick Cruger has opened another on East Forty-third street. Each is prominent in the affairs of the Four Hundred.

Sidewalk curiosity in New York is just as highly developed as in Purdy's Gap, W. Va. NO 1925 DROP YET

No sign of that great 1925 drop in the stock market yet. Stocks were up again yesterday; wheat up with them, and the interest rate on call money speculation dropped to 2½. The value of English money keeps going up. The pound was worth yesterday $4.77⅛, almost its pre-war value.

Some European monies are worth more than the American dollar. But they haven't so many dollars. That must be our consolation.

Germans, not allowed to build airships, have threatened to shoot down French planes flying above Bavaria and Saxony, on the French air line from Paris to Bucharest and from Paris to Prague.

The Germans won't do it, of course, for two reasons.

First, it is difficult to hit a swift machine in full flight.

Second, Germany is at the mercy of France for the reason that Germany has no flying machines and, therefore, she might as well have no men.

Her 65 millions of population would be utterly helpless against 100 Frenchmen up in the air. If one French machine were shot down over German soil, a half dozen German cities could be destroyed the same day.

This country ought to learn something from the helplessness of Germany, based entirely on the fact that she has no force in the air, although she has millions of highly trained fighting men. Let us also remember that in the air Germany is no more helpless than the United States at this moment.

Italian Socialists and Communists demand a revolution to get rid of Mussolini. The crisis there, whatever it is to be is not far off. Italy would have had a revolution five or six years ago had not Mussolini taken charge is the belief of some that understand such matters.

George Creel's Visit

Secretary H. B. Barth's announcement that George Creel, of New York, chairman of the committee on public information in the United States during the World war, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce means reservations for the affair will be at a premium, for Creel is one of the best known men in the country.

Editor, author, publicist and humorist, a man who won his spurs on such newspapers as the Kansas City Independent, Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News, he attracted attention by his fight against political bossism and his advocacy of reforms, such as the initiative and referendum, mothers' compensation and eight-hour work day, which today are on the statute books of many states.

Creel frequently has refused political appointments. In 1917, by reason of his ability, he was named official censor of war-time news in the United States by Woodrow Wilson, and he served in this capacity until March, 1919. As chairman of the committee on public information he won an international reputation, for his duties brought him in contact with representatives of the allies as well as American leaders in the victorious campaign against Germany and her allies. He used the printed word, motion pictures, wireless, airplane and cable to drive home the reasons for Uncle Sam's participation in the war, to encourage the allies in their darkest hours and to shatter the morale of the enemy.

He should have an interesting message on "Current Events and Public Men," his topic for the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting on Wednesday evening, January 28.

Taxes and Benefactions

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, is worried by high taxes on the rich, because he thinks that is bad for American education. He complains that "the steady flow of unsolicited and most useful gifts to Columbia university, which has been so marked a feature of its history during the past quarter-century, already has been greatly diminished as a direct result of existing policies of taxation."

"If the ability to make private gifts and benefactions be destroyed by taxation," he says, "then these institutions begin to die."

Possibly the outlook is not so sad as Dr. Butler thinks. It is fine for great educational institutions to be supported by private gifts, but not imperative. There are many who hold that it would be better if colleges and universities were all supported by public funds, as the common schools and high schools are. High taxes would enable cities and states to do that, if they chose. We are already doing it in our state universities, and the country seems none the worse for it.

However, there doesn't seem to be much evidence of a general money famine among the higher institutions of learning. Never has money been given for education in such vast sums as at present. There are perfectly tenable objections to high taxes, but this doesn't seem to be one of them.

No Hair, Teeth or Toes

As evolutionary processes continue, man will lose many, if not all, of his teeth, says a professor of paleontology and geology. He will also lose some of his fingers and toes. He will become entirely bald. His head will heighten and broaden, enlarging the skull to make room for a bigger brain.

The reason for such changes, of course, is that teeth, toes, fingers and hair will no longer be necessary for their present purposes, and once they become thoroughly useless they will be discarded.

All of this causes the sensitive individual to cast apprehensive glances into the mirror. With our present standards of physical perfection and beauty, few of us look forward with pleasure to the possibility of being toothless, bald and shy a few digits.

There is no occasion for immediate alarm. These threatened changes will take some 40,000 to 75,000 years in the accomplishing, and it is likely that evolution will take care of our standards of beauty at the same time.

Haskin Letter

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

ETIQUETTE AS IT WAS AND IS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—While the modern American idea of correct manners is still a far cry from that of Beau Brummel, and despite the many attacks on the conduct of the modern youth, a desire to know and to do what is "good form" is becoming more general with the people of this country. This is evidenced by the sale of books on etiquette.

Until recent years it was considered by Mr. Average Citizen foppish or effeminate to attempt to follow the rules laid down by authors of books on etiquette. And in many cases he was perfectly right. The dictates of the etiquette arbiters were very often stilted and artificial.

It is more and more becoming understood that the rules of etiquette are simply those of courtesy and thoughtfulness. A man no longer holds a cigarette or cigar in his mouth while talking with a woman. This is not because he would be violating the laws of etiquette, but because he does not wish to show her discourtesy.

Judging from some of the earliest books on good behavior it is apparent that the fundamentals remain the same. In fact, the earlier volumes are not as filled with affectations as some published during the period between 1890 and 1900. Below are given some extracts from a book entitled, "Youths' Behavior, or Decency Amongst Men," published in England in 1663.

"Sing not within thy mouth, humming to thy self, unless thou be alone, in such sort as thou canst not be heard by others. Strike not up a drum with thy fingers, or thy feet." This shows that even at this early date there were pests similar to those which all too often infest the modern movie theater, or other places of public entertainment.

Another particularly pertinent bit of advice which might be observed by many thoughtless persons who indulge themselves in peanuts or candies while viewing some especially tense motion picture is, "Rub not thy teeth or crash them, nor make anything crack in such manner what thou disquiet any body."

"It is an uncivil thing to stretch out thine arms at length, and writhe them hither and thither." From which it may be inferred that rythmic dancing had not attained its present vogue.

Everyone knows some one who could profit by the following: "In coughing, or sneezing, make not a great noise, if it be possible, and send not forth any sigh, in such wise that others observe thee, without great occasion."

AND WHEN IN CHURCH

And this to the restless and uneasy churchgoer: "Hearing thy Master, or likewise the preacher, wriggle not thy self, as seeming unable to contain thy self within thy skin, making shew thy self to be the knowing and sufficient person, to the misprice of others."

For those who bite their nails the following is set forth: "Gnaw not thy nails in the presence of others, nor bite them with thy teeth."

From the following one feels that the author must indeed have had a vision of the modern flapper:

"Neither shake thy head, feet or legs; rowl not thine eyes. Lift not one of thine eye-brows higher than thine other. Wry not thy mouth. Take heed that with thy spittle thou bedew not his face with whom thou speakest, and to that end approach not too nigh him."

"When thou sittest, put not undecently one leg upon the other, but keep them firm and settled; and joyn thy feet even, cross them not one upon the other."

"Take heed thou beest not a flatterer; for such as one shewest to have little opinion of the judgment of him whom he flattereth, holding him for a simple fellow. Play not with him, who takest no pleasure therein."

While many of the dictates laid down in this early volume still hold good, the progress of civilization and of modern invention has brought new problems. Some of the present everyday questions are: "When leaving a street car or bus does a man precede or follow a woman?" "Where should a woman sit in a motor or carriage having a driver?" "Should one always be announced when calling on a person living in an apartment house?" "When a person calls another on the telephone who should terminate the conversation?" "When calling for a young lady to take her for a drive is it proper to blow the automobile horn to announce one's arrival?" Our forefathers had no need to struggle with such problems.

FASHIONS CHANGE

Then, of course, there are certain changing fashions in etiquette as in everything else. A few years ago a person who did not take his party call within ten days or two weeks was likely not to be included in the list of guests at the next party given by the hostess. Party calls are still considered the correct thing in many localities, but in the most fashionable society this custom is rapidly becoming passe.

Formerly it was customary for a young man who wished to propose marriage to a young woman to ask permission of her father to do so. The youth of today who did this would doubtless find that while he may have made a good impression on the father he in all probability had ruined his chances with the daughter. The modern girl prefers to be given an opportunity to make her decision before the matter is brought before her parents.

The maiden of olden days, according to fiction and history, was timid and shy, and when walking down the street clung to the arm of her escort. Today it is not considered good form for a young woman to take a man's arm in the daytime unless to cross a very crowded thoroughfare, or to be helped over a rough piece of road, or under other impeding circumstances. Most young girls would scorn to yield that much of their independence.

Chaperons are another passing institution. That is, the watchful middle-aged chaperon is disappearing. In the present day it is generally difficult to distinguish the chaperons from the rest of the party, since the duties of chaperonage are usually entrusted to young married couples who are no older than the other guests and who enter just as eagerly and heartily into the festivities. This is another sign of the independence and freedom of the present generation.

Other signs of changing times are the suggestions for parties. In a book published in 1903 we find the following:

"With the bicycle comes the bicycle tea. In the large cities these teas have been given for charity and have been great successes. But there is no reason why any girl may not give an attractive bicycle tea and make it very original. Sandwiches in the shape of tennis rackets, with an olive steak in the center for a ball, are among the novelties. Sandwiches in the shape of a wheel and a saddle might easily be cut. Bicycle lanterns, which resemble glow-worms, should furnish decoration. If possible, a bicycle tea should be given out of doors, where outing costumes would not be incongruous."

Who knows but that in 1948 suggestions for Mah Jongg or bridge parties may seem just as absurd?

DINNER STORIES

A captious traveler in northern Arkansas stopped by a fence to criticise a scar cornfield which met his disapproval. "Mighty small corn you have there!" he shouted to the man who was "superintending the growth" from a shady corner.

"Yes," said the Arkansan. "Planted the small kind."

"Looks mighty yellow to me for this time of year."

"Yes. Planted the yellow kind."

"Well," said the traveler, severely. "I can't understand your method of farming. You won't get over half a crop there."

"No," said the Arkansan, cheerfully. "You are shore a good guesser, stranger. Half a crop exactly, that's mine. I planted this on shares."

The student had been spending somewhat too freely, and was short. It was near the holidays and he hated to write home for money. As a last resort he pawned his dress suit.

When the time came to leave for home, the suit was still unredeemed. He hurriedly scraped up cash enough to bet it back, packed it in the grip and was off.

His mother was helping him unpack.

"Henry," she asked, "what is this ticket on your coat for?"

"Why, mother," he replied, "I went to a dance the other evening and had my coat checked.

She continued putting away his garments. Finally she lifted the trousers. They, too, were ticketed.

"Henry," she exclaimed, "what kind of a dance was that?"

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Labor party now has a dominating position in the matter of famous beards.

There are four famous beards in London—the Van Dyke worn by King George, the goatee worn by Sidney Webb, the square-cut red beard of George Bernard Shaw, and the continental beard of Augustus John.

The beards of Shaw and Webb have long flown at the Labor party's masthead, but now the beard of John comes to add to the hirsute glories of the opposition party.

John only recently has joined the Labor party, and his conversion has caused quite a sensation, for though he has long been known as a Royal Academician and a Bohemian, his political tendencies have not been considered as tending towards Labor.

The four famous beards of London are having a great deal of competition these days, however, for the young men about town, the lads who swing a mean stick and have four pairs of spats—these beauties have taken to beards. "Burlington Berties" are raising beards in large quantities and no monocle, no stick, or no pair of spats can any longer make a man, unless he has a beard.

George A. Gregson, an American steel manufacturer, sent the king some stamps from his collection which bore a unique water mark. The king invited Gregson to visit Buckingham palace, and for an entire afternoon the king and the steel magnate talked and swapped stamps. No official communique was issued, but it is understood that the deal was even all the way round.

It is an interesting fact that the Prince of Wales, like his father, is an ardent stamp collector. This seems rather incongruous with his love for the outdoor sports, the hardy life, and his love for jazz and dancing. The prince has recently learned to play the banjolele, and with young Prince George at the piano and the Duke of York at the drums it is easy to muster a jazz band within the royal family.

Gourmets the world over will undoubtedly be glad to know that a new dish has been discovered. Francois Latry, of the Savoy hotel, has labored and produced "Supreme de Volaille sous Cloche Savoy." This new tid-bit is wing of chicken which is neither boiled, braised, grilled nor roasted. Francois refuses to disclose how it is cooked. It is brought to the table in a glass dish with a glass bell cover, and the last stage of the cooking is performed over a charcoal fire before the very eyes of the gourmet. The only vegetable entering into the cooking is the button mushroom. Just as the dish is served a small quantity of whipped cream is placed over it. The gourmets rave over it and it's not expensive, oh not so very expensive, $3 a portion or so!

Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the recent Labor premier, has not lost any time in adjusting herself to the change in mode of living which came when she ceased to be the chatelaine of No. 10 Downing street and returned to run the modest cottage of her father in Hampstead. Ishbel has become secretary of a charitable organization in Bow, a slum area. She is to take up nursing, and it is said to be her ambition to follow in the footsteps of her mother, Margaret MacDonald, one of the best loved women in the history of England. No finer tribute has ever been paid a woman than the monument erected to the memory of Margaret MacDonald, paid for by public subscription, with many poor people contributing their mite to the memory of a woman they had loved.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The tiny specialty shop district of Madison avenue. Prices higher than on Fifth. And all are busy. The New York idea—Jauck up the prices and the bobbery come on the run.

The antique dealers specialize in early American furniture. Ginsberg and O'Leary—there's a pair hard to beat. Nothing so fascinating as an hour glass. Ben Ali Haggin, the painter. Smooth and debonaire. And always with a pretty girl.

The Whitelaw Reid mansion. Bleak and aloof. Circular driveway that represents a fortune in real estate. And is rarely used. A great place to play marbles. A dog and book shop—both fine friends. Reuben, the delicatessen man. Made a million out of sandwiches. For the elite.

Stockings are getting entirely too sheer. And the hats too cloche—whatever that is. A fine street dwindles off into blocks of cheap flats, bootblack parlors, riding academies, laundries and delicatesen shops. A cop kisses a nurse-maid. The brazen thing.

What the world needs is a cure for poverty. Swarthy men with one ring in their ear and vivid red scarfs. Doggish young corner gallants—who fight for their girls. Marry them and loaf ever after. Now and then a little rose shaded tea room.

Window signs: "Boarders Took In." Beauty culture schools and all night commercial colleges. Children dancing in the stret at midnight. Pool parlors that average a murder a month. The fretting whine of babies. Now for home.

Society leaders are eternally going in for things. Now they are becoming haberdashers. Dudley C. Eldridge has a haberdasher shop on East Fifty-second street. Frederick Cruger has opened another on East Forty-third street. Each is prominent in the affairs of the Four Hundred.

"Jock," said he, "ye have given me a fine two weeks. I've slept in your bed, eaten your food, had good sport, and I'm grateful to ye. What do ye say to a drap whusky in the pub yonder?"

One college man was telling the other of his new girl.

"She's wonderful, Jack," he said, "in the first place she is the most beautiful thing I ever saw, and on the other hand—"

"On the other hand," finished Jack, who knew her, "she has an engagement ring."

200,000 GOITER CASES IN CHICAGO LACK OF IODINE IN FOOD IS CAUSE

The June 14 (1924) issue of weekly bulletin published by the Chicago Department of Health states that conservatively estimated there are 200,000 persons in Chicago suffering from preventable goiter, the greatest number occurring between the ages of birth and 16 years. The facts are that 75 per cent of simple goiter incidence is among school children; that goiter in the district is due to insufficiency of iodine in the soil and water, and that goiter is safely and cheaply prevented.

Chicago is not the only place where it has been found that goiter exists in young people to an alarming extent. In many of the central and southern States similar conditions have been revealed by health surveys, in some cases as many as 64 per cent of the girls being goitrous. One-half of the high school girls in Detroit, Mich., were found to have thyroid trouble.

Many children are blamed for being stupid and backward in their studies, when as a matter of fact the trouble is they have a goiter. This affliction has a marked effect upon the nervous system, and both the physical and mental conditions are impaired to some extent. Sometimes a boy or girl will outgrow a goiter, but this is entirely a matter of chance. The safe thing to do is to prevent Goiter in children by using table salt containing a definite amount of iodine. This is the prophylactic treatment recommended by health authorities.

AT GROCERS

MULKEY'S IODINE SALT for Goiter prevention comes in 2-lb. round cartons with pouring spout. It is to be used for all household purposes—both in cooking and on the table. The iodine does not change the taste or color. In these respects it is just like any other high grade free running table salt.

Hammer on Doors of Congress for Belated Justice.

The battalion of cripples, with their hundreds of war decorations from all the allied governments but little money for food or medicine, sent a delegation to plead for enactment of the Bursum bill granting regular retirement pay to disabled emergency army officers.

All other officers who served in the World war have long since been granted this compensation as a reward for their wounds. The handful who volunteered, received emergency commissions, served through the war and then were dropped from the rolls alone are excepted.

As a result of the plea, Senator Bursum, Republican of New Mexico, announced he would demand consideration of the relief bill in the senate as the "first opportunity." He predicted its enactment at this session of congress, as the bill passed the senate two years ago but failed in the house through a legislative jam.

Of the thousand and sixteen veterans benefited by the measure, all served in France and all fell from wounds or disease "contracted in the line of duty." Since the bill first came before congress in 1920 their lines have been decimated by death. Two hundred of the eligibles died while congress delayed and eighteen died since congress reconvened in December. Of the number, four were included who came before congress a year ago as "witnesses" and "examples" of their nation's forgetfulness.

Under existing conditions, the survivors—most of them middle aged men—must support families on the trifling allowance received from the veterans' bureau. All other disabled officers have regular retirement pay.

The total cost of the bill, Bursum said, would be about $600,000 a year, with the amount decreased annually because of deaths. This would give each wounded officer a pension of from $15 to $100 a month.

for Kane's electrocution. He recalled having issued a stay of execution that day in Kane's case. Unable to notify Warden Thomas, of the penitentiary, by telephone, Justice Marshall called up Gov. Donahey who promptly granted Kane a reprieve until this morning.

In an investigation next day, Justice Marshall found he had confused Kane's name with that of the plaintiff in a Cleveland case who had been granted a stay relative to a prison sentence imposed for a minor crime.

Injunction Stops Hanging.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Jan. 9.—Attorney's for Gervis Bloodworth and Willie Jones, confessed slayers of H. W. Underwood, near Butler, Ga., more than a year ago, who were to have been hanged at Butler today, resorted to an injunction to save their clients from death, a temporary restraining order, preventing carrying out of the death sentence, was granted early this morning by Judge W. E. H. Sercy.

Georgia law provides that hanging shall take place in privacy. Attorneys said the gallows at Butler has been built in front of the jail and that a board fence surrounding it does not exclude the public view.

uggested, follows the Hookstown road to Laughlin's corners, past the Reed school house and the Ramsey brothers' farm to Mechanicsburg, Little Travis and Kanaught. Here the route connects with an improved road which passes through Moon Run to the Steubenville Pike and into Pittsburgh. This route, by the automobile speedometer, is but 37 miles to Pittsburgh, where the other roads, which strike the improved road at Clinton, are about 42 miles in length.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of the road through Kanaught and Moon's Run, in addition to the short route, is that traffic in larger industrial centers is avoided. Many mining towns are on the road from Clinton into Pittsburgh, but the latest road to be suggested eliminates all the communities except Moon Run.

The Hookstown road is being improved to a point near Laughlin's Corners. This improvement, which extends a little over two miles, is two-thirds completed, about a mile and a half of the new concrete road being open to traffic. No more surfacing will be undertaken until spring in order to permit fills to settle. From Laughlin's Corners it is proposed to obtain a new right of way in order to reduce the mileage.

Hoag Inspects Road

Mr. Hoag went to Pittsburgh Monday where he again traversed the road as far west as Mechanicsburg in company with E. K. Morse, consulting engineer for the Pennsylvania state highway department. He returned to his home in Detroit, Tuesday.

The Lincoln highway representative was optimistic regarding funds for the improvement of the road through the Southside. An 18 mile stretch of this road is to be improved, but if the contracts should be awarded early in the spring the road may be completed by the end of the year.

Beaver county officials are said to favor the road through the southside of the county if assurances are given for the completion of the Midland road to the Ohio state line. This road probably will be completed during the year.

Inspect Your Lamb And Mutton; Perhaps It Is Goat Meat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—Millions of goats have been sold to housewives in the United States disguised as lamb and mutton and the practice is still continued, Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky, asserted during hearings on the War Department appropriation bill.

Johnson, in asking whether goat instead of mutton was included on the army's ration list, declared that he raised the slaughtered goats and knew that large numbers were inspected and put in cold storage warehouses but never came out—as goat.

"When the goats came out," Johnson said, "they are sold as lamb or mutton. The difference is difficult to discover as the only way to tell is by one hind quarter. A sheep's tail is four or five times wider than a goat's and so one quarter can not be disguised. The other three quarters might be goat or sheep. Kids and goats are virtually as good as lamb or sheep, the only difference being in the price. Lamb costs three times as much."

TWO ARRESTED IN RUM RAIDS

Julius Pierry and George Chain Fined Total of $1,500.

Julius Pierry, St. George street, and George Chain, Koontz avenue, Wellsville, are in jail today in default of fines assessed against them by Mayor Charles Brown last night on a charge of violating the prohibition statutes.

Pierry was assessed $1,000 and costs on a charge of manufacturing liquor, after Captain Conley and Officers Lister, Roth and Smith discovered a still, 25 gallons of corn whisky, mash, sugar and other supplies on the second floor of his home near the eastern end of St. George street yesterday afternoon.

The still, fired by a gas burner, was working to capacity when the raiders visited the place. The police confiscated it and other equipment and destroyed the mash and liquor. Pierry pleaded guilty, but claimed that he was forced into the business by an injured leg, which prevented him from working. The police say he came to East Liverpool recently from Cleveland.

Chief McDermott and Captain Conley arrested Chain, who is a fireman at the American Vitrified Products company plant, yesterday afternoon on a warrant, charging him with illegal possession. Chain, it is alleged, has been bringing the liquor to the sewer pipe works in gallon lots and selling it out in pint and half pint amounts. He was fined $500 and costs and ordered committed to jail until the fine and costs are paid. Both offenders will be taken to Lisbon if their fines are not paid.

Furnish Hospital Room.

W. A. Weaver, the first president of the club, spoke briefly during which he presented the retiring president, Olen H. Dawson, with a fountain pen—a gift from the members of the club. Mr. Dawson thanked the members for the remembrance.

T. V. Milligan announced that the club had furnished a room at the City hospital at a cost of $241. H. D. Hoffman, club secretary, who has not missed a meeting of the club for three and one-half years, was presented with a handsome leather portfolio in recognition of his faithful attendance. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Milligan. Mr. Hoffman expressed his appreciation.

Mr. Heddleston then presented Retiring President Olen H. Dawson with the past president's button. Mr. Dawson again expressed his thanks for the button and also for the hearty co-operation of the club members during his term. At the conclusion of his remarks he presented H. F. Laughlin, musical director of the club, with a leather traveling bag for his faithful services during the year.

Committees Appointed.

The toastmaster then presented Dr. G. E. Lewis, the newly elected president with the gavel and a president's button. The gavel was one presented to Mr. Heddleston while he was district governor. John E. Newell, president of the Chester Boosters' club, made a brief talk in which he discussed the friendly spirit between Chester and East Liverpool.

The attendance prize, boxes of cigars furnished by H. F. McNutt, were awarded to Louis E. Weaver and Oscar O. Allison, after they had qualified. "Booby prizes," furnished by Chester members of the club, were awarded to D. F. Nellis, James Anderson, S. C. Williams and Joshua Poole.

W. C. Lynch, Chester, assisted by Dr. James T. Jackson staged a mind-reading act, which proved to be the big feature of the evening. For more than a half hour Mr. Lynch kept the audience in a uproar with his original performance, which he declared he had "conceived in India, when he made a tour of the world 36 years ago."

President Lewis announced his committee appointments, at the close of the meeting, the duties of each committee being outlined by Secretary Hoffman. Mayor Charles Brown was the last speaker of the evening. During his remarks he termed East Liverpool and Chester one big community.

In addition to Dr. Lewis, officers installed last evening were: first vice president, C. C. Cline; second vice president, Charles W. Hendershot; treasurer, Charles C. Ashbaugh; secretary, Harry D. Hoffman; district trustee, Olen H. Dawson; trustees, S. C. Williams, L. A. Wallover, Joshua Poole, Frank Huff, Jr., Ralph T. Couch, A. C. Boice, R. C. Heddleston and Clarence G. Anderson.

Stone's Nomination Held up by Senate Sub-Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The nomination of Attorney General Harlan F. Stone, as associate justice of the supreme court, was held up today by the senate judiciary sub-committee to which the appointment was referred.

Senator Sterling, Republican of South Dakota, chairman, declined to make any statement other than the committee considered the nomination, but failed to act upon it.

Additional school legislation endorsed by rural legislators, it was said, include a proposed law, more clearly defining who shall benefit under the "weak school district" act.

Provisions of the Griswold tax act, which regulates the maximum indebtedness of the various political subdivisions should be incorporated into the state constitution, rural legislators declare, for the purpose of giving assurance of permanency to the system. For the purpose of giving more assurance of permanency to the system, these legislators assert the Griswold act, which has been in operation for a number of years has proved satisfactory and that its advantages should be preserved for posterity. The best way to do this, they point out, is through amendment of the Ohio constitution.

Gassing of Slayer Stops First Degree Murders in Nevada

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 9.—Eleven months ago today a fear-crazed man was dragged across the sun-baked stones in the yard at the Nevada state prison, tied to a chair in an air-tight room and put to death, while official state witnesses gazed on the first lethal gas execution in world history.

Since that murky morning there hasn't been a "first degree" murder in Nevada, Gov. J. G. Scrugham today told International New Service. Since that man—Gee Jon, a Chinese hired killer from San Francisco—was put to death by gas, "there hasn't been a murder punishable by death, meaning a murder other than committed in the heat of frenzy, in the whole state of Nevada, said Gov. Schrugham.

"But more than that, a huge Chinese narcotic ring has been eliminated from the state.

"To be hanged or shot to death is all right, but a Chinese fears a gas death because he thinks, by his religion, it will keep him from going to heaven."

The Nevada legislature meets in ten days, the chief executive said, but he predicted no effort would be made to repeal the execution law.

Evangelist Lockhart Answers Question, 'Is There A Hell?'

Thirteen Converts Pledge New Life at Church of Christ Services Thursday Evening.

One of the most forceful sermons since the campaign opened was delivered in the First Church of Christ, last evening, when Evangelist W. J. Lockhart answered the question, "Is There a Hell?"

Thirteen converts shook the evangelist's hand at the close of his sermon when the invitation was extended. Prof. J. F. Harbinson, song director, rendered a solo, "The Great Judgment Morning." Mr. Harbinson is directing two large choruses, one composed of adults and the other of children.

Tonight, Evangelist Lockhart will talk on the subject, "Our American Mothers." "This is a tribute of love to my mother and yours," he declared today. Bouquets of flowers are to be given the oldest mother and the mother of the largest family attending tonight's service, which is expected to attract a capacity crowd.

A meeting for men only will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harbinson entertained the ladies of the church Thursday afternoon.

In his sermon on "Hell As Real as Sin," delivered last night, Dr. Lockhart said:

"You ask me if there is a real Hell, and I answer you that Hell is just as certain as sin and as real as sin. For sin is Hell in embryo and sin plus eternity is the Hell the Bible describes. This is an awful truth. I wish I could tell you there is no Hell and you need not concern yourself about Hell, and neither would I enjoy running into your home and telling you your house was on fire. But if your life was endangered by a fire I would in duty be bound to warn you and knowing well as I do what the word of God teaches on the subject as a friend to warn you of the awful consequences of the rejection of Jesus Christ and the continuing in sin.

"Hell is indicated by all experience and observation. One thing is absolutely certain and that is the tendency of character to become fixed. After a man lives a lifetime and gets his habits of thought and life fixed it is mighty hard to change him.

"You ask me, is there a Hell, and I turn the question back at you. Go to that home in which sin has entered and ask the deserted wife if there is a Hell.

"Go to the man who has now lost all self respect and with hardened heart and empty soul is making the way down the sinful road of life and ask him if there is a Hell. "Go to the drunkard who has lost manhood and home and ask him if there is a Hell; go to the murderer behind the bars; the poor woman with beheaveled hair and blanchard face as she makes her way down the street of shame and ask her if there is a Hell and sin is its beginning.

"You ask me is Hell a physical place of burning fire. I answer that Hell is spoken of as a fiery furnace and it is also spoken of as a place of outer darkness. It could not be both. Hell is spoken of as a lake of fire and not as a bottomless pit. It could not be both. What is my conclusion. These are figures of speech used to describe Hell.

"Hell is a place of insatible and tormenting desires that shall never be gratified. Hell is a place of shame. Hell is a place of an outraged and dishonored conscience. Hell is a place of vile companions."

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Steel and oil stocks led the whole market into a vigorous upturn in the early trading today. U. S. Steel set the pace at the opening of the market, with another jump to a new high record price level since the days of the war brides and independent steel stocks followed at no great distance. Baldwin Locomotive, at the head of the equipment stocks rushed up to 136½, for a gain of three points, also exceeding its best record for 1924.

Sterling exchange's rise to a new high since the active days of the world war, lent further encouragement to the hope that Great Britain would soon be placed on a gold basis and that active trading in American securities might again be established over the London cables. Another encouraging preopening event was the publication of the federal reserve bank's weekly report, showing that, simultaneously with the easing of the money situation and the decline in call money to two percent, the reserves of the New York bank had risen to 78.2 against 74.6 a week ago and 71.1 two weeks ago.

The battalion of cripples, with their hundreds of war decorations from all the allied governments but little money for food or medicine, sent a delegation to plead for enactment of the Bursum bill granting regular retirement pay to disabled emergency army officers.

All other officers who served in the World war have long since been granted this compensation as a reward for their wounds. The handful who volunteered, received emergency commissions, served through the war and then were dropped from the rolls alone are excepted.

As a result of the plea, Senator Bursum, Republican of New Mexico, announced he would demand consideration of the relief bill in the senate as the "first opportunity." He predicted its enactment at this session of congress, as the bill passed the senate two years ago but failed in the house through a legislative jam.

Of the thousand and sixteen veterans benefited by the measure, all served in France and all fell from wounds or disease "contracted in the line of duty." Since the bill first came before congress in 1920 their lines have been decimated by death. Under existing conditions, the survivors—most of them middle aged men—must support families on the trifling allowance received from the veterans' bureau. All other disabled officers have regular retirement pay.

The total cost of the bill, Bursum said, would be about $600,000 a year, with the amount decreased annually because of deaths. This would give each wounded officer a pension of from $15 to $100 a month.

Underwood, near Butler, Ga., more than a year ago, who were to have been hanged at Butler today, resorted to an injunction to save their clients from death, a temporary restraining order, preventing carrying out of the death sentence, was granted early this morning by Judge W. E. H. Sercy.

Georgia law provides that hanging shall take place in privacy. Attorneys said the gallows at Butler has been built in front of the jail and that a board fence surrounding it does not exclude the public view.

suggested, follows the Hookstown road to Laughlin's corners, past the Reed school house and the Ramsey brothers' farm to Mechanicsburg, Little Travis and Kanaught. Here the route connects with an improved road which passes through Moon Run to the Steubenville Pike and into Pittsburgh. This route, by the automobile speedometer, is but 37 miles to Pittsburgh, where the other roads, which strike the improved road at Clinton, are about 42 miles in length.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of the road through Kanaught and Moon's Run, in addition to the short route, is that traffic in larger industrial centers is avoided. Many mining towns are on the road from Clinton into Pittsburgh, but the latest road to be suggested eliminates all the communities except Moon Run.

The Hookstown road is being improved to a point near Laughlin's Corners. This improvement, which extends a little over two miles, is two-thirds completed, about a mile and a half of the new concrete road being open to traffic. No more surfacing will be undertaken until spring in order to permit fills to settle. From Laughlin's Corners it is proposed to obtain a new right of way in order to reduce the mileage.

Hoag Inspects Road

Mr. Hoag went to Pittsburgh Monday where he again traversed the road as far west as Mechanicsburg in company with E. K. Morse, consulting engineer for the Pennsylvania state highway department. He returned to his home in Detroit, Tuesday.

The Lincoln highway representative was optimistic regarding funds for the improvement of the road through the Southside. An 18 mile stretch of this road is to be improved, but if the contracts should be awarded early in the spring the road may be completed by the end of the year.

Beaver county officials are said to favor the road through the southside of the county if assurances are given for the completion of the Midland road to the Ohio state line. This road probably will be completed during the year.

Inspect Your Lamb And Mutton; Perhaps It Is Goat Meat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—Millions of goats have been sold to housewives in the United States disguised as lamb and mutton and the practice is still continued, Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky, asserted during hearings on the War Department appropriation bill.

Johnson, in asking whether goat instead of mutton was included on the army's ration list, declared that he raised the slaughtered goats and knew that large numbers were inspected and put in cold storage warehouses but never came out—as goat.

"When the goats came out," Johnson said, "they are sold as lamb or mutton. The difference is difficult to discover as the only way to tell is by one hind quarter. A sheep's tail is four or five times wider than a goat's and so one quarter can not be disguised. The other three quarters might be goat or sheep. Kids and goats are virtually as good as lamb or sheep, the only difference being in the price. Lamb costs three times as much."

TWO ARRESTED IN RUM RAIDS

Julius Pierry and George Chain Fined Total of $1,500.

Julius Pierry, St. George street, and George Chain, Koontz avenue, Wellsville, are in jail today in default of fines assessed against them by Mayor Charles Brown last night on a charge of violating the prohibition statutes.

Pierry was assessed $1,000 and costs on a charge of manufacturing liquor, after Captain Conley and Officers Lister, Roth and Smith discovered a still, 25 gallons of corn whisky, mash, sugar and other supplies on the second floor of his home near the eastern end of St. George street yesterday afternoon.

The still, fired by a gas burner, was working to capacity when the raiders visited the place. The police confiscated it and other equipment and destroyed the mash and liquor. Pierry pleaded guilty, but claimed that he was forced into the business by an injured leg, which prevented him from working. The police say he came to East Liverpool recently from Cleveland.

Chief McDermott and Captain Conley arrested Chain, who is a fireman at the American Vitrified Products company plant, yesterday afternoon on a warrant, charging him with illegal possession. Chain, it is alleged, has been bringing the liquor to the sewer pipe works in gallon lots and selling it out in pint and half pint amounts. He was fined $500 and costs and ordered committed to jail until the fine and costs are paid. Both offenders will be taken to Lisbon if their fines are not paid.

Furnish Hospital Room.

W. A. Weaver, the first president of the club, spoke briefly during which he presented the retiring president, Olen H. Dawson, with a fountain pen—a gift from the members of the club. Mr. Dawson thanked the members for the remembrance.

T. V. Milligan announced that the club had furnished a room at the City hospital at a cost of $241. H. D. Hoffman, club secretary, who has not missed a meeting of the club for three and one-half years, was presented with a handsome leather portfolio in recognition of his faithful attendance. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Milligan. Mr. Hoffman expressed his appreciation.

Mr. Heddleston then presented Retiring President Olen H. Dawson with the past president's button. Mr. Dawson again expressed his thanks for the button and also for the hearty co-operation of the club members during his term. At the conclusion of his remarks he presented H. F. Laughlin, musical director of the club, with a leather traveling bag for his faithful services during the year.

Committees Appointed.

The toastmaster then presented Dr. G. E. Lewis, the newly elected president with the gavel and a president's button. The gavel was one presented to Mr. Heddleston while he was district governor. John E. Newell, president of the Chester Boosters' club, made a brief talk in which he discussed the friendly spirit between Chester and East Liverpool.

The attendance prize, boxes of cigars furnished by H. F. McNutt, were awarded to Louis E. Weaver and Oscar O. Allison, after they had qualified. "Booby prizes," furnished by Chester members of the club, were awarded to D. F. Nellis, James Anderson, S. C. Williams and Joshua Poole.

W. C. Lynch, Chester, assisted by Dr. James T. Jackson staged a mind-reading act, which proved to be the big feature of the evening. For more than a half hour Mr. Lynch kept the audience in a uproar with his original performance, which he declared he had "conceived in India, when he made a tour of the world 36 years ago."

President Lewis announced his committee appointments, at the close of the meeting, the duties of each committee being outlined by Secretary Hoffman. Mayor Charles Brown was the last speaker of the evening. During his remarks he termed East Liverpool and Chester one big community.

In addition to Dr. Lewis, officers installed last evening were: first vice president, C. C. Cline; second vice president, Charles W. Hendershot; treasurer, Charles C. Ashbaugh; secretary, Harry D. Hoffman; district trustee, Olen H. Dawson; trustees, S. C. Williams, L. A. Wallover, Joshua Poole, Frank Huff, Jr., Ralph T. Couch, A. C. Boice, R. C. Heddleston and Clarence G. Anderson.

Every number indicates the beginning of a word—if horizontal, crosswise, until the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, downwards until the first shaded stop below. Compare the synonyms in the appended lists to the spaces in the diagrams and fill in the words you know. These will give you clues to the more difficult words. When completed the words should interlock perfectly.

Gassing of Slayer Stops First Degree Murders in Nevada

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 9.—Eleven months ago today a fear-crazed man was dragged across the sun-baked stones in the yard at the Nevada state prison, tied to a chair in an air-tight room and put to death, while official state witnesses gazed on the first lethal gas execution in world history.

Since that murky morning there hasn't been a "first degree" murder in Nevada, Gov. J. G. Scrugham today told International New Service. Since that man—Gee Jon, a Chinese hired killer from San Francisco—was put to death by gas, "there hasn't been a murder punishable by death, meaning a murder other than committed in the heat of frenzy, in the whole state of Nevada, said Gov. Schrugham.

"But more than that, a huge Chinese narcotic ring has been eliminated from the state.

"To be hanged or shot to death is all right, but a Chinese fears a gas death because he thinks, by his religion, it will keep him from going to heaven."

The Nevada legislature meets in ten days, the chief executive said, but he predicted no effort would be made to repeal the execution law.

Additional school legislation endorsed by rural legislators, it was said, include a proposed law, more clearly defining who shall benefit under the "weak school district" act.

Provisions of the Griswold tax act, which regulates the maximum indebtedness of the various political subdivisions should be incorporated into the state constitution, rural legislators declare, for the purpose of giving assurance of permanency to the system. For the purpose of giving more assurance of permanency to the system, these legislators assert the Griswold act, which has been in operation for a number of years has proved satisfactory and that its advantages should be preserved for posterity. The best way to do this, they point out, is through amendment of the Ohio constitution.

Evangelist Lockhart Answers Question, 'Is There A Hell?'

Thirteen Converts Pledge New Life at Church of Christ Services Thursday Evening.

One of the most forceful sermons since the campaign opened was delivered in the First Church of Christ, last evening, when Evangelist W. J. Lockhart answered the question, "Is There a Hell?"

Thirteen converts shook the evangelist's hand at the close of his sermon when the invitation was extended. Prof. J. F. Harbinson, song director, rendered a solo, "The Great Judgment Morning." Mr. Harbinson is directing two large choruses, one composed of adults and the other of children.

Tonight, Evangelist Lockhart will talk on the subject, "Our American Mothers." "This is a tribute of love to my mother and yours," he declared today. Bouquets of flowers are to be given the oldest mother and the mother of the largest family attending tonight's service, which is expected to attract a capacity crowd.

A meeting for men only will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harbinson entertained the ladies of the church Thursday afternoon.

In his sermon on "Hell As Real as Sin," delivered last night, Dr. Lockhart said:

"You ask me if there is a real Hell, and I answer you that Hell is just as certain as sin and as real as sin. For sin is Hell in embryo and sin plus eternity is the Hell the Bible describes. This is an awful truth. I wish I could tell you there is no Hell and you need not concern yourself about Hell, and neither would I enjoy running into your home and telling you your house was on fire. But if your life was endangered by a fire I would in duty be bound to warn you and knowing well as I do what the word of God teaches on the subject as a friend to warn you of the awful consequences of the rejection of Jesus Christ and the continuing in sin.

"Hell is indicated by all experience and observation. One thing is absolutely certain and that is the tendency of character to become fixed. After a man lives a lifetime and gets his habits of thought and life fixed it is mighty hard to change him.

"You ask me, is there a Hell, and I turn the question back at you. Go to that home in which sin has entered and ask the deserted wife if there is a Hell.

"Go to the man who has now lost all self respect and with hardened heart and empty soul is making the way down the sinful road of life and ask him if there is a Hell. "Go to the drunkard who has lost manhood and home and ask him if there is a Hell; go to the murderer behind the bars; the poor woman with beheaveled hair and blanchard face as she makes her way down the street of shame and ask her if there is a Hell and sin is its beginning.

"You ask me is Hell a physical place of burning fire. I answer that Hell is spoken of as a fiery furnace and it is also spoken of as a place of outer darkness. It could not be both. Hell is spoken of as a lake of fire and not as a bottomless pit. It could not be both. What is my conclusion. These are figures of speech used to describe Hell.

"Hell is a place of insatible and tormenting desires that shall never be gratified. Hell is a place of shame. Hell is a place of an outraged and dishonored conscience. Hell is a place of vile companions."

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Steel and oil stocks led the whole market into a vigorous upturn in the early trading today. U. S. Steel set the pace at the opening of the market, with another jump to a new high record price level since the days of the war brides and independent steel stocks followed at no great distance. Baldwin Locomotive, at the head of the equipment stocks rushed up to 136½, for a gain of three points, also exceeding its best record for 1924.

Sterling exchange's rise to a new high since the active days of the world war, lent further encouragement to the hope that Great Britain would soon be placed on a gold basis and that active trading in American securities might again be established over the London cables. Another encouraging preopening event was the publication of the federal reserve bank's weekly report, showing that, simultaneously with the easing of the money situation and the decline in call money to two percent, the reserves of the New York bank had risen to 78.2 against 74.6 a week ago and 71.1 two weeks ago.

'Bringing Up Father,' Cartoon Musical Show, Here Saturday

"Bringing Up Father" will pay its yearly visit to the Ceramic theatre Saturday, matinee and night. This season's production will outclass anything that has ever been attempted in the way of the presentation of a play based upon the popular cartoon of the Sunday "Funny Papers."

"Bringing Up Father In Ireland" has been prepared with especial care by George McManus, and it will contain all of his latest and best comedy sketches as shown recently in more than one thousand newspapers throughout the entire world. No more prolific opportunity for hilarious comedy can be imagined than the series of ludicrous character sketches, conceived by the world's greatest newspaper staff artist.

The principal reason that the theatregoing public await with so much pleasure, the coming of "Bringing Up Father" is that they know of a surety that it will be entirely new. With no hold overs at all from any previous season. Naturdally "Jiggs and Maggie" and the cause of all their troubles "Dinty and the Flappers" will be there, but all new faces—new scenery and costumes and jokes—music and dances. It will live indefinitely with the system now in vogue. Crowded houses greet their every visit, theatres are not large enough to house the applicants for seats. That is the true history of "Bringing Up Father" and has been for the past ten consecutive years, as this is the tenth in the series.

Therefore, make it a point to secure seats as quickly as the date is announced and in that way be sure that you will not have to stand in line to be jostled by the crowd. Popular prices make it the success that it is.

Politeness Pays, But Not Always, Atlantan Learns

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan.—L. W. James, of College park, an Atlanta suburb, is polite at all times. Therefore, when he was stepped on quite accidentally by a woman who entered the elevator in which he was waiting to go up, he hurriedly got out of the way and asked her pardon for having been there. 'Bringing Up Father,' Cartoon Musical Show, Here Saturday

"Bringing Up Father" will pay its yearly visit to the Ceramic theatre Saturday, matinee and night. This season's production will outclass anything that has ever been attempted in the way of the presentation of a play based upon the popular cartoon of the Sunday "Funny Papers."

"Bringing Up Father In Ireland" has been prepared with especial care by George McManus, and it will contain all of his latest and best comedy sketches as shown recently in more than one thousand newspapers throughout the entire world. No more prolific opportunity for hilarious comedy can be imagined than the series of ludicrous character sketches, conceived by the world's greatest newspaper staff artist.

The principal reason that the theatregoing public await with so much pleasure, the coming of "Bringing Up Father" is that they know of a surety that it will be entirely new. With no hold overs at all from any previous season. Naturdally "Jiggs and Maggie" and the cause of all their troubles "Dinty and the Flappers" will be there, but all new faces—new scenery and costumes and jokes—music and dances. It will live indefinitely with the system now in vogue. Crowded houses greet their every visit, theatres are not large enough to house the applicants for seats. That is the true history of "Bringing Up Father" and has been for the past ten consecutive years, as this is the tenth in the series.

Therefore, make it a point to secure seats as quickly as the date is announced and in that way be sure that you will not have to stand in line to be jostled by the crowd. Popular prices make it the success that it is.

When the Duchess of Atholl entered the House of Commons with a fan just before the close of the last session, friends said that it was the first fan to appear there, so had it sent to the Perthshire Mueseum for preservation.

If the movement to have all children of London remain at school at 15 is successful the additional cost will be $35,000,000 a year.

Politeness Pays, But Not Always, Atlantan Learns

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan.—L. W. James, of College park, an Atlanta suburb, is polite at all times. Therefore, when he was stepped on quite accidentally by a woman who entered the elevator in which he was waiting to go up, he hurriedly got out of the way and asked her pardon for having been there. Two men who boarded the elevator with the woman were squarely behind James as he backed away and he jostled them. In the ensuing scramble James was knocked about quite a bit.

After apologies had been made and the trio had departed from the car, James entered an office to pay a bill. He had no money. A sum of $197 he had carried in a rear pocket was a. w. o. l.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

CHANGE IN ROAD NOW PROPOSED

Commissioners Asked to Relocate West Township Highway.

Grave doubt exists over the relocation of the East Rochester-North Georgetown road as was proposed by John T. French to the county commissioners early in the week. Mr. French advised the commissioners that he represented a number of people of West township who wanted this road changed from a point 2.44 miles north of East Rochester.

It has been pointed out that the grading on this road was finished about three years ago, and that the time to have the route of the road changed was before plans were approved by the county commissioners and the state highway department, and the grading contract awarded. To make a change in the road at this time, it is said by those who are in close touch with the situation, would be frowned upon by the state highway department.

Surfacing of this road this year is practically assured. Many property owners in West township have paid their road assessments, and quite a number of these reside on that portion of the highway that is now proposed to be eliminated from the route north of the 2.44 mile point north of East Rochester.

GIVEN PERMISSION TO ERECT POLES

In order that their power lines can be extended to Salineville and other parts of Washington and Yellow Creek township, the Ohio Power company has taken a right of way over the John F. Gilson farm in Yellow Creek township, agreeing to pay $30 for each pole erected on this farm land.

Lillian Thompson has granted the company a right of way through her lands in section 35, Washington township, and Allen Maple, residing in section, Washington township, has also granted a right of way to the company. In these two instances the land owners will receive $10 per pole for each pole erected upon their lands.

COUNTY ENGINEER MAKING ESTIMATES

County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk is engaged in preparing another estimate for the improvement of the East Palestine-Negley road from the foot of Crum's hill to the East Palestine corporate line. The original estimate was prepared on a grade of 8.6 per cent with hillside paving block for a surface.

The new estimate will be made on a grade of 7 per cent and with a concrete top. However, it is very likely that the county commissioners will ask for bids on both concrete and hill side block on this road and on a 7 per cent grade.

GRAND JURY WILL CONVENE MONDAY

Physicians' certificates have been filed with Sheriff George Wright by a number of people who have been drawn to serve on the grand jury, which begins its January session next Monday, and these people will not respond to their names. The panel will then be filled by others, as has been the rule in the past.

The petit jury will not be called until Monday, January 19. It is likely those who will be indicted by the grand jury will be arraigned following the opening of court next Monday week.

ROAD WIDENING MAY BE ORDERED

It will create little if any surprise should the state highway department insist that the Lisbon-Salem road from the northern corporate line of Lisbon to the south end of the brick section of this road be improved and widened this year. Intimation of this intent has been received in Lisbon from the state highway department offices in Columbus.

The county commissioners proposed to widen a portion of this road just north of Lisbon two years ago, but the plan fell through.

FIRE ASSOCIATION TO HOLD MEETING

The annual meeting of the Butler-Goshen Mutual Aid Society will be held in the high school at Damascus at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The society was organized 40 years ago among the farmers and residents of that community for mutual fire insurance purposes, and during the life of the organization over $2,000,000 insurance has been underwritten. Officers are to be elected at this meeting.

Claiming that $442 is due them on notes, the Security Finance company, of Iowa, has filed an action in common pleas court against F. E. Sitler, of Columbiana. The petition of the corporation was f... Attorney W. Wallace, of C...

RUSH EXPECTED FOR DOG LICENSES

A rush to obtain dog licenses for 1925 is expected by Deputy Sheriff Randall Hamilton beginning next Monday. Next week will be the height of "tax paying time" and also when so many people who are in Lisbon pay for their dog license.

There have been 305 dog licenses issued up to this time for this term. The number is under that of last year for the corresponding period, and because of the fact that an extension for the payment of property taxes has been granted.

A motion for a new trial has been filed with Probate Judge Lodge Riddle in the first case of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad company against C. O. CHANGE IN ROAD NOW PROPOSED Commissioners Asked to Relocate West Township Highway.

Grave doubt exists over the relocation of the East Rochester-North Georgetown road as was proposed by John T. French to the county commissioners early in the week. Mr. French advised the commissioners that he represented a number of people of West township who wanted this road changed from a point 2.44 miles north of East Rochester.

It has been pointed out that the grading on this road was finished about three years ago, and that the time to have the route of the road changed was before plans were approved by the county commissioners and the state highway department, and the grading contract awarded. To make a change in the road at this time, it is said by those who are in close touch with the situation, would be frowned upon by the state highway department.

Surfacing of this road this year is practically assured. Many property owners in West township have paid their road assessments, and quite a number of these reside on that portion of the highway that is now proposed to be eliminated from the route north of the 2.44 mile point north of East Rochester.

GIVEN PERMISSION TO ERECT POLES

In order that their power lines can be extended to Salineville and other parts of Washington and Yellow Creek township, the Ohio Power company has taken a right of way over the John F. Gilson farm in Yellow Creek township, agreeing to pay $30 for each pole erected on this farm land.

Lillian Thompson has granted the company a right of way through her lands in section 35, Washington township, and Allen Maple, residing in section, Washington township, has also granted a right of way to the company. In these two instances the land owners will receive $10 per pole for each pole erected upon their lands.

COUNTY ENGINEER MAKING ESTIMATES

County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk is engaged in preparing another estimate for the improvement of the East Palestine-Negley road from the foot of Crum's hill to the East Palestine corporate line. The original estimate was prepared on a grade of 8.6 per cent with hillside paving block for a surface.

The new estimate will be made on a grade of 7 per cent and with a concrete top. However, it is very likely that the county commissioners will ask for bids on both concrete and hill side block on this road and on a 7 per cent grade.

GRAND JURY WILL CONVENE MONDAY

Physicians' certificates have been filed with Sheriff George Wright by a number of people who have been drawn to serve on the grand jury, which begins its January session next Monday, and these people will not respond to their names. The panel will then be filled by others, as has been the rule in the past.

The petit jury will not be called until Monday, January 19. It is likely those who will be indicted by the grand jury will be arraigned following the opening of court next Monday week.

ROAD WIDENING MAY BE ORDERED

It will create little if any surprise should the state highway department insist that the Lisbon-Salem road from the northern corporate line of Lisbon to the south end of the brick section of this road be improved and widened this year. Intimation of this intent has been received in Lisbon from the state highway department offices in Columbus.

The county commissioners proposed to widen a portion of this road just north of Lisbon two years ago, but the plan fell through.

Homeworth

The annual Farmers' institute closed Saturday evening with an attendance of 1,770 people. The excellent program prepared for the Friday and Saturday sessions offset by the frigidity of the weather and brought people from far near. Wheeler J. Welday, Mr. Tetzleff and Miss F. Gertrude Aikens were the chief speakers. With one or two exceptions the program was carried out as previously arranged. "Rearing and Culling Chickens" was the subject discussed by Mr. Tetzleff. Several outside organizations which assisted in making the program a success were Saffell's orchestra, the Artarmo orchestra, Freshley's quartet, East Beech sextet and the pupils of the public schools in the township. In the poster contest prizes were awarded as follows: First prize $2.00, won by Ray Springer; second prize, $1.75, won by Merle Maxwell; third prize, $1.50, won by Helen Crist; fourth prize, $1.25, won by Donald Conrad; fifth prize, $1.00, won by Edwin Emmons. George Stoffer won first place in the corn contest, with an exhibit of white corn, while F. S. Pieren won the same honors in the yellow corn exhibit. The best plate of apples was exhibited by George Wyss. In the wheat exhibit G. F. Ramsayer was given first place. G. L. Knoll was given first place in the potato exhibit. The nail driving contest for women on Friday was won by Mrs. O. A. Ferner and on Saturday by Mrs. F. S. Pieren. In the sewing contest for men only, in which G. L. Knoll, G. W. Erchler, E. A. Kibler, D. F. Hahn, Frank Anthony and William Boren were contestants, Mr. Anthony was proclaimed the winner, with Erchler a close second. The prizes given in the nail driving contest and the grain, fruit and vegetable contests were donated by the business men and merchants of Homeworth. President G. F. JAPANESE, ON PAY OF LESS THAN $1 A DAY, NOW IS WORTH $100,000

TOKIO — Although his daily wage, after 20 years' toil in the government arsenal at Otsuka, is less than $1 per day, K. Okada has a tidy little fortune of more than $100,000 tucked away.

Okada started to work at a wage of about 14 cents per day. When he had saved $2.50, some 20 years ago he bought a new hat. He is still wearing it.

But meantime he kept on saving money and bought land when land was cheap. Now he owns 500 tsubo of land, that is constantly increasing in value and has 15 houses from which he derives a snug little income in rentals.

Okada plans to buy more land but he sees no reason yet for buying a new hat or quitting his job at the arsenal.

San Carlo Opera Ticket Sale Will Open Next Tuesday

Beginning Tuesday, January 13, seats for the coming engagement of the San Carlo Grand Opera company will be placed on sale at the box office of the Ceramic theatre, East Liverpool, Ohio. The advance enthusiasm evidenced by the local music lovers over the first announcements that this noted New York lyric organization was to appear here, will have the opportunity to express itself in concrete manner. Already advance reservations point to an unusually successful engagement.

All mail orders will be filled in the order of their receipt at the local ticket offices. It is suggested by Manager Tallman that all those who desire well-located seats, apply as early as possible as the demand is expected to be unusually heavy. With previous experience in such matters Manager Tallman askts that patrons do not delay their selection of seats, and announces that many patrons have expressed a desire to give box or theatre parties for the special engagement and that they can be accommodated if early application is made.

That the occasion will be a social as well as artistic success was clearly indicated this week when many of those socially prominent announced that they would be present. Grand opera affords a double opportunity to patrons, to enjoy an excellent musical and dramatic presentation and in addition entertain their guests in the very best manner, at the American's national institution. A pair of grand opera tickets have come into popular vogue as splendid gifts and during the Christmas season last year, thousands of the little pasteboards were sent to friends as the most acceptable sort of gift. Birthday parties can be topped off successfully by having the entire group of guests attend a performance of the opera. Like the radio, which brought music to millions, grand opera has become our national entertainment.

Water Pipe Line Laid At Bottom of Lake In The Adirondacks

WHITEHALL, N. Y.—To obtain a new water supply, Whitehall, a village in the Adirondacks, completed a unique pipe line system in which water is passed under water.

The project for which Edward F. Roche, editor and publisher and Mayor of Whitehall, led the movement, cost the village $300,000.

HOW MANY ITEMS IN A DRUG STORE?

We have never had time to count the different items carried in our drug stores and it is hard even to make an estimate.

One wholesale drug house claims to carry over thirty thousand different items in their stock which, of course, is a higher number than we carry, but our different items runs up to several thousand and a good number of these items are in our prescription departments.

Even with the high number of items carried they are not bought in a haphazard manner just to get a price, but only from reliable sources where quality is the first consideration and that is why prescriptions filled at our stores give the result intended by the physician.

San Carlo Opera Ticket Sale Will Open Next Tuesday

Beginning Tuesday, January 13, seats for the coming engagement of the San Carlo Grand Opera company will be placed on sale at the box office of the Ceramic theatre, East Liverpool, Ohio. The advance enthusiasm evidenced by the local music lovers over the first announcements that this noted New York lyric organization was to appear here, will have the opportunity to express itself in concrete manner. Already advance reservations point to an unusually successful engagement.

All mail orders will be filled in the order of their receipt at the local ticket offices. It is suggested by Manager Tallman that all those who desire well located seats, apply as early as possible as the demand is expected to be unusually heavy. With previous experience in such matters Manager Tallman askts that patrons do not delay their selection of seats, and announces that many patrons have expressed a desire to give box or theatre parties for the special engagement and that they can be accommodated if early application is made.

That the occasion will be a social as well as artistic success was clearly indicated this week when many of those socially prominent announced that they would be present. Grand opera affords a double opportunity to patrons, to enjoy an excellent musical and dramatic presentation and in addition entertain their guests in the very best manner, at the American's national institution. A pair of grand opera tickets have come into popular vogue as splendid gifts and during the Christmas season last year, thousands of the little pasteboards were sent to friends as the most acceptable sort of gift. Birthday parties can be topped off successfully by having the entire group of guests attend a performance of the opera. Like the radio, which brought music to millions, grand opera has become our national entertainment.

Water Pipe Line Laid At Bottom of Lake In The Adirondacks

WHITEHALL, N. Y.—To obtain a new water supply, Whitehall, a village in the Adirondacks, completed a unique pipe line system in which water is passed under water.

The project for which Edward F. Roche, editor and publisher and Mayor of Whitehall, led the movement, cost the village $300,000.

The attention of several score Wellsville residents and many persons living in the rural communities of the district are centered on Cleveland today as action went on in the investigation of the affairs of the former Cleveland Discount Co., and its ex-head, Josiah H. Kirby.

Number of local residents invested savings in the company several years ago when a branch office was opened in the old Silver building, in the public square.

Today's outstanding development was the surrender of Josiah Kirby, the former organizer of the $32,000,000 concern which now is in the hands of receivers, to federal authorities in Cleveland. He entered a plea of not guilty to indictment returned yesterday by federal grand jury, and he was released under bond of $10,000.

"I'll fight the charges against me to my last cent," Kirby said as he left the federal building. He was later to be arraigned on charges returned by the state grand jury. He went to Cleveland from Pittsburgh where he received information he had been indicted.

An indictment returned against him yesterday in federal court charged using the mails to defraud, while in the state courts he is charged with issuing a false financial statement in violation of the state blue sky laws. The investigation by a special state and the regular federal grand jury will continue, it was said by both state and federal autohrities.

Upon Kirby's arrival, it was expected that a fight would be staged between the state and federal authorities for possession of Kirby and the right to first bring him to bar to answer to the charges. Walter D. Meals, his attorney, who promised United States district Attorney Bernsteen to produce his client when wanted said he would surrender to federal authorities.

Indicted with Kirby by the Cuyahoga county grand jury was R .L. Poland, former treasurer of the discount company, who has acted as treasurer for the receivers since the concern was taken over by the courts two years ago.

The federal indictment is one of the longest ever returned in federal court in Cleveland. The specifications cover 185 pages, and recite various alleged offenses dealing with illegal use of the mails by misrepresentation of the colue of teh common stock of the company.

Among those to whom false representations are alleged to have been made are Frank M. Schram, Toledo; Mary O. Dennis, Orient; Frank C. Wright, Grove City; Charles Hack, Cardington; Lloyd Haverstock, North Canton; Gilbert Ray Ingold, North Canton; W. A. Taylor, Ontario; Elizabeth Bechtel, Wooster; William Downard, McArthur; Martha Bell, Smithton, W. Va.; M. C. Vokmar, Westerville; J. W. Jardine, Youngstown; and George F. Bishop, Defiance, O.

The Cleveland Discount company was thrown into the hands of receivars two years ago. A special commissioner appointed by Judge D. C. Westenhaver found the company solvent, when suit was filed by creditors to declare it bankrupt. Kirby, who went to Cleveland from Cincinnati, where he had failed in the real estate business, recently settled with receivers a debt of $1,500,000.

CITY'S OLDEST HAS BIRTHDAY

James Love, Civil War Vet, Rounds Out Another Year of Life.

James Love, 91 years old, probably the oldest man in Wellsville, today celebrated his birthday anniversary at his home in Danbury avenue.

The celebration will be quite unostentatious as the aged man watches the passing of another milestone. He will be with his only daughter and near relative, Loa Love.

His birthday will be doubly significant to him.

He has lived another year of his life, which to him unquestionably is as sweet as the days of the most vigorous young man of 25.

And this old veteran of many battles of the Civil war, survivor of the troubled days of internal rebellion, has warded off the effects of a dangerous fall he had eight weeks ago.

A mis-step on the back porch of his home, the fall—and then he was carried into his home, apprehension in the mind of his nearest friends. After eight weeks, he has "come back." He's glad to be alive, bearing bravely the lingering effects of a fractured shoulder bone.

Mr. Love fought through the Civil war. After that he became a railroad worker and today is a pensioned veteran of the Pennsylvania company.

He was born in Steubenville and spent his boyhood days there and in that vicinity. He has called Wellsville his home for approximately 60 years.

COLORED PASTOR WILL GIVE TALK

Under the auspices of the Daisy club, of the First Baptist church here, Rev. J. McClay, pastor of the Second Baptist church, of Wellsville, will preach Tuesday night in the local church.

His subject will be "Race Consciousness." Mrs. Frances Jackson will be chairman.

Mrs. Arch Parr Hostess.

Mrs. Arch Parr was hostess to members of Sunday school class No. 12 of the First Methodist Protestant church Thursday evening at her home in Clark avenue. A social hour followed the business session. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Lacopra Funeral Today.

Funeral services for Alessanico Lacopra, 32 years old, Italian laborer, who was crushed to death between two locomotives in the engine house of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad here Tuesday night, were held this morning in the Immaculate Conception church, in charge of Rev. John T. Ruffing. Burial was made in St. Elizabeth cemetery.

Entertain Knights.

Ladies of the Golden Eagle entertained Knights of the Golden Eagle and their families last evening in the lodge rooms, Ninth and Main streets.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock, followed by a business session and social hour.

Wright, Grove City; Charles Hack, Cardington; Lloyd Haverstock, North Canton; Gilbert Ray Ingold, North Canton; W. A. Taylor, Ontario; Elizabeth Bechtel, Wooster; William Downard, McArthur; Martha Bell, Smithton, W. Va.; M. C. Vokmar, Westerville; J. W. Jardine, Youngstown; and George F. Bishop, Defiance, O.

The Cleveland Discount company was thrown into the hands of receivars two years ago. A special commissioner appointed by Judge D. C. Westenhaver found the company solvent, when suit was filed by creditors to declare it bankrupt. CITY'S OLDEST HAS BIRTHDAY

James Love, 91 years old, probably the oldest man in Wellsville, today celebrated his birthday anniversary at his home in Danbury avenue.

The celebration will be quite unostentatious as the aged man watches the passing of another milestone. He will be with his only daughter and near relative, Loa Love.

His birthday will be doubly significant to him.

He has lived another year of his life, which to him unquestionably is as sweet as the days of the most vigorous young man of 25.

And this old veteran of many battles of the Civil war, survivor of the troubled days of internal rebellion, has warded off the effects of a dangerous fall he had eight weeks ago.

A mis-step on the back porch of his home, the fall—and then he was carried into his home, apprehension in the mind of his nearest friends. After eight weeks, he has "come back." He's glad to be alive, bearing bravely the lingering effects of a fractured shoulder bone.

Mr. Love fought through the Civil war. After that he became a railroad worker and today is a pensioned veteran of the Pennsylvania company.

He was born in Steubenville and spent his boyhood days there and in that vicinity. He has called Wellsville his home for approximately 60 years.

COLORED PASTOR WILL GIVE TALK

Under the auspices of the Daisy club, of the First Baptist church here, Rev. J. McClay, pastor of the Second Baptist church, of Wellsville, will preach Tuesday night in the local church.

His subject will be "Race Consciousness." Mrs. Frances Jackson will be chairman.

Mrs. Arch Parr Hostess.

Mrs. Arch Parr was hostess to members of Sunday school class No. 12 of the First Methodist Protestant church Thursday evening at her home in Clark avenue. A social hour followed the business session. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

PUBLIC SQUARE WELLSVILLE, OHIO

PSYCHOLOGY OF WORD PUZZLES ALSO PROBLEM; IDEA BOOMS DICTIONARIES

NEW YORK.—A tiny dictionary, a little volume hardly larger than a wrist watch, is being sold on the streets of New York like the proverbial hot cakes. Your first guess is correct—it is being bought by the cross-word puzzle fans.

This is not the only dictionary placed on the market especially for cross-word puzzle workers. Hardly a publishing house that deals in dictionaries has over-looked the field. One firm alone has sold 250,000 volumes.

A most remarkable phase of the cross-word craze, and one which is baffling psychologists, is that the cross-word puzzle made its appearance in New York thirteen years ago and failed to interest the public. The syndicate which created cross-word puzzles at that time shortly afterward discontinued them because of the public's lack of interest.

No form of public amusement has taken hold the way the cross-word puzzle has. It is almost impossible to pick up a newspaper anywhere in the country without finding a cross-word puzzle.

Harry Flory, an American newspaper correspondent stationed in Londone, who arrived on the liner Olympic this week, said that the cross-word puzzle only now has begun to interest the British. At first it was looked upon as "another American fad." Newspapers printed long articles, some of which were highly exaggerated, and told of "cross-word tournaments in all the large cities."

It is a different story today, Flory said. The stolid Englishman may be seen grimly absorbed in cudgeling his brain for "a word of four letters representing a bird's mouth," as he rides on the bus. In the house of parliament a member surreptitiously draws a paper from his pocket during a desultory debate and begins thoughtfully to print letters in white squares.

Coming back to America, J. C. Boyd, who complies cross-word puzzles for the biggest newspaper feature syndicate in this country, says the cross-word puzzle in reality was originated 13 years ago by a New York artist. He hit upon the idea of combining an acrostic, a puzzle-poem, with a checkerboard.

Boyd is not so sure that the fad is adding to the vocabulary of the American people, as has been contended. The average vocabularly comprises 600 words, according to Boyd, and creators of cross-word puzzles aim to keep all words within such a vocabulary.

The cross-word has, however, brought an enormous demand for dictionaries, Boyd said. These new dictionaries, though, contain more three-letter words than anything else, and, while they help the puzzle-worker, they are not, in his opinion, conducive to a greater vocabulary.

Archaeologists are declaring that the cross word puzzle idea is to be found in cuneiform or cylinder writing. It was, they argue, created by the Phoenicians some 10,000 years ago.

The psychologists are about evenly divided on the subject. The majority is inclined to the belief that the psychology of the cross-word puzzle is that the human mind is eager for mental combat. The cross-word puzzle, they say, is a form of challenge, and since it is simple, millions of minds have accepted the challenge.

Stolen Suit So "Loud" It Betrays Itself in Pawn

NEW YORK, Jan.—When Harold Webster, an actor, befriended John McGregor Christmas Eve, took the Scotch lad to his home and fed and housed him, he did not intend that his hospitality should include a Scotch Norfolk tweed suit.

Webster was angry Christmas morning when he found McGregor and the suit were missing. The police said the suit was one of the "loudest" that ever walked along Broadway.

In tracing it the police came across the pawnbroker who had refused to take it because of its pronounced pattern.

Later the suit was found in a pawnbroker's shop at Twelfth street and Third avenue, where it had been pledged for $5.00.

After the actor had received his property he expressed a strong desire to meet McGregor for at least five minutes.

CHILDRENS CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

(Running Across.)

Word 3. A boy's name.
Word 4. Used to keep the cattle out of the corn.

(Running Down.

Word 1. Synonym for the word shown in capitals in the following sentence: "The boy returned to school after a SHORT illness."
Word 2. To move about to music.

PLEA FOR PRIVATE MERCHANT MARINE MADE BY ADMIRALTY LAWYER

A plea for the establishment of a permanent merchant marine in foreign trade under private ownership and a warning that the present service will entirely disappear if the United States government undertakes to own and operate ships was made recently by Ira A. Campbell, admiralty lawyer.

"Until the politicians, and by that I mean those who think in terms of politics and not of business, awaken to the fact that American shipping cannot be successfully sovietized and realize that if there is to be permanency in its maintenance of growth, it must come through the individual initiative of the American business man and not through government ownership and operation, we are doomed to failure on the seas in foreign trade," said Mr. Campbell.

Government Ownership

There continues to be a concerted effort to involve the government in permanent ownership and operation.

"For example take the new designations of operators of the government ships. With but few exceptions, excluding the passenger service to South America and the Orient, the operators of the government ships are not the owners of ships.

"Only recently the fact that a prominent shipping man, amply financed, seeking to retain one of the government services he had built up, was planning to purchase from the board in the near future the necessary tonnage to maintain the service apparently made no appeal to the dominant commissioners in the assignment of the service for government operation. Notwithstanding that negotiations had already been initiated with Admiral Palmer for the purchase of ships, this man's connections with the service were peremptorily ended, after a hearing that was a mere farce.

"No progress can be made towards inducing the American business man to put his money into ships in foreign trade unless and until his menace of government ownership is ended. But how can this attempt to involve the government permanently in the shipping business be stopped? By a full disclosure of the financial results of government operation.

"My disclosure I do not mean the kind of reports hertofore emanating from those in authority. But I do mean such public accounting as will actually and fully disclose the true results of the operations.

Rain Statistics.

TILTONVILLE — Prohibition advocates to the contrary notwithstanding, 1924 was damper than 1923. Records at the weather station here show 34.51 inches of rain fell in 1924, compared with 33.28 inches in 1923. The 1924 total was larger than that of 1923 in spite of the fact that last October, with only 29.100 of an inch of rain, was the driest October in 110 years in Ohio.

Because of the change of prices, estimates made in 1919 of the cost of reclamation of the Pontine marshes in Italy are about one-fifth of what the actual expenditure will be.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau can not give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settled domestic troubles, nor undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What is the most common dream? M. C. D.

A. The most common dream is said to be that of wandering about nude or insufficiently clothed.

Q. What city has the most telephones in proportion to population? E. V. Y.

A. Omaha leads the world with 28 telephones to each 100 persons. The next ten cities, in order, are Stockholm, San Francisco, Minneapolis, Denver, Washington, Los Angeles, Chicago, Toronto, Cincinnati and New York.

Q. Doesn't the human heart ever rest? H. H. R.

A. The heart rests between beats, about eight-tenths of a second elapsing between the contractons which are about one-tenth of a second in length.

Q. Is there a standard size for the hose used by fire departments? T. S. T.

A. The hose generally considered as standard for fire-fighting purposes is 2½ inches in diameter, which at 90 pounds pressure at the hydrant gives a flow of approximately 195 gallons per minute through 500 feet of hose with a pressure of 20 pounds at the nozzle. Smaller hose is said to give friction losses too high in proportion to the usefulness of the hose, and 3-inch hose is considered too awkward to handle.

Q. Is it true that they are making false teeth of steel in Germany? T. T. K.

A. The Krupp Korks in Germany are now manufacturing enameled steel false teeth. Eight dentists are employed in the department, and it is said that the steel teeth are becoming increasingly popular because of their durability.

Q. Where is the largest clock in the world? C. R. W.

A. The largest clock in the world is on the roof of a factory in Jersey City. The clock face is 50 feet in diameter, and the minute hand is 27 feet long and weighs a ton.

Q. Would a hen hatch an eagle's egg? H. W. H.

A. That experiment is said to have been tried successfully by Guy O. Glazier, of the San Diego Society of Natural History, although he had to use three hens. When one hen had sat on the egg two weeks another was put on the job. It was 41 days before the young eagle broke through the shell.

Q. How many states have a gasoline tax? G. T. S.

A. In 36 of the 48 states a tax of 1 to 3 cents a gallon is levied on gasoline used in motor vehicles, and an aggregate annual revenue estimated at $50,000,000 is raised thereby. The states that do not tax gasoline are Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska and Kansas.

Q. In City Hall Park, New York, there is a statue of Nathan Hale. Does it really resemble the patriot? D. A. E.

A. Frederick Macmonnies, who designed this statue had no likeness of Hale from which to work. It is therefore an idealized conception. The sculptor is quoted as saying: "A statue in bronze or stone should never be a photographic likeness but should be so conceived as an ideal that the figure should symbolize the life work of the subject."

Q. Please give me the derivation of "hale" and "hail." B. McN.

A. Hail is from the Anglo-Saxon haegel which means "frozen rain." Halo is from the Icelandish heill meaning "sound."

Q. Why is red used as a danger signal? D. W. I.

A. Because it is most easily distinguished at a distance, Bureau of Standards tests of traffic signals placed red first in visibility, green second and blue a poor third. Ordinarily railroad yellow lights, it was found, often are mistaken for orange or red.

Over $130,000,000 Given Away for Worthy Causes in 1924

The year of 1924 will go down in history as notable for many things. One of these will be the generosity of the philanthropists of the country who have donated or bequeathed a total of over $130,000,000 in the past 12 months. The largest single monetary contribution to the common weal was that of James B. Duke, millionaire tobacco and power magnate, who recently gave $40,000,000 in the form of a trust fund for charitable and educational purposes. Above are some of the philanthropists who made notable contributions during the year. Top row, left to right, James B. Duke, J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller. Lower row, George F. Baker, George Eastman, Mrs. Jacob Wesley Wilbur and William Boyce Thompson.

RHEUMATISM PAINS ARE NOW IN SEASON

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kinds.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kindneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

YOUR HEALTH

Solving the Problem of Constipation Wisely

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

SOME time has passed since I wrote about constipation. There is no more common ailment and advice regarding it is never out of season.

More and more I am amazed that so many men and women regularly resort to cathartics and other violent means of emptying the intestines. There is hardly a household that has no shelf or cupboard with a bottle of castor oil, milk of magnesia or some form of salts. Pills, powders and capsules for this trouble are sold by the millions.

I agree that something is needed to keep the intestinal tract clean, but I do protest against the all-too-common practice of home dosing of this ailment. It is a pity that people do not learn to eat, drink and live the right way. It is not natural or right to be constipated. It is an evidence of wrong eating or wrong habits to have this failure of function.

However, many a person has established the constipation habit. It is present and that is all there is to it. Temporary measures may be required to overcome it.

What can be done to assist the bowels to function and yet not cause much violent upsetting of the system as to disturb the comfort of the victim for a couple of days after the treatment? You know calomel and other "pills" are disturbing. You feel yourself to be a wreck after this medication.

On another occasion I shall mention the sort of foods, the kinds of beverages, the kinds of exercise which will assist intestinal action. To-day I shall content myself by speaking once more of petroleum oil as a pretty satisfactory way of encouraging intestinal activity.

Petroleum is a mineral. When it is swallowed it is not absorbed any more than a pebble or a marble would be. It merely acts as a lubricant, exactly as it would on the wheel of a wagon. It "greases" the intestinal wall and thus facilitates the passage of the food waste.

There have been additions of agar-agar to petroleum, forming an agreeable emulsion. There have been many palatable and useful mixtures made to cover the taste, or rather the tastelessness of refined petroleum. All are useful.

This is not a habit-forming practice, but it is a means of relief which is dependable and simple.

YOUR HEALTH

Solving the Problem of Constipation Wisely

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

"What brought Clarice here was Rossiter, not pictures, Mrs. Kaime. When I knew, I warned her how it wold be. He had dropped her in New York, changed his mind. Perhaps it's to his credit that he did, under the circumstances. But he gave her no explanation, and she followed him here, and a man, accustomed as Rossiter is to women's devotion, does not hesitate to show his annoyance. The result is what you see in there, the culmination of a fit of utter recklessness. You see, in this place, as in every other place, there are people, men and women, who are hangers-on. There are some degenerates in the motion picture industry, as there are in every industry, reckless ones who are ready to be led into debauchery, and their big salaries are a temptation to people like Cairns and Deeme and their women who have no connection with pictures whatever—they are simply birds of prey. Then there is a scandal, such as there has been this last year, and the motion picture industry gets the blame. Every one at the hotel knew that Clarice is coming into a large fortune very shortly, and she was fair game for the bloodsuckers. She was in a reckless mood and let herself be caught up by them easily. So far, no man has gotten the better of the child, that I know. In a way, her love for Rossiter has been a protection. Love will do that for a girl, make certain things impossible. Unfortunately, I have little or no influence with Clarice. Owing to circumstances for which I was not to blame, she was alienated from me when she was a child, and she has cultivated a defiant spirit. I have been forced to rely on her good qualities—for she has them—to see her through. She is not stupid—she is capable of learning through experience. And I hold to it that her love for Rossiter will help her, in the end. For she does love him, completely. You have asked, and I have told you the truth."

Karesia had considered and had decided. She said quietly, "I suppose you have guessed that Rand is my husband? We were married five years ago. We have been separated ever since. I saw him for the first time in five years—last evening."

"Yes, I was certain of it."

"Yet you took my house—knowing about your daughter."

"The only way to conquer life is to face it. Clarice will learn that the average man wants for his wife a woman he can respect. As I said, she is one of those who can be taught only through experience."

Karesia drew a quick breath. "But it hurts so—experience does! I don't know what the future will be—I shall do the best I can with it. I have told you in confidence. I think there is no one but yourself who knows that I am even acquainted with Randsome Rossiter."

"Least of all your daughter—not for the present!" Karesia said quickly. "What shall I tell her when she asks?"

"Exactly what happened. That Rossiter took her away from that crowd and brought her here. He knew that I had rented your house. If you will telephone me when she wakes, I will come and get her."

"Will it be known at the hotel? That party last night?"

"I am afraid it will."

Karesia's head lifted. "She shall stay here with me, if she wishes. Why should she go back there and be reminded of it?"

Again Dascome was silent. Then he said in the same toneless way as before, "I am very grateful to you." He straightened and drew a quick breath. "She is very difficult—I hope she won't offend you. If only she will stay here! I'd like to make it a little easier for you tomorrow. May I send my Japanese boy, Takimoto, to help you? Keep him until you are settled next door. He is very capable and an excellent cook."

"What a relief!" Karesia said. "That is good of you! Perhaps he can get me a Japanese? That would solve my difficulty. I simply will not let Mary Bliss work as she has today. With a Japanese to wait on me, I shall feel like an oriental princess." She was too weary for the usual lilting note.

"I am going now. Your bed is occupied, where are you going to sleep?" Dascome inquired.

"Here, I suppose. There is the spare room, but I am so tired that it would take a bomb to move me."

Dascome opened the doors, went through the next room into the hall, and disappeared. Karesia sat up, wondering. In a few minutes he came back, sat down and lifted her. "Consider me the bomb," he said in answer to her gasp.

Karesia did not stir in his arms; she was too much surprised. Even when he placed her on the bed in the spare room and, kneeling, drew off her slippers, she was speechless. He did it in an intent way, with a sort of eagerness to render her a service; at least, so it seemed to Karesia. In his brief visit to the room he had turned down the covers and had arranged the pillows.

He drew the covers over her and tucked them about her, gravely and competently. Then he stood up and smiled at her. "Now! Are you comfortable?" he asked.

"Sleep till ten, then, and Taki will have breakfast ready for you. I'll give him his orders. I'll see that everything is locked downstairs and I'll take the kitchen door key with me, so just sleep," and he went out as swiftly as he had entered.

Karesia lay motionless until she heard the sound of his car. Then she turned her face to the pillow and began to cry; to a woman, weeping is the natural easement for a heartache.

XXII

The clear defiant voice waked Karesia. For a moment she was dazed; she was not in her own room and there was no one in the room with her. Then she heard Mary Bliss' indistinct mumble, and recollection made clear to Karesia the responsibilities of the day. She must have slept late.

But he gave her no explanation, and she followed him here, and a man, accustomed as Rossiter is to women's devotion, does not hesitate to show his annoyance. The result is what you see in there, the culmination of a fit of utter recklessness. You see, in this place, as in every other place, there are people, men and women, who are hangers-on. There are some degenerates in the motion picture industry, as there are in every industry, reckless ones who are ready to be led into debauchery, and their big salaries are a temptation to people like Cairns and Deeme and their women who have no connection with pictures whatever—they are simply birds of prey. Then there is a scandal, such as there has been this last year, and the motion picture industry gets the blame. Every one at the hotel knew that Clarice is coming into a large fortune very shortly, and she was fair game for the bloodsuckers. She was in a reckless mood and let herself be caught up by them easily. So far, no man has gotten the better of the child, that I know. In a way, her love for Rossiter has been a protection. Love will do that for a girl, make certain things impossible. Unfortunately, I have little or no influence with Clarice. Owing to circumstances for which I was not to blame, she was alienated from me when she was a child, and she has cultivated a defiant spirit. I have been forced to rely on her good qualities—for she has them—to see her through. She is not stupid—she is capable of learning through experience. And I hold to it that her love for Rossiter will help her, in the end. For she does love him, completely. You have asked, and I have told you the truth."

Karesia had considered and had decided. She said quietly, "I suppose you have guessed that Rand is my husband? We were married five years ago. We have been separated ever since. I saw him for the first time in five years—last evening."

"Yes, I was certain of it."

"Yet you took my house—knowing about your daughter."

"The only way to conquer life is to face it. Clarice will learn that the average man wants for his wife a woman he can respect. As I said, she is one of those who can be taught only through experience."

Karesia drew a quick breath. "But it hurts so—experience does! I don't know what the future will be—I shall do the best I can with it. I have told you in confidence. I think there is no one but yourself who knows that I am even acquainted with Randsome Rossiter."

"Least of all your daughter—not for the present!" Karesia said quickly. "What shall I tell her when she asks?"

"Exactly what happened. That Rossiter took her away from that crowd and brought her here. He knew that I had rented your house. If you will telephone me when she wakes, I will come and get her."

"Will it be known at the hotel? That party last night?"

"I am afraid it will."

Karesia's head lifted. "She shall stay here with me, if she wishes. Why should she go back there and be reminded of it?"

Again Dascome was silent. Then he said in the same toneless way as before, "I am very grateful to you." He straightened and drew a quick breath. "She is very difficult—I hope she won't offend you. If only she will stay here! I'd like to make it a little easier for you tomorrow. May I send my Japanese boy, Takimoto, to help you? Keep him until you are settled next door. He is very capable and an excellent cook."

"What a relief!" Karesia said. "That is good of you! Perhaps he can get me a Japanese? That would solve my difficulty. I simply will not let Mary Bliss work as she has today. With a Japanese to wait on me, I shall feel like an oriental princess." She was too weary for the usual lilting note.

"I am going now. Your bed is occupied, where are you going to sleep?" Dascome inquired.

"Here, I suppose. There is the spare room, but I am so tired that it would take a bomb to move me."

Dascome opened the doors, went through the next room into the hall, and disappeared. Karesia sat up, wondering. In a few minutes he came back, sat down and lifted her. "Consider me the bomb," he said in answer to her gasp.

Karesia did not stir in his arms; she was too much surprised. Even when he placed her on the bed in the spare room and, kneeling, drew off her slippers, she was speechless. He did it in an intent way, with a sort of eagerness to render her a service; at least, so it seemed to Karesia. In his brief visit to the room he had turned down the covers and had arranged the pillows.

He drew the covers over her and tucked them about her, gravely and competently. Then he stood up and smiled at her. "Now! Are you comfortable?" he asked.

"Sleep till ten, then, and Taki will have breakfast ready for you. I'll give him his orders. I'll see that everything is locked downstairs and I'll take the kitchen door key with me, so just sleep," and he went out as swiftly as he had entered.

Karesia lay motionless until she heard the sound of his car. Then she turned her face to the pillow and began to cry; to a woman, weeping is the natural easement for a heartache.

XXII

"No! I won't stay here! He had no right to bring me here!"

The clear defiant voice waked Karesia. For a moment she was dazed; she was not in her own room and there was no one in the room with her. Then she heard Mary Bliss' indistinct mumble, and recollection made clear to Karesia the responsibilities of the day. She must have slept late.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Cinnamon Toast—Spread slices of dry bread with butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Cut into triangles and set in a hot oven until crisp and light brown.

Baked Cabbage and Cheese—Take one-half head of cabbage sliced rather finely, one-half pound of cheese, four tablespoons each of butter and flour, one pint of milk, one teaspoon salt, pepper and buttered crumbs. Make a white sauce with the butter, flour and milk, seasoning it with salt and pepper. In a baking dish arrange alternate layers of cabbage and white sauce with the sliced cheese between each layer. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for one and one-half hours.

Favorite Pumpkin Pie.—One cup each of cooked pumpkins, apple sauce and thin cream, one tablespoon flour one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon each of ginger and cinnamon, one beaten egg and three-fourths cup sugar. Mix well the dry ingredients and add to the pumpkin, apple sauce and egg. Stir in the cream and pour into the crust. Bake 45 minutes or until it rises in middle.

Honey Pudding—One-half cup each of sugar and strained honey, one egg, three tablespoons corn starch, one and one-fourth cups boiling water, one teaspoon butter and juice of one-third lemon. Mix the sugar and cornstarch and stir with the egg yolk until smooth, adding a very little of the hot water, then add all the water and bring to boil stirring constantly. Cook in double boiler five minutes and add the honey, butter and lemon juice. Pour into glass dishes and serve cold, topped with meringue made with the egg white.

Did you ever think of the importance of an appetizing breakfast? Did it ever occur to you that you are not merely feeding the family some necessary food calories but that you are starting the day for them? A good cup of coffee and food, however simple, appetizingly cooked and served, may make a very real difference in the work accomplished by the various members of the family that day. Try to have the table linen spotlessly clean and use attractive china, and, if possible, have a flower or two on the table. The eye takes in these little details even if one only has a few moments in which to eat the meal and the digestion is better, if the eye is pleased, incidentally I might mention that attractive tableware need not be expensive—either in linens—that may be cottons—or dishes.

Spanish Rice — One cup rice, one large onion, one green pepper, one-third cup grated cheese, four slices bacon, two cloves garlic, one cup stewed tomatoes, salt, pepper, paprika. Wash, cook and drain the rice. Grind bacon and fry in frying pan until light brown. Grind onion, pepper and garlic. Add these and tomatoes to the bacon and cook 15 minutes; season. Add the rice and cheese, cook until well blended and serve.

Baked Apple Dumpling—Two cups flour, two tablespoons lard, two tablespoons butter, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup sugar, one-fourth cup water, apples cored, cinnamon and nutmeg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Work in the lard and butter. When well mixed add the water. Cut paste into eight rounds, place apples in center of round, fill cavity with sugar and flavoring. Draw paste around apple, place in baking pan rough side down and bake 5 minutes. Serve with lemon sauce or cream.

Lemon Sauce — Two tablespoons cornstarch, two cups water, one sugar, one and one-half tablespoons butter, grated rind and juice of one lemon. Mix the cornstarch with the sugar, add the boiling water and cook 20 minutes. Add flavoring and butter, serve hot.

Cottage Pie—One pound of cold, cooked meat, one small onion, seasoning to taste. Slice the onion and fry with drippings until quite tender. Mince the meat, mix and season carefully. A little Yorkshire relish or Worcester sauce is an improvement. Put into pie dish adding a little stock or gravy, and cover evenly with a thick layer of mashed potatoes, making the top smooth with a knife dipped in hot water and ornamented by means of a fork. Place a few pieces of butter on the top and bake in a moderate oven. The potato, when mashed, can be kneaded with flour into a paste and flattened out with the hands on a board to fit the pie, instead of simply piling it on the top. If mashed with a little milk and butter you will have a light-digestible crust.

THANK YOU

The Farmer's Market has just rounded out one year of business in East Liverpool, and we wish to thank the people of the city and surrounding towns for their patronage, support and good will. It was with some misgivings that we launched on a year ago. It was the first attempt as far as we knew of the producer on the farm trying to reach the consumer direct in a permanent business place of doing business.

While our business is not making us rich, it is furnishing a market for all we can produce on our farms. Our main hope lies in building a volume of business so that we can keep the overhead and costs down to a minnimum, thereby keeping the quality that the consumers of East Liverpool demand.

We will have home dressed chickens for Saturday.

Also pure Pork Sausage and other pork products.

Home Made Jellies and Butters.

All the best varieties of home grown Apples, and home grown Potatoes. We guarantee the potatoes we sell to cook or bake. Our sales on potatoes are increasing every day, as there are a lot of shipped potatoes being dumped on the market now that will do anthing but cook.

We have plenty of Fresh Country Butter and guaranteed strictly Fresh Country Eggs.

Is Green No More

"My experience with your medicine has been wonderful. My stomach and liver trouble of five years' standing took a new turn two years ago when I took on an olive green complexion. I spent $1,200 with doctors and specialists only to prove that I was still as green as ever. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am green no more. My stomach and liver trouble has all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.

Whole World Contributes to Medicine

Ginger from India—Iodine from Chile—Olive Oil from Italy—Epsom Salts from England—Menthol from Japan and roots and herbs from almost every country in the world contribute their share towards alleviating the ills of the race. No other medicine, however, compounded from roots and herbs has ever attained such a marvelous record for success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over fifty years it has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of womanhood, and is constantly growing in popularity and favor.

New England Man Didn't Know Name Of Bride-elect

TAUNTON, Mass. — "You had better go out and get an introduction to the girl you propose to marry," was the advice which City Clerk Edwin A. Tetlow gave a man seeking a marriage license.

The man, accompanied by a woman, made a visit to the home of the city clerk to get a marriage license. He answered the questions put by Tetlow. When the clerk asked the name of his proposed wife he scratched his head, thought a moment and declared he did not know.

Later it was learned that the woman with him was the bridesmaid and that he had left his bride-to-be waiting at the church with the intention of returning with the document, but he failed to do so.

Liquor Violator Fined.

ELYRIA — Frank Welch of Columbus, arrested at Grafton when his auto was wrecked, was fined $500 by Mayor Arnold at Grafton on the charge of transporting liquor. Ten gallons of liquor were confiscated from the wrecked car.

The Toughest Old COUGH Can Now Be Stopped

Lingering coughs — the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out.

Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop.

It's made to stop the old-timers—the tough ones—and it does it without any loss of time.

And, remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It's a prescription for stubborn coughs and that's the kind it speedily conquers.

For ordinary coughs one or two doses is usually enough. Jesse D. Holloway, Carnahan's drug stores, East Liverpool and Newell, W. Va., and dealers everywhere, can supply you.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Farmer Unearths Skeleton of Man While Husking Corn

KINSLEY, Kan.—While husking corn in his field, John Ellis, farmer, residing near here, stepped upon a skeleton of a man. Beside the skeleton were found several cans of beans and corn and a number of charred sticks, apparently the remains of a camp fire. It is believed the body had lain in the field since last harvest.

The man had worn a pair of overalls and a duck jumper. All else that remained as an aid to identification were a metal belt buckle bearing the initial "L," and bits of hair, slightly red.

Fruit Pits Found Poisonous.

Health authorities are urging parents to educate their children not to eat the kernel inside the peach or cherry seed, as it contains ingredients that have a toxic or poisonous effect upon the human system. Some persons immediately throw off this poison, while it takes hold on others.

CHILD BADLY SCALDED MOTHER QUICKLY STOPS PAIN

A daughter of Mrs. G. Reynolds of Saugerties, N.Y., had the misfortune of being badly scalded. Fortunately the mother had CORONA Wool Fat in the house and applied it with the following satisfactory results: "My daughter badly scalded her arm with hot coffee. We applied Corona and healed it quickly." There is nothing that can compare with Corona Ointment for quickly soothing pain and healing scalds, burns, bruises, cuts and wounds of all kinds. Children like it because it is so soothing—relieves pain so quickly. Its remarkable healing properties have earned for it the name of "The World's Greatest Healing Ointment." As a household remedy it is indeed "a friend in need." At all druggists, 60c. Corona Mfg. Co., Kenton, Ohio.

Telephone Week January 12 to 17, Inclusive

There are few more interesting sights than behind the scenes in a telephone operating room. Yet few telephone users have any conception of what goes on there. That you may know just how your calls are handled and what is involved in giving service, The Ohio Bell Telephone Company has set aside January 12th-17th as TELEPHONE WEEK when you are extended a special invitation to visit your exchange.

We want you to know what happens when you lift your receiver from the hook, how the operator knows the line is busy, how she can tell when the call is completed, how it is possible to get the wrong number and countless other things which to you have been in the realm of mystery.

We want you to meet the operators, who to you have been merely voices, and to become acquainted with the chief operator under whom they work. We know you will be fascinated by the intricate mechanism of the switchboard, the tiny flashing lamps, and the lightning-like fingers of the young women. We know you will marvel at the skill with which these intelligent and courteous operators handle thousands of calls every 24 hours. We want you to see the operators handling your long distance calls.

We want you to bring your family and visit your exchange during the week. You will find courteous attendants to explain every detail and answer your questions. It will prove an interesting experience for you.

Is Green No More

"My experience with your medicine has been wonderful. My stomach and liver trouble of five years' standing took a new turn two years ago when I took on an olive green complexion. I spent $1,200 with doctors and specialists only to prove that I was still as green as ever. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am green no more. My stomach and liver trouble has all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Whole World Contributes to Medicine

Ginger from India—Iodine from Chile—Olive Oil from Italy—Epsom Salts from England—Menthol from Japan and roots and herbs from almost every country in the world contribute their share towards alleviating the ills of the race. No other medicine, however, compounded from roots and herbs has ever attained such a marvelous record for success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over fifty years it has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of womanhood, and is constantly growing in popularity and favor.

New England Man Didn't Know Name Of Bride-elect

TAUNTON, Mass. — "You had better go out and get an introduction to the girl you propose to marry," was the advice which City Clerk Edwin A. Tetlow gave a man seeking a marriage license.

The man, accompanied by a woman, made a visit to the home of the city clerk to get a marriage license. He answered the questions put by Tetlow. When the clerk asked the name of his proposed wife he scratched his head, thought a moment and declared he did not know.

Later it was learned that the woman with him was the bridesmaid and that he had left his bride-to-be waiting at the church with the intention of returning with the document, but he failed to do so.

The Toughest Old COUGH Can Now Be Stopped

Lingering coughs — the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out.

Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop.

It's made to stop the old-timers—the tough ones—and it does it without any loss of time.

And, remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It's a prescription for stubborn coughs and that's the kind it speedily conquers.

For ordinary coughs one or two doses is usually enough. Jesse D. Holloway, Carnahan's drug stores, East Liverpool and Newell, W. Va., and dealers everywhere, can supply you.

High School Teams In Action Tonight At Warren

Runyon Says

"Mad Hatter" Great Character.
Is Philadelphia Sports "Bug."
Rocsevelts All Like Boxing.
George M. Cohen, Yankee Fan.
Whitney An All Around Fan.

BY DAMON RUNYON.

(Copyright, 1925, by International Feature Service, Inc.)

FRANK MACKIN, of Philadelphia, is called "The Mad Hatter of Market Street."

He sells hats.

He is a short, chunky built man, with a very serious expression. He wears heavy horn-rimmed spectacles, which give him an owlish look.

"The Mad Hatter" is widely known in theatrical and sports circles as a wag, a practical joker. It was "The Mad Hatter" who solemnly presented the great Babe Ruth with an old brown derby hat, neatly parcelled, when Ruth came to Philadelphia with the Yankee after a protracted batting slump.

He is a "ringworm," and enthusiast on boxing, a terrific fan, and football "bug." He is almost as democratic in his sports tastes as George Marshall, of Washington, the laundryman who is America's King Fan.

But they differ in this respect. Marshall is deadly serious. Mackin can see the humorous side of every game. In fact, if there were no humorous phases to sport, Mackin would cease to be an enthusiast.

He does not permit his interest in sport to interfere with his business affairs.

But he is one of the many who occupy the role of spectator and add to the picturesque side of sport. It is, indeed, the Mackins and the Marshalls who make sport.

Before the Dempsey-Firpo fight last year, Mackin ran large "ads" in all the Philadelphia papers which read:

STRAW HATS AND FIRPO
GO OUT SEPTEMBER 14TH."

The writer has one stock line when he is "covering" a big pugilistic event at Madison Square Garden, which is,

Boys' Team Meets Bethany Freshmen In Saturday Game

Boone's Passers in Good Trim for Two Strenuous Contests; New Lighting System Expected to Improve Gym Arrangements.

East Liverpool basketball will be on display tonight for the benefit of Warren cage fans with Coach O. V. Boone's boys' and girls' teams opposing the best that Warren high school can put on the floor. The jaunt to Warren will be the first trip of the season for the Blue and White representatives.

Every effort will be made by Coach Boone to get the squad to Warren and back again as quickly as possible, with a stiff clash with the Bethany Freshman looming for Saturday night.

In order to carry out the plan the trip will be made in automobiles furnished by the Checker Cab Co. Three cars will be used to transport the two teams. Barring delays the local basketball players should be back in East Liverpool shortly after midnight, which would give them plenty of time to rest up for Saturday night's battle.

McKeever or Pusey will be started at one of the forward jobs with English on the other. McGraw will get first call at center. McConville and Liebschner will be at the guards. This is the tentative lineup announced by Boone.

A new lighting system may be brought into the gymnasium illuminating scheme for the Bethany clash tomorrow night. The gymnasium formerly has been illuminated by 10 clusters of four 75-watt lights. Instead of this arrangement there are being put up 10 single 500 watt bulbs with metal reflectors instead of glass. The scheme is expected to prove an aid not only to players but to spectators as well.

Championship Stuff.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, announces that Jack Dempsey will fight this year. Then he denies having signed for any battles for the champion. Great stuff.

MERCURY CAGERS DEFEAT STRONG GLENMORE FIVE

The Mercury basketball squad triumphed over the Glenmore passers, 20 to 12, last night on the Glenmore floor. The game was nip and tuck from the outset until the last few minutes when the Mercury five went into a lead which they made decisive before the contest ended. Lineup:

Glenmore.		Mercury.
Conn	F.	Smurtwaite
Kapp	F.	Moore
C. Foutts	C.	Maley
D. Foutts	G.	McConville
Rowe	G.	Kennedy

Fouls—Conn, Kapp 6, Rowe, Smurthwaite 2, Moore, Kennedy 3.

Timer—Rose; scorer—Kinsey; referee—Graham.

Gibbons Scores Kayo Over Pittsburgh Pug

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 9—Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, scored a technical knockout over Jack Burke, Pittsburgh heavyweight here last night in the sixth round of a scheduled ten round bout. Gibbons handed Burke a severe beating. The fight was stopped by the referee. Let Philbin, University of Michigan student, scored technical knockout over Eddie Gray of Roanoke in the seventh round.

Oxford To Send Boxers.

Oxford University is sending its 10 best boxers to the United States in March to meet Yale's ring squad. In view of the feeling now prevalent in England that the nation's hopes of finding a real ring champion lie in the ranks of the student or the nobility the work of these Oxford mitt flingers will be watched by American experts.

British sportsmen have had the feeling for some time that the exclusive clubs could produce a heavyweight, for instance, worthy of consideration were he convinced that it was his duty to attempt to restore England's name in the ring.

STRANGLER LEWIS LOSES TITLE

They Were to "Make" the Reds Now They're Trading Material

Two or three years ago Louis Fonseca and Jimmy Caveney joined the Cincinnati Reds, young stars from the minors, destined to fill "gaping holes" in the Cinci infield. Now they are being used by the Red bosses as trading material in the hope of strengthening the team, which still lacks the fire wanted.

Sent to Hospital By Big Munn After Thrilling Battle

Twenty-seven Year Old Nebraskan, Former College Grid Star, Today is World's Mat Champ; Foe on Back With Two Fractured Vertebrae.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, may never wrestle again as a result of injuries received last night when he lost his title to Wayne "Big" Munn, former University of Nebraska football star.

Dr. Terry E. Lilly, who was with Lewis at St. Luke's hospital until 4 o'clock this morning said that the former champion has probably fractured two vertebrae at the base of the spine. Dr. Lilly said he would not make a definite statement as to Lewis' injuries until he had further examined the wrestler later this morning. He based his first statement on a hurried examination of X-ray pictures taken last night.

In a contest filled with more thrills than any title match in years, the 27 year old Nebraskan took the title from Lewis last night, despite claims of Lewis' manager that the "Strangler" should have been awarded the match when his opponent tossed the former champion out of the ring onto the cement floor after the first fall. Lewis is in a hospital today with a sprained back.

Dazed and evidently injured by the fall, Lewis was taken to his dressing room and it was a half hour before he was able to resume the match. He was then virtually helpless before the towering Nebraskan and Munn threw him with ease.

Munn took the first fall with a body and crotch hold. It kept Lewis groaning on the mat for several seconds and he retired for twenty minutes afterward.

Two minutes after they were in the ring for the second time, Munn picked the champion up, lifted him over the ropes and sent him crashing to the mat from which Lewis rolled on the cement floor.

The crowd, thoroughly partisan, hooted Lewis, although they knew he was hurt.

WEST VIRGINIA HOLDS RESPECT FOR ALLEGHENY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 9—West Virginia University cagers at work here have a genuine respect for the Allegheny College quint which plays on the "Ark" court Saturday evening. Instead of showing the confidence of a championship team the title-holding Mountaineers are letting it be known that they expect trouble.

As a general rule Allegheny is usually strong in basketball. West Virginia's 49-28 and 31-21 victories last winter were surprising to Mountaineer fans who remembered that Allegheny had little trouble winning previous engagements. Many have not forgotten that the team from Meadville won 21-5 in 1904 and 44-5 in 1905; that the 1906 game went to the Pennsylvanians 32-21, the 1908 by a 27-18 score and the 1918 by 21-20. They know that West Virginia's 43-35 triumph in 1919, the first earned by a Mountaineer quint over Allegheny, was followed by other reverses and that the tide did not subside until a year ago when the seasoned Stadsvold-coached crew earned two victories.

Allegheny's talented coach, C. D. Baker, is bringing a veteran team to Morgantown for Saturday's game. Four of the five—Ross and McClurg, forward; Captain Judd, center; and Wolfe, guard—were regulars last winter. The fifth member of the team, Rhodes, formerly a guard at Ben Avon, Pa., High, was a first string substitute in 1924.

Captain Judd is undoubtedly the leading center of the district. Fay, of Grove City; Thomas, of Washington and Jefferson; and Captain Roy Hawley, of West Virginia, in the opinion of many well-informed persons, are just a step behind the Allegheny leader. Judd is also a star in football and played regularly at end through four full seasons. He is a natural athlete and due to have a good year on the court. The team he heads is the best Allegheny has had in recent campaigns and one fully capable of dethroning the Mountaineers.

LEAGUE CLASH IS POSTPONED

Action Taken as Result of Death of Chester Pastor.

As a result of the death of Rev. H. O. MacDonald of the Chester Presbyterian church, the Sunday School league contest scheduled to be played last night on the First M. P. church floor between the First Christian nad the Chester First Presbyterian teams was postponed.

An exhibition game was played between the First Christian passers and the All Stars, the Christians winning by the score of 20 to 18.

1st. Christian Jrs.		1st M. P. Jrs.
Lindell	F.	Skidmore
Gregg	F.	Dickey
Clark	C.	Laughlin
Wotring	G.	Donovan
Smith	G.	Davidson

Substitutions—Earl for Smith, Johnson for Donovan.

Field goals—Lindell 4, Clark 3, Wotring, Dickey 4, Skidmore.

Referee—Kimes.

Don't Remember.

President John A. Heydler of the National league has warned George Kelly of the Giants and Sam Bohne of the Reds that they will be liable to suspension if they play on the same basketball team with Jimmy O'Connell, barred from baseball as an outgrowth of his attempt to bribe Heinie Sands. Has any action been taken against those who are associating with Cozy Dolan's poor memory?

May Succeed Folwell.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 9.—William Ingram, Annapolis graduate and present coach at the University of Indiana, was in conference with athletic officials at the naval academy today over the possibility of his succeeding Bob Folwell as head football coach there. Ingram has been coach at Indiana for two years.

"Mad Hatter" Great Character.
Philadelphia Sports "Bug."
Roosevelts All Like Boxing.
George M. Cohen, Yankee Fan.
Whitney An All Around Fan.

BY DAMON RUNYON.

(Copyright, 1925, by International Feature Service, Inc.)

FRANK MACKIN, of Philadelphia, is called "The Mad Hatter of Market Street."

He sells hats.

He is a short, chunky built man, with a very serious expression. He wears heavy horn-rimmed spectacles, which give him an owlish look.

"The Mad Hatter" is widely known in theatrical and sports circles as a wag, a practical joker. It was "The Mad Hatter" who solemnly presented the great Babe Ruth with an old brown derby hat, neatly parcelled. When Ruth came to Philadelphia with the Yankee after a protracted batting slump.

He is a "ringworm," and enthusiast of boxing, a terrific fan, and football fan. He is almost as democratic in his sports tastes as George Marshall, of Washington, the laundryman who is America's King Fan.

But they differ in this respect. Marshall is deadly serious. Mackin can see the humorous side of every game. In fact, if there were no humorous phases to sport, Mackin would cease to be an enthusiast.

He does not permit his interest in sport to interfere with his business affairs.

But he is one of the many who occupy the role of spectator and add to the picturesque side of sport. It is, indeed, the Mackins and the Marshalls who make sport.

Before the Dempsey Firpo fight last year, Mackin ran large "ads" in all the Philadelphia papers which read: "STRAW HATS AND FIRPO GO OUT SEPTEMBER 14TH."

High School Teams In Action Tonight At Warren

Boys' Team Meets Bethany Freshmen In Saturday Game

Boone's Passers in Good Trim for Two Strenuous Contests; New Lighting System Expected to Improve Gym Arrangements.

East Liverpool basketball will be on display tonight for the benefit of Warren cage fans with Coach O. V. Boone's boys' and girls' teams opposing the best that Warren high school can put on the floor. The jaunt to Warren will be the first trip of the season for the Blue and White representatives.

Every effort will be made by Coach Boone to get the squad to Warren and back again as quickly as possible, with a stiff clash with the Bethany Freshman looming for Saturday night.

In order to carry out the plan the trip will be made in automobiles furnished by the Checker Cab Co. Three cars will be used to transport the two teams. Barring delays the local basketball players should be back in East Liverpool shortly after midnight, which would give them plenty of time to rest up for Saturday night's battle.

McKeever or Pusey will be started at one of the forward jobs with English on the other. McGraw will get first call at center. McConville and Liebschner will be at the guards. This is the tentative lineup announced by Boone.

A new lighting system may be brought into the gymnasium illuminating scheme for the Bethany clash tomorrow night. The gymnasium formerly has been illuminated by 10 clusters of four 75-watt lights. Instead of this arrangement there are being put up 10 single 500 watt bulbs with metal reflectors instead of glass. The scheme is expected to prove an aid not only to players but to spectators as well.

Championship Stuff.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, announces that Jack Dempsey will fight this year. Then he denies having signed for any battles for the champion. Great stuff.

MERCURY CAGERS DEFEAT STRONG GLENMORE FIVE

The Mercury basketball squad triumphed over the Glenmore passers, 20 to 12, last night on the Glenmore floor. The game was nip and tuck from the outset until the last few minutes when the Mercury five went into a lead which they made decisive before the contest ended. Lineup:

Glenmore.		Mercury.
Conn	F.	Smurtwaite
Kapp	F.	Moore
C. Foutts	C.	Maley
D. Foutts	G.	McConville
Rowe	G.	Kennedy

Field goals—Conn 2, Smurthwaite, Moore 3, Maley, McConville, Kennedy.

Fouls—Conn, Kapp 6, Rowe, Smurthwaite 2, Moore, Kennedy 3.

Timer—Rose; scorer—Kinsey; referee—Graham.

Gibbons Scores Kayo Over Pittsburgh Pug

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 9—Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, scored a technical knockout over Jack Burke, Pittsburgh heavyweight here last night in the sixth round of a scheduled ten round bout. Gibbons handed Burke a severe beating. The fight was stopped by the referee. Let Philbin, University of Michigan student, scored technical knockout over Eddie Gray of Roanoke in the seventh round.

Oxford To Send Boxers.

Oxford University is sending its 10 best boxers to the United States in March to meet Yale's ring squad. In view of the feeling now prevalent in England that the nation's hopes of finding a real ring champion lie in the ranks of the student or the nobility the work of these Oxford mitt flingers will be watched by American experts.

British sportsmen have had the feeling for some time that the exclusive clubs could produce a heavyweight, for instance, worthy of consideration were he convinced that it was his duty to attempt to restore England's name in the ring.

STRANGLER LEWIS LOSES TITLE

They Were to "Make" the Reds Now They're Trading Material

Two or three years ago Louis Fonseca and Jimmy Caveney joined the Cincinnati Reds, young stars from the minors, destined to fill "gaping holes" in the Cinci infield. Now they are being used by the Red bosses as trading material in the hope of strengthening the team, which still lacks the fire wanted.

Sent to Hospital By Big Munn After Thrilling Battle

Twenty-seven Year Old Nebraskan, Former College Grid Star, Today is World's Mat Champ; Foe on Back With Two Fractured Vertebrae.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, may never wrestle again as a result of injuries received last night when he lost his title to Wayne "Big" Munn, former University of Nebraska football star.

Dr. Terry E. Lilly, who was with Lewis at St. Luke's hospital until 4 o'clock this morning said that the former champion has probably fractured two vertebrae at the base of the spine. Dr. Lilly said he would not make a definite statement as to Lewis' injuries until he had further examined the wrestler later this morning. He based his first statement on a hurried examination of X-ray pictures taken last night.

In a contest filled with more thrills than any title match in years, the 27 year old Nebraskan took the title from Lewis last night, despite claims of Lewis' manager that the "Strangler" should have been awarded the match when his opponent tossed the former champion out of the ring onto the cement floor after the first fall. Lewis is in a hospital today with a sprained back.

Dazed and evidently injured by the fall, Lewis was taken to his dressing room and it was a half hour before he was able to resume the match. He was then virtually helpless before the towering Nebraskan and Munn threw him with ease.

Munn took the first fall with a body and crotch hold. It kept Lewis groaning on the mat for several seconds and he retired for twenty minutes afterward.

Two minutes after they were in the ring for the second time, Munn picked the champion up, lifted him over the ropes and sent him crashing to the mat from which Lewis rolled on the cement floor.

The crowd, thoroughly partisan, hooted Lewis, although they knew he was hurt.

WEST VIRGINIA HOLDS RESPECT FOR ALLEGHENY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 9—West Virginia University cagers at work here have a genuine respect for the Allegheny College quint which plays on the "Ark" court Saturday evening. Instead of showing the confidence of a championship team the title-holding Mountaineers are letting it be known that they expect trouble.

As a general rule Allegheny is usually strong in basketball. West Virginia's 49-28 and 31-21 victories last winter were surprising to Mountaineer fans who remembered that Allegheny had little trouble winning previous engagements. Many have not forgotten that the team from Meadville won 21-5 in 1904 and 44-5 in 1905; that the 1906 game went to the Pennsylvanians 32-21, the 1908 by a 27-18 score and the 1918 by 21-20. They know that West Virginia's 42-35 triumph in 1919, the first earned by a Mountaineer quint over Allegheny, was followed by other reverses and that the tide did not subside until a year ago when the seasoned Stadsvold-coached crew earned two victories.

Allegheny's talented coach, C. D. Baker, is bringing a veteran team to Morgantown for Saturday's game. Four of the five—Ross and McClurg, forward; Captain Judd, center; and Wolfe, guard—were regulars last winter. The fifth member of the team, Rhodes, formerly a guard at Ben Avon, Pa., High, was a first string substitute in 1924.

Captain Judd is undoubtedly the leading center of the district. Fay, of Grove City; Thomas, of Washington and Jefferson; and Captain Roy Hawley, of West Virginia, in the opinion of many well-informed persons, are just a step behind the Allegheny leader. Judd is also a star in football and played regularly at end through four full seasons. He is a natural athlete and due to have a good year on the court. The team he heads is the best Allegheny has had in recent campaigns and one fully capable of dethroning the Mountaineers.

LEAGUE CLASH IS POSTPONED

Action Taken as Result of Death of Chester Pastor.

As a result of the death of Rev. H. O. MacDonald of the Chester Presbyterian church, the Sunday School league contest scheduled to be played last night on the First M. P. church floor between the First Christian nad the Chester First Presbyterian teams was postponed.

An exhibition game was played between the First Christian passers and the All Stars, the Christians winning by the score of 20 to 18.

1st. Christian Jrs.		1st M. P. Jrs.
Lindell	F.	Skidmore
Gregg	F.	Dickey
Clark	C.	Laughlin
Wotring	G.	Donovan
Smith	G.	Davidson

Substitutions—Earl for Smith, Johnson for Donovan.

Field goals—Lindell 4, Clark 3, Wotring, Dickey 4, Skidmore.

Referee—Kimes.

Don't Remember.

President John A. Heydler of the National league has warned George Kelly of the Giants and Sam Bohne of the Reds that they will be liable to suspension if they play on the same basketball team with Jimmy O'Connell, barred from baseball as an outgrowth of his attempt to bribe Heinie Sands. Has any action been taken against those who are associating with Cozy Dolan's poor memory?

May Succeed Folwell.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 9.—William Ingram, Annapolis graduate and present coach at the University of Indiana, was in conference with athletic officials at the naval academy today over the possibility of his succeeding Bob Folwell as head football coach there. Ingram has been coach at Indiana for two years.

The Goose Punch is Mightier Than Goose Step, Says German Boxer

By SID MERCER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Local boxing has become so encrusted with the old championship hokum lately that it is a distinct relief to chronicle the fact that no titles are involved in tonight's fisticuffing at Madison Square garden. It really looks as if there would be some fights this evening.

After some of the alleged title tilts that have been inflicted on the populace lately, it is pertinent to inquire at any box office:

"Is this a championship match, or will there be some fighting?"

There will be no "applesauce" about the three ten round specials at the garden tonight. The principals are all well known, but they claim no titles.

Topping the card are Jack Bernstein and Tommy O'Brien. The other two numbers will show four good youngsters in the bantamweight division. The semi-final will feature Harold Smith of Chicago and Jackie Snyder of Brooklyn. Nat Pincus, a graduate from the six round class, goes over the longer route with Bushey Graham.

Here are three findings that should all be good. Anytime you put ambitious youths up against each other they fight.

Smith is making a belated appearance at the Garden. He made his debut there a year ago last October and defeated Danny Lee, then a leading bantamweight contender. Smith p'eased the customers with his unique style and was signed for other fights. Then he developed a bad knee and laid up for eight months. He has made a fresh start and with five fights under his belt is ready once more to bid for metropolitan favor.

Jackie Snyder is no set-up for Smith. Snyder defeated all comers until he bumped into Cannonball Martin last summer and even then he went the route. He had never been floored until Bushey Graham turned the trick at the Queensboro club. Snyder has been resting up and should be good tonight.

Graham is substituting for Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute flash, against Pincus. He took the engagement on short notice and arrived from Utica only yesterday. Bushey has a pleasing style that is distinctly his own. He is a blooming bounder, but when he drops his arches he can hit.

Nurmi Rejects Offers From Movie Companies

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Paavo Nurmi went back into light training today for his next appearance, in the municipal games at Madison Square Garden January 15. He refuses to be made a hero as the result of his record smashing indoor debut here. Offers from a motion picture company which wished to make slow motion pictures of the famous runner in action, and from a sculptor who wanted him to pose, were refused.

Schedule Meeting of National Next Month

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—The spring schedule meeting of the National league will be in the Waldorf Astoria hotel here on February 2, President John Heydler announced today. The meeting will follow a Golden Jubilee banquet at noon in the Grand Central hotel, where the league was organized fifty years ago.

Runyon Says

Mr. Villipigue is built that way.

He never misses a fight at Madison Square Garden. You can always see him in the front row. Not far from him will be John Ringling, the circus man, chewing on a cigar, his attire most resplendent.

He generally arrives at the Garden with a party of friends. Mr. Gimbel, a thorough sportsman, is a keen student of boxing. He knows the game far better than the average layman and is quite familiar with the ability of the different boxers.

If they are buying, Rickard knows he will have a big house. If no purchases come from that general quarter, he knows his attendance will be ordinary.

The Roosevelts, Theodore, Archie, Kermit, are boxing fans. Their distinguished father was a noted patron of the game in the days when it didn't have any too many friends.

Mrs. Ray T. Baker, who was with Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, has taken her two young sons to a couple of shows at Madison Square Garden recently, notably the Gibbons-Norfolk fight. She seems as much interested as her boys when the fighting is in progress.

Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, and Peter Finley Dunne—"Mr. Dooley"—are never far from the front row at the important Garden shows, or in the outdoor arenas.

Harrison Fisher is more of a baseball fan than he is a "ringworm," although he rarely misses a boxing bout. He is quite partial to the amateurs. You nearly always find him at the big tournaments, his leonine head resting on one hand, the other fingering a cigarette, as he watches the youngsters.

But his favorite professional sport is baseball, his favorite baseball team the Yankees. He followed them down from the old Hilltop grounds on Washington Heights to the Polo Grounds, thence across the Harlem river into the Bronx.

How Long Will We Wait?

In handing down its decision on the Chicago drainage canal case the United States supreme court criticized Kenesaw Mountain Landis for the delay, while justice of the United States superior court in Illinois, in handling the same case. Landis, the opinion of the court said, kept the case in abeyance six years before handing down an oral opinion.

In view of this speed shown in that matter how long must the baseball public expect to wait for some action against the higher-ups in the O'Connell-Dolan bribe scandal?

Completes His Work.

When Galli Curci made her debut in London in October the rush for seats was so great that $5 tickets brought $25.

The Goose Punch is Mightier Than Goose Step, Says German Boxer

Bill Drake, who brought with him to the U. S. the title of lightweight champion of Germany, wants to meet Sid Terris and other aspirants for Benny Leonard's title. Drake exhibits a mean wallop and considerable skill.

Tired of 'Champ' Stuff In Gotham Rings, Fans Await "Real" Fighters

By SID MERCER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Local boxing has become so encrusted with the old championship hokum lately that it is a distinct relief to chronicle the fact that no titles are involved in tonight's fisticuffing at Madison Square garden. It really looks as if there would be some fights this evening.

After some of the alleged title tilts that have been inflicted on the populace lately, it is pertinent to inquire at any box office:

"Is this a championship match, or will there be some fighting?"

There will be no "applesauce" about the three ten round specials at the garden tonight. The principals are all well known, but they claim no titles.

Topping the card are Jack Bernstein and Tommy O'Brien. The other two numbers will show four good youngsters in the bantamweight division. The semi-final will feature Harold Smith of Chicago and Jackie Snyder of Brooklyn. Nat Pincus, a graduate from the six round class, goes over the longer route with Bushey Graham.

Here are three findings that should all be good. Anytime you put ambitious youths up against each other they fight.

Smith is making a belated appearance at the Garden. He made his debut there a year ago last October and defeated Danny Lee, then a leading bantamweight contender. Smith p'eased the customers with his unique style and was signed for other fights. Then he developed a bad knee and sid up for eight months. He has made a fresh start and with five fights under his belt is ready once more to bid for metropolitan favor.

Jackie Snyder is no set-up for Smith. Snyder defeated all comers until he bumped into Cannonball Martin last summer and even then he went the route. He had never been floored until Bushey Graham turned the trick at the Queensboro club. Snyder has been resting up and should be good tonight.

Graham is substituting for Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute flash, against Pincus. He took the engagement on short notice and arrived from Utica only yesterday. Bushey has a pleasing style that is distinctly his own. He is a blooming bounder, but when he drops his arches he can hit.

Nurmi Rejects Offers From Movie Companies

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Paavo Nurmi went back into light training today for his next appearance, in the municipal games at Madison Square Garden January 15. He refuses to be made a hero as the result of his record smashing indoor debut here. Offers from a motion picture company which wished to make slow motion pictures of the famous runner in action, and from a sculptor who wanted him to pose, were refused.

Schedule Meeting of National Next Month

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—The spring schedule meeting of the National league will be in the Waldorf Astoria hotel here on February 2, President John Heydler announced today. The meeting will follow a Golden Jubilee banquet at noon in the Grand Central hotel, where the league was organized fifty years ago.

Runyon Says

Mr. Villipigue is built that way.

He never misses a fight at Madison Square Garden. You can always see him in the front row. Not far from him will be John Ringling, the circus man, chewing on a cigar, his attire most resplendent.

He generally arrives at the Garden with a party of friends. Mr. Gimbel, a thorough sportsman, is a keen student of boxing. He knows the game far better than the average layman and is quite familiar with the ability of the different boxers.

Tex Rickard, the pugilistic promoter, gauges public interest in his promotions by the demand for tickets from business men of the type of Mr. Gambel.

If they are buying, Rickard knows he will have a big house. If no purchases come from that general quarter, he knows his attendance will be ordinary.

The Roosevelts, Theodore, Archie, Kermit, are boxing fans. Their distinguished father was a noted patron of the game in the days when it didn't have any too many friends.

Mrs. Ray T. Baker, who was with Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, has taken her two young sons to a couple of shows at Madison Square Garden recently, notably the Gibbons-Norfolk fight. She seems as much interested as her boys when the fighting is in progress.

Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, and Peter Finley Dunne—"Mr. Dooley"—are never far from the front row at the important Garden shows, or in the outdoor arenas.

Harrison Fisher is more of a baseball fan than he is a "ringworm," although he rarely misses a boxing bout. He is quite partial to the amateurs. You nearly always find him at the big tournaments, his leonine head resting on one hand, the other fingering a cigarette, as he watches the youngsters.

But his favorite professional sport is baseball, his favorite baseball team the Yankees. He followed them down from the old Hilltop grounds on Washington Heights to the Polo Grounds, thence across the Harlem river into the Bronx.

How Long Will We Wait?

In handing down its decision on the Chicago drainage canal case the United States supreme court criticized Kenesaw Mountain Landis for the delay, while justice of the United States superior court in Illinois, in handling the same case. Landis, the opinion of the court said, kept the case in abeyance six years before handing down an oral opinion.

In view of this speed shown in that matter how long must the baseball public expect to wait for some action against the higher-ups in the O'Connell-Dolan bribe scandal?

Completes His Work.

When Galli Curci made her debut in London in October the rush for seats was so great that $5 tickets brought $25.

WIT AND HUMOR FROM ITALY

A good lawyer does not go to law himself.

More axioms of the Italians make up today's instaliment (No. 13) of this series of presentations of the proverbs of the various peoples.

Of two cowards the one who finds the other out first has the advantage.

Poverty is a blessing hated by all men.

We generally need someone to show us things that should be apparent to all.

Alas! that of human appetites love alone is insatiable.

Much does he gain who learns when he loses.

He conquers who endures.

He who makes a bad marriage never escapes from his troubles.

She will love tomorrow who loved not yesterday.

He who never boasts is esteemed at a third more than his value, if he is worth anything.

He who shows himself a sheep the wolf will eat.

The drowning man will always scream, though there be none to hear him.

He who builds upon the people builds upon mud.

He who can commands, and he who will obeys.

Not to believe the truth is the worst of all ills.

Workers' College Opened.

COLUMBUS — A "workers' college," designed to afford collegiate education for the working man and woman, has been opened here under the auspices of local labor organizations. Classes are held at night. Ohio State University will conduct classes in English, public speaking, history of organized labor, modern economic problems, operation and credit and other studies. There are no entrance examinations. Courses will last ten weeks. Tuition is $2 for one course or $3 for two courses. Classes meet in the Central high school auditorium.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — Contagious or reportable diseases caused 128 deaths in Belmont county during the past year. Of the 3,445 children given the Schick diphtheria test, 1,820 proved positives. The tax duplicate was increased $3,700,000 to a total of $111,600,000, the largest in the history of the county. Tax values on autos increased $800,000 to a total of $2,711,090. An increase of 1,000 canines in the county is indicated by the sale of 8,196 dog licenses. The principal dry law court, that of Mayor Davies at St. Clairsville, collected $60,045 in fines—a record. Of this amount, $22,000 went to officers of a league organized to make raids and prosecute booze law violators.

Baby's skin trouble healed in one week

South Hills, Pittsburg, Pa., March 22:—"I certainly bless the day I started to use Resinol Soap and Ointment. I tried for four or five months to cure my baby of a skin and scalp trouble—tried nearly everything—but nothing did any good. Finally, a neighbor recommended Resinol and after using the soap and ointment on baby for three days, all the scabs fell off and in one week's time the trouble was entirely cured. I will never be without them. My husband uses the Resinol Shaving Stick—he thinks it's the best he ever used." (Signed) Mrs. J. J. Baumgarten, Box #50—R. D. #9.
